ROGERS SUGGESTS DEMOCRATS' STOCK SELL ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—If the Democrats had had the party incorporated and listed on the exchange as "Democratic Hopes and Aspirations, Incorporated," then let somebody buy ten shares to get it started millions would have bought it on the exchange that wouldn't think of taking it at the polls. They buy anything there worse than Democrats.

You can't sell a pair of shoes in New York without it's done through the stock exchange. I got an order in with a broker for ten subway tickets.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

In the latest map of business conditions throughout the United States, issued in Nation's Business, New Castle is in the centre of one of the six or eight small sections of the country where business conditions are shown to be the best. Throughout the greater part of the nation, business is fair, but New Castle's area is one of those marked as good, which is the highest classification on the map.

Up in the North Highland district, where a community Christmas tree was erected for the last holiday season, it is noted that the persons who put the tree up forgot about taking it down. The ruins are still standing. Will hardly do for the celebration this year, however, as the evergreen is all gone.

Talking about community trees. Wouldn't the top of the cathedral lawn, on the south side of the building, make a wonderful location for one of these trees? It could be seen for miles.

State highway department workmen are ready for the icy hills. Ashes have been hauled to the hills on the country's improved roads that need ashing when they become slippery. Some of the hills have already been ashed, because of the heavy snow just before Thanksgiving.

Truly Pa Newc's youthful blonde papoose and apprentice has never set (or is it sit?) anyhow, never squatted to such a meal as the one which was slung for the football gridders at New Wilmington Thursday evening. It was a feast for the victorious which would make the old time Beowulf warrior comestible orgies green with despair and envy. The next best thing was that no coin of the realm had to be presented before ingurgitating.

Although wags-about-town have been advising their friends to keep their hands in their pockets when they pass the Salvation Army Christmas kettles, Pa Newc, for some of the boys at least, would suggest boxing gloves.

Jury Awards Widow's Claim For Insurance

Trial In Pittsburgh Court Ends With Verdict For Mrs. Howe

HUSBAND VICTIM OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Insurance Company Claimed Proof Of Husband's Death Lacking

(Bulletin)

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Lenora Howe, widow of Willard Howe, prominent Erie realtor, today was awarded $45,000 with interest dating from January 22, 1928, in her suit against the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York in federal court here today.

The verdict, returned by the jury at 11:20 a. m., came after less than 50 minutes of deliberation.

The jury verdict stated that the Fidelity and Casualty Company of New York must pay Mrs. Willard Howe, in addition to the amount of two policies, $45,000, the sum of $2,355, interest on the amount of the policies from January 22, 1928, to December 7, 1928, inclusive.

Another Suit Pending

Mrs. Howe sued the company for $45,000 when they refused to pay that amount on a policy held by Howe. Howe was burned to death in his car on the Edinboro road, near Erie, November 4, 1927. The insurance company set forth that no positive proof of identity was established, and that there was no proof of accidental death.

The suit of Mrs. Howe against the National Life Association of Des Moines, Ia., for $20,000 additional insurance will open Monday morning, it was announced.

Police Deposits In Pittsburgh To Be "Aired" Today

District Attorney Gardner Has Completed Examination Of Bank Accounts

HOPES TO PROVE GRAFT ACCEPTED

Entire List Of City Police Officials Will Be Called To Explain Accounts

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—Police officials, from lieutenants to captains to inspectors, were to pass before the graft probing grand jury and District Attorney Samuel Gardner today to account for the fabulous sums of money reported entered in various banks under their respective signatures.

A mysterious investigation, purported to have been under way for more than a week, was reported concluded last night and on the strength of the evidence found would aid the prosecutors in closing the "police graft" end of the probe.

In the bustle of preparation for today's session, Gardner refused to name the officials whose bank accounts are under suspicion. From what could be gathered near the grand jury room there may be 10 or 15 of them subjected to a rigorous quiz.

Amounts paid yearly to police who are alleged to have made extraordinary deposits in city banks are said to range between $2,500 and $4,000.

Among the accounts obtained from banks for examination by the jurors are those of Director of Public Safety James M. Clark, Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh and Assistant Superintendent Leo D. Coleman.

Out of the accounts carried along by inspectors, captains and lieutenants, Gardner hopes to establish a connection which would prove that a majority of the deposits made are the proceeds of graft.

Bear And Six Deer Bagged By Local Club

Deer meat in New Castle should be plentiful when the members of the Nonpareil Hunting club return from Cameron county. Up until December 5, the club members had bagged one bear and six deer and the rest of the club had their bid in, inviting some doe to come over and get shot.

The men are at Sterling Run in Cameron county and are enjoying the hunt immensely. The bear was shot by W. R. McKee, who also bagged a deer. Others who brought down a deer were C. A. Patterson, Joe Snyder, George H. Andrews, Frank Locke, all of New Castle, and John Hofmeister of Edenburg.

Other New Castle men who are in the party are Harry Turner, R. E. Shaw, Francis Drake, N. E. Drake, W. R. McCready and Toots McDermott. The chief cook for the party is Joe Cabo, also of New Castle.

It is not known when the club members will return but when they do, the supply of deer meat will take a rise.

Taylor Club Bring Deers.

Local members of the Taylor Hunting club of Clearfield county, who have been hunting in that section of the state for the past two weeks, returned to New Castle Thursday night. Each brought a deer back with him.

The Taylor camp is situated some distance back in the state forest there and is an ideal place for gaming. Those who made the trip were King Lion Dr. J. L. Reed of the New Castle Lions club, Ed Wilson, Dr. Earl Eakin, W. D. Stitzinger, Ernest Stitzinger, B. W. Bartholomew, William L. Klee and Dr. R. J. Robinson.

Investigate Death Of Young Woman, Is Found Unconscious

Believe Young Unidentified Woman Either Slain Or Hit By Automobile

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 6.—Police today sought to identify the body of a young woman, about 25 years old, who was found near the Uniontown Country Club late last night with her head, arms and legs fractured. Her clothing was badly torn, an indication, police say, of a terrific struggle. The woman died soon after being discovered.

Authorities are investigating the case on the theory that the woman was beaten and thrown from a moving automobile or was a victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Elizabeth Close living nearby to where the body was found, said that a short time before the woman was picked up she saw a figure stumbling along the highway. Unable to distinguish whether it was a man or a woman, Miss Close said she concluded it was an intoxicated person and thought nothing more of it.

If the girl was struck by an automobile, officers say, it was the most gruesome hit and run case in the city's history. The victim was believed to have been a stranger in this district.

Paul Jaworski Is Unmoved By Death Fixing

Famous Arch-Killer Of Pennsylvania Unmoved When Told Death Date Is Set

APPEARS READY TO PAY PENALTY

Jaworski And His Flathead Gang Boast Of Over Score Of Murders And Hold-Ups

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—Calmly, quietly and without a single trace of emotion or change of facial expression, Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch bandit and murderer, today listened while Warden John McNeil of Allegheny county jail told him that Governor John S. Fisher has fixed the date for his execution.

"He set a date, did he?" asked Jaworski when McNeil entered his cell.

"Yes," said the warden. "December 31."

Jaworski did not reply.

The murderer, who once boasted that his guns and those of his Flathead gang had taken a toll of a score or more lives, has long since become reconciled to his fate.

Loses Bravado.

In his cell here, where he has almost recovered from the effects of bullet wounds inflicted by Cleveland policemen who captured him, Jaworski has lost his bravado. He has turned to the solace of a Bible and on several occasions expressed the hope that the governor would hurry and fix his execution date.

Jaworski and his gang left a long, bloody trail of crime throughout western Pennsylvania, in Ohio and in Michigan. The Flathead gang's depredations in this region alone netted them several hundred thousand dollars, and the booty of the gang in the three states is estimated at a million dollars—yet Jaworski and his friends are believed to be "broke".

Later Jaworski sent a message to his sister, Katherine Pallas, in Detroit telling of the governor's action. It read:

"The governor has set the date for thirty-first of this month." It was signed "Paul".

Kudzinowski Admits Hickman Influenced Him To Kill Child

Hickman's Case Preyed On Mind, Says Arch-Fiend Held By Detroit Police

Tried To Get Little Girl But Failed; Awaits Death With Indifference

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 7.—The brutal murder of little Marion Parker by William Hickman, self-styled "Fox" planted the thought of a similar crime in his mind, Peter Kudzinowski, 26, confessed slayer of 7 year old Joseph Storelli, of New York, said today. Kudzinowski kidnaped little "Joey" in New York and lured the boy to a desolate spot in New Jersey where he slit his throat.

Killing Preyed Mind.

"The first thing that put the idea in my head was the Hickman case in California," Kudzinowski said. "I tried to forget about it but it kept coming back.

"First I tried to get a little girl to come with me but before I could get hold of her she got scared and ran away. Then there was a boy. He got scared too. So when "Joey" came with me I made up my mind I would take no chances in letting him loose."

Kudzinowski's life will be checked for years back in the hope of solving other crimes of a like nature and unexplained disappearances of little children. Particularly will he be asked to throw light on the unsolved disappearances of four other children in the east.

Slayer Indifferent.

James Is Delayed Near Bellefonte With Another Broken Propeller

(International News Service)

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 7.—Pennsylvania's air lanes are proving to be a costly jinx to 17-year-old Richard E. James, who is making a solo flight from Los Angeles to New York.

Today young James' plane is in a field near Kylertown, about 25 miles west of here, with a broken propeller, the second the youthful flier has broken in two days. James came down in the field yesterday afternoon after losing his escort plane, piloted by Martin Jensen, and carrying James' parents. He hopped off from Mercer, Pa., earlier in the day after several false starts.

Buffalo Woman Is Burned To Death

(International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 7.—One woman is dead and another is dying today from burns received last night when they were trapped by fire on the top floor of the La Salle apartment house, a five story building. A score of other occupants were forced to flee down fire escapes. Neither woman was identified.

FOUR CHILDREN STRUCK IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Automobile accidents reported to the police Thursday afternoon and evening in which small children were the victims were four in number.

There was one fatality included in this number, little Clementina Cialella, aged 6, 805 South Jefferson street, dying in the New Castle hospital as a result of injuries sustained when struck by the Wilder and Conover truck.

Carl Esposito, New Castle R. D. No. 7, reported that he was driving the car of his father, Louis Esposito, west on Long avenue, in front of a hardware store when Ralph Pugh, aged 6, son of William Pugh, 451 East Long avenue, ran from the south side to the north side of East Long avenue in front of his machine and was struck by the left headlight of the machine and knocked to the ground.

Tony Esposito, a brother of the driver of the car, picked up the boy and rushed him to the New Castle hospital, where on examination it was found that his injuries apparently consisted of lacerations of the head and body. An X-ray will be taken to determine whether or not more serious injuries were sustained.

W. H. Cornelius, 826 East Lutton street, operating a car of Foster Brothers of this city, reported that he was going north on School street, near Reynolds street. David Flynn,

Bus Passengers Are Overcome By Monoxide Fumes

Passengers Drop To Ground Unconscious When Cold Air Strikes Them

(International News Service)

DARIEN, Conn., Dec. 7.—One by one, 12 passengers dropped to the street here today upon alighting from a bus bound from Boston to New York.

One by one they fell unconscious as the cold air smote them. Passers-by looked on in amazement, too stunned to offer assistance immediately.

The passengers were victims of deadly monoxide gas escaping from the exhaust. The fumes had filled the bus while the passengers slept, but did not overcome them until they filled their lungs with fresh air.

Six-Year-Old Girl Is Killed

Injuries Prove Fatal To Clementina Cialella, Struck By Auto

ACCIDENT OCCURS ON SOUTH SIDE

Clementina, aged 6 years, daughter of Carl and Lena Carney Cialella, 805 South Jefferson street, was fatally injured Thursday afternoon at the intersection of South Mercer and Home streets, when struck by the Wilder & Conover truck driven by Kirk DeLorenzo, 414 East Friendship street. She died at the New Castle hospital late in the afternoon.

The little girl was knocked to the center of the street, according to the police officers who, investigated.

Takes Girl To Hospital

Kirk DeLorenzo, driver of the truck, picked up the injured child and rushed her to the hospital, where everything possible was done to save her life. Coroner J. P. Caldwell on investigating found that death was due to concussion of the brain and serious internal injuries sustained when struck by the truck. Her right shoulder was also broken.

Owing to the conflicting stories of those who witnessed the accident, Coroner J. P. Caldwell has arranged for an inquest to be held Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz for the purpose of determining the manner in which the accident occurred.

Kirk DeLorenzo, driver of the truck, in his statement to the police, said that he was going south on Mercer street at Home street, when the little girl ran out into the street in front of his truck. He was unable to avoid hitting her and she was knocked to the street. According to DeLorenzo he was going slow at the time, his machine being in low gear, and he stopped the machine within a few feet of the point where the little girl was struck.

Clementina Cialella was six years of age, having been born July 3, 1922 in this city, the daughter of Carl and Lena Carney Cialella. She was attending school for the first time this year.

She is survived by her parents and one brother, Carl, Jr. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 9 a. m. in St. Vitus church. Interment will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Council Plans To Make Changes At City Building

Old East Street Fire Station To Be Rebuilt As Part Of City Hall

TREASURER WILL MOVE TO NEW ROOM

Police Station And Mayor's Office Are Also To Be Changed

Council in formal session today at the City building took a step toward the remodelling of the City building and East street annex when council approved a motion by Councilman W. V. Tyler authorizing Architect Wirsing to prepare remodelling plans and specifications.

Should council adopt the plans and the buildings be remodelled, it is probable that the office which now is occupied by the city treasurer and other offices in the City building will be for rent. Council, it is known, is willing to rent the treasury.

The changes will be large and one of the new features will be that no person will be able to reach a prison cell without passing a sergeant of police, entering and leaving the city jail. A welfare room for itinerants, with shower baths, will also be provided.

Plans Considered

According to plans the buildings will be remodelled as follows:

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 7.—J. Earl Jones, 38, was indicted by the grand jury today in the death of his wife, Mrs. Nellie A. Jones, 33. He will go on trial Thursday of next week on the charge of manslaughter. Jones was held to the grand jury by a coroner's jury.

The charge against Jones is that he killed his wife on the night of October 19 and burned her body in an abandoned house on the Graham farm about six miles southwest of Butler.

In an alleged confession made to state and county police, Jones admits that he burned the body, but contends that his wife was killed in a

Take a flock of words that will make a rhyme, some vo-de-o-do and some six eight time. Break your phrases up and your tempo down, have the theme built around some old Southern town; some burning passages of the moon, a silver lake and a night in June, the stars are handy that shine above, for they always fit with a line of love. Some minor chords that will wail and screech, some diminished sevenths if you have to reach to another key and as you go along, and this my boy is a popular song. There may be no sense to the stuff you write, and the words and music may be a fright, but toss in some mush and a loud hey hey, there's your song my friend, thirty-six today.

Police Officers Seize Artillery

Two Guns Are Taken From Pair Arrested Last Night

A call received about 10:20 o'clock last night by the police was to the effect that there had been some shooting going on in the vicinity of 1002 South Jefferson street.

Officers Thompson and Kennedy and Constable A. S. Leslie answered the call. They found Officers McMullen and Thomas having trouble with Bill Pappas, Jerry Ashonio and Pete Skevos.

Officer Thomas took a 38 calibre revolver from Jerry Ashonie, while Officer Kennedy found a 32 calibre revolver on the sidewalk, where it had been dropped by Pappas. Skevos dropped a quart of wine from his pocket, breaking the bottle into many pieces and spilling the contents, as it struck the pavement.

The three men were arrested. Bill Pappas this morning put up a ten dollar forfeit for his appearance but failed to return. Jerry Ashonie and Pete Shevos were each fined $25, the former on the charge of being drunk and carrying concealed weapons and shooting within the city limits, while the latter was charged with being drunk and disorderly conduct.

Lawrence county is the proud patron of two keen football teams. New Castle high and Westminster were both championship teams, both being a credit to any county. They are two teams, two schools, and two sets of warriors that are a good advertisement for the type of community that they represent. By the way, one banqueted last night and the other team is going at it tonight.

John Lawther, psychologist, student, criminologist and coach of every sport, who assisted Dike Beede in coaching, spoke to the Westminster team last night on Psychology. His keynote was that, from the psychological side of the question at least, football is a good thing for young men as it prepares them for business life and keeps them out of devilment. Selah!

While there are many organizations in New Castle that will take care of the needy this Christmas season, yet in summer time, in spring time and in the fall, the work all seems to fall on the hands of one or two organizations. Everyone forgets that there are needy people when the weather is warm; just as there are needy people when the weather is cold. So, on your Christmas list, why not add just one little item: just give a trifle to the Associated Charities and the Salvation Army. Their charity work is done the whole year around.

Some people often say that Pa Newc covers an immense amount of territory each day—for one man. Well, perhaps if you are good, some day Pa Newc will let you in on the secret.

The central fire station was draughty. All the heat, the boys said, was going up to the second floor. As a result, firemen and those who hang about the fire station climbed into their red flannels rather early. But, after today, it will be different. For at the central fire station carpenters are putting up a partition and cutting doors so that the heat will be confined to the downstairs, where it belongs.

Another new airplane has been added to the fleet about New Castle. D. Roy Bradford, who flies from the Youngstown road airport, has just purchased a new, bronze Monocoupe, much like the one which astounded all comers at the Harlansburg road airport last spring.

How much does it take to send a letter to Greece? One of the staff tried to fool Uncle Sam by affixing a two-cent stamp to his communication, but Uncle Sam returned it, declaring that it takes five cents. So there you are. Now and then, one cannot beat the government.

Then, at the central office of the telephone company, small voices are already heard asking for Santa Claus. Evidently they believe that one should get his order in early if he is to receive any satisfaction at all.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Cordelia B. Shaffer.

Mrs. Cordelia Barnes Shaffer, aged 68 years, wife of Sylvester Shaffer, passed away Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Erma Stevenson, 332 Neshannock avenue.

Mrs. Shaffer was one of the best known women of this city, having spent her entire life in this vicinity. She was a daughter of the late Eli Rigby and Nancy Seamons Rigby. She was a member of the First Christian church and P. H. C. No. 5.

Mrs. Shaffer was a sister of the late C. C. Rigby, who preceded her in death six months ago. Besides her husband she leaves the following children: Mrs. R. S. Kissinger, Buffalo, N. Y.; C. W. Barnes and Erma Stevenson of this city and Mrs. J. L. Nelson of Covington, Ky.

Funeral services will be held from the daughter,s home, 332 Neshannoc't avenue, Saturday, December 8, at 2:30 with Rev. W. W. Sniff officiating. Interment in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Snyder.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Snyder, aged 63, wife of John L. Snyder, 634 South Ray street, a widely known and highly respected resident of the city, died Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the family residence after a lingering illness.

Mrs. Snyder was the daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Selig and had been a resident of this city for the past 35 years. She was an active member of the Second U. P. church, the Missionary society of the church and other activities of the congregation, as long as her health would permit.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and the following children: Mrs. C. E. McKee of Beaver, Pa.; Mrs. E. A. McKee, Rochester, Pa.; Arthur Snyder of New Castle and Miss Marie Snyder at home, also two brothers and one sister, Lawrence Selig of New Castle, Mrs. Catherine Gaiser of Butler, Pa., and Henry Selig of Freeport, Pa.

Funeral services will be held from the family residence, 634 South Ray street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

aged 10, of 1121 South Mill street, ran out from between two houses and was struck by the front bumper of the machine. The boy was knocked down but immediately got up and started to run away.

Cornelius ran after and captured the boy and took him to the New Castle hospital, where on examination it was found that the only injury sustained was a bruised right knee. Mr. Cornelius took the boy home from the hospital.

Lillian Ruth Levine, 201 Park avenue, reported that she was driving the machine of S. A. Levine, 11 South Jefferson street, into the Lincoln and Garfield school grounds near the Weaver street entrance, her car being almost stopped, when a small girl, Sadie Sad, of 1117 Scioto street, playing tag in the school yard, boasted that she was not afraid to run in front of the Levine car.

As she proceeded to carry out the provisions of her boast, the little girl fell and scraped her leg on the cobblestones at that place.

Miss Levine stated that she did not think that her car touched the little girl. The girl was taken into the school, where she was examined by Dr. Mary Baker, the school doctor, who found that the girl had merely sustained a bruised leg.

R. A. Grove of 728 Butler avenue, reported Thursday that he was driving on Highland avenue at East Grant street, intersection, when the machine of Dr. Porter enroute east on East Grant street, made a left hand turn onto Highland avenue. The machines came together and were damaged. According to the report, Dr. Porter slowed for the street crossing, but did not come to a st[illegible] then pulled out on Highland avenue.

HOOVER THANKS SHIP CREW FOR FINE TREATMENT

cordial demonstrations of friendship on every hand, as well as the indications of material benefits in the future, Mr. Hoover's thoughts have begun to turn toward home. He is already planning his return.

Unless he decides to stop over in Mexico he will sail from some Carribbean port (not yet selected) directly for Florida upon the U. S. Warship Utah.

The Maryland will anchor off Antofagasta tomorow morning where Mr. Hoover will greet a Bolivian delegation headed by the Bolivian foreign minister. The President-Elect will not go ashore.

Bolivia has no sea coast which made it necessary for the Bolivian officials to travel to a foreign port.

Plans to Stand.

Reports that the recent Chilean earthquake had interrupted railway traffic from Chile across the Andes to Argentina were officially denied in a radiogram received on board today. Should there have been any such interruption Mr. Hoover planned to continue on the Maryland round Cape Horn to Buenos Ayres. Now, however the original plans will stand.

The Hoover party will leave the Maryland at Valparaiso on Monday morning. They will travel by electric railway to Santiago where they will spend the night. On Tuesday the overland journey for Buenos Ayres will start.

JONES INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

bedroom of their home at 124 First avenue, when he was trying to keep her from shooting him.

Jones claims that he engaged his wife in a scuffle when she grabbed the revolver from a dresser in the room, and that the pistol was in her hand when it was discharged.

Jones at first told police that his wife had gone on a visit, but after a 24 hour grilling he made the signed statement, the finding of pieces of skull and some smaller bones, a wrist watch and two rings led to the arrest of Jones after the jewelry had been identified by relatives and neighbors of Mrs. Jones

Westminster Night Will Be Observed

College To Be Represented By A Number Of Students Who Will Give Short Talks

"Westminster Night" will be observed in the Third United Presbyterian church of this city Sunday evening at 7:30 with an attractive program presented by several students of the college.

The college will be represented by a number of students who will speak on different phases of Christian attitude.

Samuel Coleman will discuss the theme "What Should be the Attitude of the Older Christian to the Younger Christian?" Edwin Anderson will speak on "What Should be the Attitude of the Younger Christian to the Older Christian?" James Guthrie will give a talk on "Christ, the Ideal Man."

Leslie Roberts will sing the solo "Comfort Ye" from the Messiah. A number of other Westminster students from the Third church will also take part in the service.

from the City building to the annex, first floor, next to Sycamore alley. (The annex will be the building formerly occupied by the central fire department.)

Directly above these offices in the annex building will be the accounts and finance department, assessors and clerks and the office of the controller.

First floor annex building, and room next to the treasurer will be located the chief of police, courtroom and sergeant's office. The sergeant's office will be so located no one can visit a cell without passing through his office. Immediately to the rear of the office will be the women's department of the jail. The entire police machinery of the city thus will be centralized in the annex building.

On the second floor of the annex will be a fire and bug-proof room for welfare purposes. It will house persons who are out of work and who desire a place to find shelter. It will probably contain shower baths and a place to sterilize clothing.

The mayor will have a private office and another office on the second floor above the police station in the annex. The offices will front on East street.

These changes will leave the mayor's offices, assessors' department and city treasury vacant. The city engineering department will be enlarged and they will be given additional space in the present mayor's office on the second floor of the City building proper.

It is possible that when the city treasury is rented for store purposes that the rooms occupied at present by the police station will be rented to the same firm. It is also possible that the rooms used by the assessors and clerks will be rented for offices.

SKATING SOON AT LAKEWOOD

A few more cold nights like that of Thursday night and the large lake at Lakewood beach, near East Brook, will undoubtedly be in readiness for skaters.

The lake is partly frozen now, due to the low temperatures of the past few nights.

Ejection Action To Secure House

Harry Rosenblum has filed an action in ejectment in court against John C. Cross to secure possession of a house on Bell avenue.

It is claimed that the house was rented for a two year term and that the defendant has defaulted in rent.

WAR'S COST GROWS

IN EVERY war somebody has won and everybody has lost, and so will it be with every war of the future. The League of Nations can even show that the winner of a war can be the heaviest loser.

A war bill is not settled with the peace treaty, but is cumulative over indefinite periods. So the league's "committee of action" finds today that the cost of the World War is far greater than the most extravagant guesses in 1918.

The figures to date as furnished by league experts place the cost at 37,000,000 human lives and $363,000,000,000. On the battlefield the allies lost 5,400,000 men, compared with 3,400,000 for the central powers. Exclusive of these battlefield dead, the number of deaths added to the normal death rate because of war is placed at 6,015,000 probably greatly underestimated. Counted in to make the full total are 22,850,000 lives that never came into existence because of a lowered birth rate and the lost production due to the more than 9,000,000 killings. These are gruesome statistics.

To the total of the war's toll in human lives must be the millions who died from under-nourishment, those who have died since the war or will die from wounds or the effects of gas, and the victims of revolutions brought on by the war. Nor can the war bill be written off until estimates are in for the losses due to the disruption of world commerce, the total of pensions that must be paid for more than half a century to multilated soldiers and to widows and orphans, and the tax burdens loaded upon all nations to pay debts and maintenance of increased armaments brought about by war frenzy.

SANTOS-DUMONT'S RETURN TO BRAZIL

THE homecoming of Alberto Santos-Dumont, the aeronaut, to Brazil was marred by one of the worst aviation accidents of recent years and a pall was thrown over the ceremonies of welcome. Generally, Santos-Dumont has been regarded as a Frenchman because his lifework was performed in France and he has lived there during all of his adult years. But neither he nor the Brazilians can forget his lineage and his birthplace, and they are rightly proud of his place among the pioneers of aviation and inclined to emphasize it now that the nation has become actively conscious of the great future to which it can aspire in aeronautics.

Santos-Dumont is improperly cited at the first successful aviator, though many persons in Europe and South America cling to the belief declares the Philadelphia Inquirer.. The facts are beyond dispute. The Wright brothers at Kittyhawk, N. C., made four successful flights on December 17, 1903, in one of which their plane was in the air fifty-nine seconds and traveled a distance of 852 feet, having risen of its own power and actually flown by mechanical means without artificial aids. On October 5, 1905, the machine had been so improved that it flew 24½ miles under full control. Santos-Dumont made his first successful and public airplane flight November 12, 1906, over a distance of 715 feet, thereby winning the French Aero Club's prize for the first public flight.

The French can with greater effect center their honors for air pioneering upon Clement Ader, who is said to have flown 150 feet in a bird-like monoplane driven by a steam engine and a screw propeller in 1890. A successor to this machine, built in 1897, which rose from the ground, but could not be operated or controlled, is exhibited in the Conservatoire des Arts et Metiers in Paris. Ader might have been the world's first successful aviator if he had received the support he deserved from his compatriots.

AUTO DOLLAR BUYS MORE

THE automobile industry has furnished many a paradox, not the least of which is the tendency of public interest in motor cars to reach its apex from December to February when touring is but a memory or a prospect for a majority of car owners. This is easily explained. In fact the only explanation necessary is to remind the puzzled that this is the season for automobile shows and new car models.

The year now approaching an end eclipsed all others in the production of cars, and witnessed many revolutionary changes in automobile design and construction. And there is every indication that 1929 will see a great effort on the part of manufacturers to outdo 1928.

In the automobile world this is a buyer's market, and there is every evidence that it will continue to be. Improvements recently announced and promised for next year are to the advantage of the buyer. Car owners are getting more and more for their dollars as manufacturers solve production and distribution costs and pass the savings on to the public. Cars are getting better and prices lower.

Never before has the industry experienced such keen competition. Only an industry that is solid to the core could survive such competitive measures.

Mellon Doesn't Worry.
Nor President Coolidge.
The Old Spanish Trail.
Sad, Useful King.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Secretary Mellon, who knows business, finance and money, having a few hundred millions of the last, writes a report to cheer the heart of a pessimist and chill the heart of a bear.

Balancing billions in his paragraphs as a juggler balances little red balls, the secretary foresees more and bigger prosperity.

The secretary is even encouraged about our bootlegging troubles. Only about 5,000,000 gallons were identified in foreign ports as presumably coming to this country, in the year past.

Mr. Mellon, a good secretary of the treasury, earning every dollar that the people pay him, shows that the gross debt of the United States is reduced to $17,604,290,563.

The treasury has a net balance of $260,190,331. This past year Mr. Mellon has cut $905,883,703 from the public debt, and added $27,592,210 to the treasury balance.

That should satisfy anybody.

To make things perfect, President Coolidge contributes encouraging words of his own.

He foresees a surplus of $60,000,000 for 1930, and while he promises no tax reduction now, he opens the door of hope very wide.

To those that complain, "I have no big income to tax," prosperity can only give the answer that rich Huntington gave Homer Davenport.

Davenport asked how he could get rich. Huntington said, "Take $10,000 and plant rubber trees." Good advice then. "I haven't got $10,000," said Davenport.

"Then," said Huntington, "don't bother me until you get it."

Temperature more than 40 degrees below zero in the northwest reminds the east that the old Spanish trail is now open from the east coast thru Florida, Texas, the Gulf coast region, and on through Arizona to southern California, with good roads. Only two ferries between Atlantic and Pacific.

The British Field Marshal Robertson worries about America. We remind him of "warlike Germany in 1914."

We are determined, says he, whatever happens, to go on increasing our navy. The way the president talked reminds him of "Germany's claims previous to the tragedy of 1914."

Righto, and more power to the president. This country does intend to regulate its own affairs, including its own armaments, and sad to relate, without asking permission of anything or anybody outside the national boundaries.

"Even the Metropolitan Museum of New York was duped by imitation Greek art."

That heading tells how an antique factory run by a clever Italian, imposed on learned "experts".

It doesn't prove that the statue was not a good statue.

Michael Angelo made imitation antiques, buried them in the ground to make them look old, sold them to an art loving cardinal in Rome. These "fakes" would be worth a good deal now.

If the Metropolitan Museum would spend money on works of men and women now living, they would have no "bogus" worries.

COUNTING THE GOLF STROKES AND TURNING IN THE SCORE

It's an old, old story. You probably read it in "Life" or the "Ladies Home Journal." And so, shortening the traces, it relates that Brown received a letter stating that if he did not deposit $10,000 in a certain hollow tree, the writer would steal his wife. Brown replied, saying that he was short of cash but that the proposition greatly interested and appealed to him.

We do not play golf, but nevertheless we approve of it. It's a great game because, aside from the outdoor exercise it affords, it gives a man a wonderful opportunity to check up on himself and prove his own honesty.

The game of golf has very much in common with the game of business. When the ball is "in the rough"; when nobody is looking and it takes a good many strokes to get it out on the green; the golfer who can be trusted in business counts his strokes carefully and turns in an honest score.

Golf is played largely by business men. We believe the average business man to be honest when nobody is looking, but if we were a golf player and should find out that an opponent had turned in a dishonest score, we would never accept a check from him unless it was certified.

Whenever we run across a man who constantly advertises his honesty, we always wonder just what deviltry he has been up to. The honest man who turns in an honest score in golf will turn in an honest score in business and without any bragging about it.

John Erskine wrote a rather flippant book about "The Private Life of Helen of Troy." Of course he was furnished a wealth of material by Homer, Virgil and a host of Greek and Latin writers. As a matter of fact the story of Troy and the Heroes who fought, bled and died there as well as the Heroes and Heroines who returned after the "Horse Episode" has intrigued all who love a good yarn since Paris ran away with Helen.

Ruins of Butrinto, the scene of some of the incidents in Virgil's Aeneid, have been dug into by the Italian Archaeological Mission to Albania, with striking results.

Butrinto is on the west coast of the Greek peninsula, opposite the "heel" of Italy. In the Aeneid, Helenus, son of Priam, and his wife Andromache, became the rulers of this part of the country and built a town at this site, patterned after their old home town, Troy.

Dr. Luigi Ugolini, head of the Mission, has reported discoveries of five beautiful statues of Greek origin at Butrinto; one statue possibly being the work of the great Praxitiles. Remains of the different civilizations which have occupied the site have been found; bone knives of the prehistoric Stone Age, buckles from the Bronze Age, ruins of the Greek and Roman town and a Byzantine baptistry of the Fifth Century, A. D.

But no new thing has been found relating either to Helen's Loves or Achilles' Wrath.

New Textile Fiber May Rival America's Great King Cotton

Important Possibilities Seen In British Experiments Which Reports Indicate Are Expected To Have Far-Reaching Effect On Industry

Interested attention is being given in this country to the reports of experimental use of a new textile fiber by British manufacturers. Whether the plant develops into a real competitor for American grown cotton or turns out to be only another supplementing ally, its possibilities are regarded as tremendously important.

In this age of irresistible science, no industry is assured that its tomorrow will be in the least like its today," says the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, with an expression of belief that the news from England is "important to our own cotton-growing south, and to tropical cotton-growing sections in general. If a plant capable of producing cotton," continues The Daily News, "can be grown in the British Isles, it can be grown over a large part of the world. If the British experiment is what is claimed for it, a revolution in cotton textiles is at hand. The case of artificial silk gives an idea of what such a discovery as this might mean in other fields."

The MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER quotes the opinion of English cotton brokers and merchants that "the substitute will offer more competition to artificial silks than the cotton trade," and adds: "The opinion is expressed that the new substance might be used to improve cotton goods by making the fabrics more lustrous and attractive. Moreover, the general opinion in the English cotton industry is that the new fiber, like artificial silk, will be lacking in durability and will be affected by dampness. In that case, it cannot compete successfully with cotton. It may work to the advantage of cotton growers, however, if it may be blended with cotton so as to make the fabric more lustrous."

"If this product is of world-wide value," in the judgment of the COLUMBIA RECORD, however, "it is logical to conclude that it would cause economic changes in this country, affecting alike exports of cotton and of cotton manufacturers, and at the same time taking from southern cotton mills the advantage they now enjoy over their New England competitors of being close to the source of supply."

The possibility of "another jolt" for cotton is seen by the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, in considering the report from London "that between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 pounds of 'artificial cotton' are now being grown in England and will be available in July for English cotton spinners at a fixed price of 12 cents a pound." The Times, taking note of "a saving of about eight cents a pound on the genuine article," adds: "The new product is reported to meet every demand of the coarse count required by the British mills. . . . What effect the cultivation of 'artificial cotton' will have upon the cotton-growing industry remains to be seen, but reports would seem to indicate that the south's chief crop has a dangerous rival in this new product."

The question of price seems to the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL to be an outstanding feature of this new development, and that paper comments: "This year's crop will amount to about 8,000 of our bales. This is not a large production, but it is a boon to the English, who have no raw material and have difficulty producing a livelihood on the worn-out soil in many places. The new fiber plant is more productive per acre than cotton and can be sold at a profit for almost half the price of cotton."

Difficulties in the growing of fibers are pointed out by the NASHVILLE BANNER, which says of the report from abroad: "It remains to be seen what will come of the matter in a practical way, but Essex and Sussex are alleged to have grown a supply the past summer that will afford plenty of material for a mill or two, and tests are to be made on a scale sufficiently large to determine the practicability of the project. We dare say, incidentally, that some sort of insect pest will promptly develop and attack the plant in devastating numbers and fashions if it does prove to be of genuine value in the textile industry. There will be a borer or a weevil or a scale or something to play the wild with the farmers' plans."

Agreeing that success with the new fiber "would be a most serious blow to the cotton growers," the ST. JOSEPH NEWS-PRESS remarks that "the boll weevil has a new ally with which to pester the American cotton producers," and says further: "Successful substitution of this cheaper fiber would also have an effect on the efforts of the British to grow their own cotton in Egypt, Sudan and Mesopotamia. About 800,000,000 pounds of cotton were grown in Egypt alone in 1926. All these investments in an attempt to break the virtual monopoly of cotton production held by this country would be depreciated if the demand for cotton were to be further reduced by the adoption of a cheaper material."

"These reports," concludes the ANNISTON STAR, "furnish another reason why southern farmers should be getting away from their old one-crop idea. It is probable that several years will elapse before the use of the new product makes serious inroads upon the cotton industry of this country, but it would be well for the cotton growers to begin now to plan against that day. However, it is stated that the substitute will be ready for the manufacturer next summer, so if it proves to be what the producers believe it is—a thing that will take the place of cotton in making cloth—there is a possibility of an effect on the agricultural situation in the south at some time not too far distant. The new product will be placed on the market after eight years of experimentation and the mills of Yorkshire and London are looking to this 'artificial cotton' as a possible medium whereby they will regain their former position in the industrial world."

THE RIGHT MIND

Homer, Greek poet, speaks of "the glory of a firm, capacious mind." Very unfortunate for many of us who have little minds. But some large minds are not much better. They are capacious but not firm. A kind of inconsistency which enables a man to change his opinion in the light of new truth is greatly to be desired But the kind of changeableness which isn't based on new information or on thought denotes a mind that may be broad but shallow. It is capacious but not firm.

THE MIND AGAIN

On the subject of the mind one might well recall the words of the philosopher Berkeley:

"All the choir of heaven and furniture of earth—in a word, all those bodies which compose the mighty frame of the world—have not any substance without a mind."

ELECTION LESSONS

The election is now a few weeks past there has been time to think about some things in connection with it. The most encouraging aspect was not the selection of any particular candidate, although candidates are important. The significant thing was the enormously increased interest of the American people in the affairs of their republic. The size of the vote justifies a new belief in the possibilities of democratic government. It is to be hoped the renewed spirit will continue to burn.

WISE DELAY

Putting off until tomorrow ranks as a bad habit, but one should not condemn the custom as a whole. It all depends upon what you put off. One of the happiest and most successful men the writer ever knew used to say: "Don't do anything today that you can put off until tomorrow—but be sure you know what you can afford to put off."

Trying to get everything done today or this week or this month is not worth the wear and tear. If you go home with work unfinished, if you have to start on a trip with work left undone, don't let it worry you. Take it up when you get back, at the place where you left off. Do the important things, the few significant, vital things. Take the others up in order. Man was never made to proceed and return like a sky rocket

AFTERWARDS

One left money and lands and stocks
And rows and rows of building blocks
And, further to mark his path of life,
Two quarreling women who'd been his wife.

There was a library quickly sold
And melted down into silver cold.
There was a garden wondrous fair
That will probably wither for want of care.

There was a yacht which had been his pride.
And he gave that up on the day he died.
Now a staff of clerks is at work to find
All that he gathered and left behind.

Another man died, and in truth to tell
He didn't leave much which the courts could sell.
The records of companies do not keep
The reasons why women and children weep.

But his little garden will greener grow
Because of the fact that he loved it so,
And numberless friends, whenever they meet
Will think of him and his praise repeat.

Over his treasures mean hands won't paw.
There will be no quarrels in courts of law.
He lived and died, and his life was fair,

Fraud In Obtaining Marriage License Charged Against Alexander Hartzell

Dorothy Hartzell by her father Joseph Bryan of Volant, has filed at the prothonotary's office an application to have a marriage to Alexander Hartzell annulled on the grounds of fraud in obtaining a marriage license.

It is claimed that at the time the license was obtained at the Lawrence Co. court house Hartzell represented himself to be 23 years old, whereas he was but 19 years old. It is claimed that he induced Miss Bryan to give her age as 21 years wheras she was but 14 years of age.

The marriage license was secured and the marriage ceremony was performed on November 27, 1928. It is further set forth that the couple never cohabited as man and wife The court is asked to declare the marriage null and void, it having been secured under misrepresentation.

Diplomatic Colony In Washington May Undergo Cleaning

Understood That Several Foreign Representatives Are Asking To Be Removed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Important changes in the diplomatic colony in Washington will take place before the advent of the new Hoover administration in March, according to reports here today.

Reports from London are to the effect that Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, will ask to be relieved between now and March 4. Sir Esme and the embassy would not confirm the reports today however.

Dr. Manuel E. Malbran, Argentine ambassador, has been relieved of his post by presidential decree following differences with his home government.

Jan Ciechanowski, Polish minister, has asked Warsaw to relieve him of his duties within the next few months. Family and personal affairs are said to have prompted his request to be relieved.

Cannibals Devour Indiana Evangelist Relatives Believe

Former Carpenter Believed To Be Victim Of Philippine Tribes

(International News Service)

PERU, Ind., Dec. 7.—Believing that Ira C. Sparks, former local carpenter, ended his evangelistic career as a victim of cannibals in the Philippines, relatives here obtained appointment of an administrator for his $2,000 estate.

Saying that he felt the call to preach, Sparks went to the Pacific coast in 1924 and was carried on board a Pacific liner after packing himself in a box labeled merchandise. He was put off at Honolulu.

Undaunted, Sparks built a small boat and set out from Hawaii for the Holy Land.

Months passed and no word came from the wanderer. Then his boat was found tied on the shore of an island in the Philippine group, said to be inhabited by cannibals. That was the last trace of him.

The property will be saved for the two children of Sparks, Thorman, 11, and Donald, nine.

Although legal steps have been taken to make her son legally "dead", the old mother of Sparks still spends many hours at her window watching for him.

CLOTHING IS STOLEN WHILE IN JAIL CELL

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 7. — A jail evidently is not a safe place to keep valuables. At least Mike Krutz of Grindstone will testify to that effect because, after he was incarcerated in the Southside bastile on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, someone purloined his overcoat, coat and vest which he had put in the cell with him.

It appears that two other fellows had also been detained in the lockup, seeking a place to stay for the night. After the men were awakened the next morning they left, evidently taking Kurtz's possessions while the turnkey was in another part of the borough building. Police in Connellsville and Uniontown have been notified to watch for the pair.

David E. Kaufman, a Jew, United States minister to Bolivia, has won great acclaim there, and will probably retain his post under Hoover.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

PARTING FROM THE PIGEONS

"Fine! Spoken like a pigeon! Here is one Two-Legs that has a heart!" cried the doves, one after the other. And the boy was glad that they did not hate him. He would not have found it in his heart to blame them if they had.

"I do believe that you are the most wonderful birds in all the world," cried he. "I hope you will never regret letting me still be your friend.

"It would be asking too much to ask you to forgive my people, but I have only one thing to say in their defense. I don't think they know how cruel they have been. You see, Humans are brought up to think that it is all right to dine on birds if one can catch them—just as you make your meals of insects—and they have never learned any better. But catch me eating a squab as long as I live!"

"I should hope not!" exclaimed a pigeon, indignantly, and the boy knew he had said the wrong thing, he hastened on:

"I am perfectly sure that you Doves would much rather be by yourselves now. You have so much to talk over and so many plans to make. I am only in the way. So if you do not mind I think I will take a walk. I am not very well used to perching in the trees, anyhow, you know I get queer twists in my legs, and I should like to get down on the ground and straighten them out.

"Goodby, friends. Don't come to the Great Woods next year. If I were you I would get away from here as quickly as ever I could. It is dark now and no one will see you. That is why I am leaving. I don't want to talk to any of the Humans, who have done this terrible thing to you."

Peter started to clamber down the tree trunk, but he had gone only a short distance when his friend hailed him.

"Here, now, wait a minute, can't you?" cried the Dove, who had been his aeroplane. "If you are going, then so will I. You do not know your way about in the Great Woods; why, almost anything might happen to you.

"You are so tiny that one of the Two-Legs might not see you and step upon you in the dark.

"Or you might fall into the pigpen and get gobbled up by the pigs.

"Do you think that I am the kind of a Dove to bring a little shaver down into all this trouble and then leave him to get out of it as best he can? I should say not!"

Gardner Chapel Is Dedicated

Former Portable School Building Is Converted Into Church At Gardner

Sunday was the date of the dedication of Gardner chapel, the first house of worship built in the village of Gardner.

The day was clear and pleasant and nearly every one of the 26 homes was represented at the service, which was held at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Frank M. Hay, president of the board of trustees, was chairman of the meeting, and after the congregation sang "Revive Us Again," introduced Rev. J. R. Routledge, pastor of Providence Baptist church, above North Sewickley, who offered the invocation prayer.

Mabel and Charles Walker, Virginia and Dorothy Hay gave a fine concert recitation from the third chapter of Proverbs.

One very pleasant feature of the service was the music. During the singing of several hymns Mr. Kennedy did excellent playing on his violin, Miss Malinda Walker on the saxophone and Miss Florence Schumaker on the piano. The little folks of the Gardner Sunday school sang "When He Cometh" in charming fashion.

This was a very pretty exercise, given by eight children on the letters and the word G A R D N E R chapel.

Mrs. Kennedy sang a beautiful solo, "Thanksgiving," which was greatly appreciated by all, and did credit to the careful training of the singer.

Mrs. Douthett, wife of Dr. J. C. B. Douthett of New Castle, gave a delightful little talk, telling how it pleased her to see the change in the building since it was a portable school house in New Castle. Mrs. Douthett is a member of the New Castle school board and it was becaues of this that she had the opportunity to make a bid for the building when it was offered for sale. By making a bid one dollar higher than any one else the house was secured.

Mrs. Douthett paid a high compliment to those who had made such a transformation in the appearance of the building and every one is grateful to her for her efforts to secure the house for us and for her words of encouragement and inspiration.

Mr. Routledge preached an excellent sermon on the theme of "God's Love", closing with a touching plea that all hearts should be dedicated to God and His service. Owing to illness Dr. C. C. Green could not be present to offer the dedicatory prayer so this service was conducted by Rev. Routledge.

S. G. Hazen, who is a deacon from the Providence church, then took the floor and very skilfully presented the matter of raising money to clear the debt on the building. He began by producing a check for $25 which was sent as a gift to the chapel by Mrs. Della Greenwood Schaul of Oklahoma City. There were a few responses to the plea that this check be duplicated, then smaller amounts were asked for until over $300 was given in pledges and when the basket was passed a very generous collection was secured. "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" was sung with grateful hearts. Mr. Routledge pronounced the benediction and the dedication service of Gardner chapel was over.

Mr. Hazen and his wife both made a contribution and Mrs. John J. King of Shenango stop brought $5 from the Margaret Copeland Mission circle of the Third U. P. church.

Mrs. Davis, wife of the Nazarene pastor, will preach next Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

A Chicagoan has his auto equipped with a shower bath. Most motorists have to depend on passing machines on rainy days.—The Springfield Ohio, News-Sun.

Mosquitoes are said to be getting larger and stronger. No wonder when they used to be able to get at only ankles and necks.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Florida University Gets Old Bar Room

Corner Of Famous New York Knickerbocker Bar Is Given To School

(International News Service)

GAINSVILLE, Fla., Dec. 7. — The University of Florida museum here has taken on something, at least, of the tone of a barroom.

A corner of the famous bar of the Knickerbocker Hotel in New York, was presented to the University by Ernest Glantzberg, Jacksonville manufacturer, who bought it when the old hotel was remodeled into an office building.

Glantzberg for several years had the bar installed in his home.

Firing Squad Kills Russian Robber Band Soon After Capture

Only Eight Days Elapses Between Arrest Of Robbers And Execution

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Dec. 7—Five members of a bandit gang which invaded Moscow from the provinces were lined up against a wall an shot by a firing squad. Just eight days elapsed between their arrest, trial and execution. Two others of the gang were sentenced to 10 years in prison, two for eight years and a woman, the sweetheart of the chieftain, to four years.

The gang maintained headquarters near Tula about 100 miles south of Moscow. Pediodically for three months fire or six of them ran into the city and held up cooperative stores. They made off with a total loot of about $25,000.

Robbery with a gun finds no sympathy in Soviet Russia. The recent outbreaks of banditry have spurred the G. P. U. and the courts to quick action. Two more gangs of about 40 men and women are awaiting trial. Half of them are expected to be sentenced to death.

Carnegie Steel Plans Yule Tree

Will Erect Public Christmas Tree On South Jefferson This Year Again

TREE AND TREAT ARE YEARLY CUSTOM

Plans are being made at the present time for the annual open air Christmas tree and free treat to the children by the Carnegie Steel Company of this city. The tree and treat to some 5,000 children who are playground members, and members of employes' families, are the gifts of General Superintendent Robert J. Tully of the local plant.

The tree this year will be situated on the auditorium grounds at the entrance by the South Jefferson street bridge. The tree will not be placed, state steel company officials in charge, for some time yet, the aim being to make it more of a Christmas tree than a season tree.

The public tree and treat are an annual affair with the Carnegie Steel Company of New Castle. This marks some 15 years of the existence of such a tree and treat at Christmas time.

Winter In Paris Brings Tourist Calls For Help

Many Are Broke; Ask Aid From Travelers Society For Fare Home

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The approach of cold, wintry weather has increased the calls for aid made by "broke" Americans wishing to return to their homeland.

During the month of October, the American Aid Society in Paris received requests from sixty-eight Americans for transportation to the United States. Many of them are ex-service men and their families who find that it is not such an easy matter to eke out a living in France as it probably seemed eleven years ago at the time of the Armistice.

The Aid Society took care of seventeen of the total number, ten of whom were ex-soldiers. The cost of sending them back to their homes amounted to nearly $900.

Two deserted wives, five stranded seamen, fifteen penniless students and four old men also appealed for aid during the past month, all of them Americans. Among the one hundred and eleven cases handled, fifty of them were ex-service men and their families.

Will Send More Express By Plane

New York Leads All Cities In Volume Of Airplane Express

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Larger use of the airplane in transporting express shipment is recorded in a check made of express parcels carried last month, by the mail plane, the American Air Express Association reports.

New York led all cities in volume of air express packages, Chicago was second, Los Angeles third, and San Francisco fourth. The total number of air express packages handled at the airport here was 2400.

During the month shipments ranged from prunes to a single parcel of $500,000 worth of securities, from door locks to lingerie, from a spare part for an electric generator to fur coats, from radio sets to men's hats.

SHE GETS DIVORCE AFTER 22 YEARS

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 7.—Married for more than 22 years, Nellie Meade, 67, of Upper Middletown, and Jay P. Meade, 72, were legally separated today. The wife claims that a few months after their marriage in Mason, Mich., her husband left home to get work in the harvest field. He never returned.

More Farm Produce Is Held In Storage

Hundreds Of Carloads Of State Grown Fruits And Vegetables Are Packed

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—Favorable weather during the harvesting season and greater care in proper grading have resulted in Pennsylvania farmers putting into storage more than the usual quantity of high-quality fruits and vegetables, according to the state bureau of markets.

Hundreds of carloads of Pennsylvania-grown fruits and vegetables, many of which have gone into storage, have been packed during the past few months, according to the United States grades, which are the official standards for Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania consumers, who have not already done so, were advised by the bureau that early December is not too late to purchase a winter supply of locally grown produce, especially apples and potatoes.

In order to secure the best grades of these vegetables, the buyer should specify a United States Fancy or United States No. 1 grade, marketing specialists explained.

Cold Is Found On Golf Fairway

No Longer Replace Divots; Club May Start Large Scale Operation

(International News Service)

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Dec. 7.—A self replenishing treasury is nearly in the grasp of the Sierra Country Club here. Gold has been discovered on the No. 6 fairway of the club's course.

Nobody is bothering to replace divots, and spoon shots on that part of the course, where the ore is the highest grade, have made the fairway resemble no-man's land. Club officials are in a quandry whether to alter the course or permit mining operations on a larger scale.

Uprooted By Storm, Old Tree Replanted

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Dec. 7.—Porto Rico's largest and most beloved tree, uprooted by the September hurricane, is taking a new lease on life. At the estimated age of 125 years it is starting all over again.

The tree is an Indian laurel—a member of the fig family. Old citizens recall the time when it had a companion, the two gigantic trees standing side by side on Miramar Hill, San Juan, before that section became filled with residences.

When the hurricane struck San Juan September 13 the tree went down with a crash after weathering the storm for many hours. Possibly a third of its roots remained in the ground.

Engineers and United States forestry men have put the tree back where it was, but much shorn of limb. Forestry experts say in a few years it will be a better tree than before the storm. They fix its present age at 125 years. Until it becomes firmly re-established with new roots the tree will be held in place by steel cables.

VILLAGE CLUB TAKES "CENTER" FROM STORE

ALMEDIA, Pa., Dec. 7.—The old country store passed on, but the association of men who found warmth and companionship by its great chunk stove on winter nights has endured.

In its place here has arisen the Almedia Social Club.

The club had its birth many years ago around the fire of the Almedia country store. As it grew in strength and purpose, the members began meeting in rooms, above the store. Later the building was sold, depriving the club of its meeting place and of its cheery fire, and then the members decided to build their own quarters.

Treasure Hunt On In Florida For $15,000,000

(International News Service)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 7.—Two treasure hunting parties have been organized here, one to seek a chest believed to contain $15,000,000 paid to Spain for the purchase of the Louisiana territory, the other to dig for Spanish treasure said to be buried at the bottom of the Ocklawaha river in the interior.

One Daytona Beach man, Carl Holm, deep sea diver, sailor and adventurer, still in his twenties has been signed to participate in both expeditions. Holm is the outstanding personality among these 20th century treasure hunters.

A native of Denmark, at 16 he was the youngest deep sea diver in Europe He joined the Beebe expedition in search of the Sargasso sea and has salvaged submarines and done underwater work all over the world. Here in Florida he builds boats, dives and seeks adventure where it is plentiful.

Preparing Equipment.

He is preparing his diving equipment for the $15,000,000 treasure hunt which will take place shortly in the famous Suwanee river here its mouth in Levy county and is grooming the trim cruiser Senorita for the expedition in which he has been signed as captain by Jerome Peterson young Orlando, Fla., engineer who claims to have charts locating the Ocklawaha treasure.

Both Holm and Peterson have joined the Suwanee expedition on a share basis. The search is being financed by a corporation headed by H. L. Nelson of Tampa who fits exactly the title adventurer.

Nelson is sure there is a treasure chest at the bottom of the river. He has seen it he says and has raised it high enough to touch only to lose it in the river's slime.

Nelson heard of an old treasure prospector, "Uncle Bob" Mahon who had located a treasure in the Suwanee. He sought out Mahon and found him with a few companions living near the site of the search on what meagre fare their guns and fish rods could win for them.

Then Nelson tracked down every loose end of a story or legend about the treasure. He heard of a family in Gainesville, Fla., which had been in moderate circumstances until 42 years ago when members of it left on a mysterious trip coming back wealthy. There were tales of old Spanish coins in their possession.

Build Cofferdam.

The Nelson party is building a cofferdam in the river and has met an obstruction which Holm with his knowledge of waters and their ways and his diving skill will attempt to clear away. Cables will be sunk to thread beneath the chest which has settled down into quicksand and an attempt will be made to raise it with its disappointment or its wealth for those who seek it.

This will be the first project now under consideration. When it is over Holm and Peterson who are awaiting arrival of a new engine for their craft the Senorita will sail up the historic St. John's to the Ocklawaha on their quest for the other reputed treasure. They will take with them only one other man who will be an engineer to be selected by Peterson the head of the expedition.

The treasure seekers though light-hearted and light-spoken declare they are really in earnest and are undertaking the ventures in the spirit of business as well as of adventure.

THINK STRAIGHT AND PLAN

Loose thinking will never take you to your goal of financial independence.

It will require straight thinking on your part to reason out where your present course is leading you and to mark the most direct line to your goal.

Straight thinkers plan out a course of action and refuse to be lured from it.

When straight thinkers start for a destination they do not go up this byway and down that crossroad if they really want to arrive.

They think ahead and actions follow their thoughts.

"The thing that makes one man worth $10,000 a year," said Charles M. Schwab, "and another only $1000 is the difference in their minds, in their power to think."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A drastic alien deportation bill sponsored by a majority of the House immigration committee is expected to furnish one of the sharpest fights of the coming session of Congress.

Although reported out by the committee last year no action was taken and demand for passage was not pressed in anticipation of the election.

There is already manifest, however, a determined effort by immigration restrictionists to put through a deportation bill with teeth in it. Present laws, it is declared are wholly inadequate to meet the demand of the immigration authorities for deportation of criminal aliens.

The greatest change provided in the newest measure is that an alien could be deported if convicted of a crime which results in one-year prison sentence. It also extends the time limit for the deportation for a single offense from five to ten years. A provision of the present law providing for halting of deportation proceedings upon recommendation of judges, in some instances, is eliminated.

The direct one-year jail sentence provision, it is said, would result in deportation of aliens convicted of bootlegging, who are not reached under the present law. Deportation without time limit of an alien convicted of a second felony is provided.

Provisions for deportation of insane or pauper aliens are made more stringent as well as deportation of those who have smuggled themselves into the country. A new provision provides for deportation of aliens convicted of violating the Mann "white slave" or Harrison anti-narcotic acts.

Air Service To Get 25 All Metal Planes

Planes Will Be Made With Three Mail Cockpits And One For Express

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—A new fleet of 25 all metal planes for operation on the Chicago-San Francisco route will soon be in operation, according to the American Air Transport association.

These planes will be equipped with three mail cockpits and one cockpit for express.

The high speed of the new fleet will be 140 miles per hour with full load. They will fly between San Francisco and Chicago in 20 hours with four changes of pilots.

Speeding up of the service from Chicago to New York by various air lines is also planned.

Prepare To Wash Banks Of Ten Mile River For Gold And Silver

(International News Service)

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Dec. 7.—Hailing back to the days of '49 when hardy prospectors journeyed to California to wash streams for gold, a refining company here is preparing to wash the banks of Ten Mile River for gold and silver.

For more than fifty years jewelry manufacturing plants have been operating beside the river and it is estimated that thousands of dollars of gold and silver dust have blown into the stream. Two acres of swamp land are being dug up and carefully sifted for the precious metals.

GREAT EMIGRANT ROUTE

The emigrant route the "Oregon trail," was about 2,000 miles long. It extended from Independence, Mo., to Fort Vancouver on the Columbia river.

Smoke Nuisance Is Menace To Chicago

Annual Damage Attributed To Smoke Amounts To 20 Millions

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 7. — Every man woman and child in Chicago is indirectly taxed $7 a year by the city's smoke nuisance, according to a report of the National Smoke Prevention League.

Smoke damage in Chicago annually was estimated by the league at more than $20,000,000.

Divorce Becomes Serious Problem

Much Money And Children Are Causes Of Postponement In Chicago

AL CAPONI GOT SCAR WHILE IN WORLD WAR

By IONE QUINBY
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Divorce is taking on a more practical slant Gold Coast-way, where the income taxes run into hundreds of thousands or millions, and there are huge property matters to settle. Divorce is no longer a whim, but a carefully studied out proposition that considers the division of property and the business part of the affair as of more importance than personal feelings.

Separating in haste is a luxury that Croesus-like couples can't afford, particularly if they have maintained an establishment for a number of years. The breaking up of a millionaire's home is an immense task where there are 10 and 12 servants to be disposed of and a fortune in paintings, Persian rugs and bric-a-brac to be divided, besides real estate. A wealthy couple decided to live apart two years ago, but wouldn't take the step until the lease for their $10,000-a-year apartment had run out.

The "Rolls-Royce Murphys, so-called after their famous divorce because the fight centered over who was to have the Rolls-Royce, lived under one roof longer than they would otherwise if it hadn't been for their mutual passion for the family carryall. On the other hand the machine brought about the divorce, for it was on its luxurious cushions that the same chauffeur drove wife and husband to separate appointments. The chauffeur appeared as a witness and helped with the divorce. After months of bitter wrangling, an agreement was reached whereby the machine was sold and the profits divided.

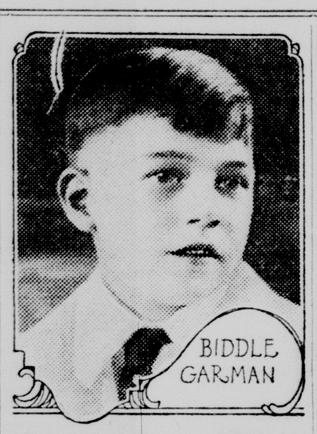
Social obligations to the children also help to postpone divorces. One of the cruelest suits was put off for three years until the daughter had finished boarding school and could make her debut into society. The debutante's year was hardly over when the parents, having fulfilled their duty as they saw it, filed suit for divorce and a cross-bill that kept the headlines sizzling for days.

* * *

Others, however, fulfill their obligations to their children by entertaining separately and with equal splendor for their debutante daughters after the divorce. Betty Borden, a debbie of the year, was given a grand coming-out affair by her mother, Mrs. Waller Borden, and an equally grand function by her father, John Borden, and his second wife.

* * *

"Scar-faced Al" Caponi, king of the liquor world hereabouts, who sojourns winters in Miami, and who has had considerable publicity, didn't get his famous scar in an underworld brawl or rum fight. It is his memento of the World war, and he got it just before he crawled to the trenches after a battle. Few know this.



Penn. Boy Was Nearly Ruined

Thousands of children are robbed of their birthright of health and happiness by awful constipation. Waste matter held too long in their bowels forms poisons which pollute their blood, cause headaches, bad breath, coated tongue, indigestion, biliousness, make them weak, sallow, fretful and underweight.

Don't let your child suffer from constipation until his stomach and bowels are weakened. At the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness, stop his trouble quick with California Fig Syrup. Children love its rich, fruity taste. It cleans them out thoroughly, regulates stomach and bowels and gives these organs tone and strength so they continue to act normally of their own accord.

Thousands of Pennsylvania mothers are eager to tell of their experience with it. Mrs. Katherine B. Garman, 5438 Irving St., Philadelphia, says: "My little son, Biddle, was nearly ruined by weak bowels before I began giving him California Fig Syrup. He was sallow, bilious, half-sick all the time. Soon he became strong and well again. Since this experience seven years ago I've kept California Fig Syrup in the house all the time for his colds and any upset spells."

Protect your child from imitations of California Fig Syrup. See that the carton you get bears the word "California."

Railroad Magnate Called By Death

E. J. Pearson, President Of Big Eastern Railroad System, Dies After Operation

WAS TO BE RETIRED AT END OF YEAR

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—E. J. Pearson, who was to retire at the end of this year as president of the New York and New Haven, and Hartford railroad died today in John Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, according to information received at the local office of the railroad.

Mr. Pearson went to the Baltimore hospital several weeks ago for rest and observation. Today he suffered a heart stroke, it was stated, and died almost immediately.

He was born in October, 1863, in Rockford, Ill.

He came into New England railroad life in 1916, when he was appointed vice president of the New Haven railroad system by the then president Howard Elliot.

President Eleven Years

In 1917, Mr. Pearson was named president of the railroad and in 1918, when the railroads of the country went under federal control as a war measure, he was made federal manager. He became president again in 1920 and remained in that office until a month ago when his resignation was presented to the board of directors and was reluctantly accepted. He gave as the reason for his retirement ill-health. Mr. Person was to end his duties as head of the New Haven system with the beginning of the new year but death intervened.

Eighty Miners Reported Killed In South America

Submarine Gallery Of Copper Mine Caves In; Many Miners Believed Buried

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Eighty miners were reported killed when a submarine gallery of the Cerro De Pasco Copper company's mine under Lake San Francisco, near Morococha, Peru, collapsed, said a Central News dispatch from Buenos Aires this afternoon.

According to a cablegram received by the New York offices of the Cerro De Pasco Copper company today only 25 men were buried by the mine disaster in Peru. The following cablegram was received in New York from Lima, Peru:

"The slope above the level of Lake Moracocha caved in from the surface, bringing in a tremendous rush of muddy debris. About 25 men, including G. S. McGregor, shift boss, were buried. No water from the lake entered the mine, and it is believed it is not likely to enter. The lines to the mine are down, so we cannot get full information."

Policeman Guards Young Wife, Tries To Commit Suicide

New Jersey Woman Worked To Death By Relatives Attempts To Take Life

(International News Service)

JERSEY CITY, Dec. 7.—For months Mrs. Pearl H. Nerdinger, 24, lived happily with her husband and child in their five-room house here. Then her mother died in Ohio and her father and ten younger brothers came here "for a visit." Six weeks passed and the "guests" still stayed on.

There were eleven additional mouths to feed, a huge stack of extra dishes to be washed and dried, and four times as much housework. Discouraged by the extra work, Mrs. Nerdinger took poison three times, according to police.

Today, following her third attempt to take her life, a special policeman was assigned to watch over her and "keep her from committing suicide." He went to the residence in an attempt to remedy the situation.

Probe Murder Of York Girl, Trio Under Suspicion

York Officials Feel That Trio Held For Killing Hermit May Have Killed Girl

(International News Service)

YORK, Pa., Dec. 7.—While the district attorney's office continued preparation of the case against the two youths and a man held in connection with York county's "witch craft" slaying, state police again opened the investigation into the death of Gertrude Rudy, 16, who was slain on Armistice Day, 1927.

Working on the supposition that John Blymire, 32, Wilbert Hess, 17, and John Curry, 14, who are charged with the murder of Nelson Rehmeyer, alleged pow-wow doctor, may be involved in the slaying of the young girl, state police are attempting to locate several persons who may be able to throw some light on the mystery surrounding her death.

The Rudy girl was found shot and beaten to death along the Western Maryland railroad tracks here. No solution of the mystery surrounding the slaying was found at that time, but after Blymire, Hess and Curry were taken into custody it was disclosed that Blymire was acquainted with the girl.

Paul Jaworski To Die In Chair, Date Set By Governor

Governor Fisher Designates Week Starting December 31 As Execution Time

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7. — Governor Fisher today fixed the date of execution for Paul Jaworski, Allegheny county murderer, for the week of December 31. He killed Isaiah Gump, a mine payroll guard.

Jaworski recently wrote to Governor Fisher asking that he not delay in setting the time and the governor then remarked that he would accommodate the condemned man.

Dog and monkey fights were a frequent entertainment in old England. The monkey was given a club to assist him but no monkey except the very large apes has any chance with a fighting dog it does not take a good dog long to kill the ordinary monkey.

Find Jar Of 'Red Ink' On Local Street Car

"Nope."

"Wine?"

"Yep."

A-hem!!!

P-s-s-h; don't tell anyone and we'll let you in on something—but don't tell the "cops"; give "it" time to age.

Gazing into corners, nooks and other places at the P.-O. dispatcher's office today for "Lost Articles", a reporter saw the jar and he became inquisitive.

"Found on a street car?"

"Yep," replied the dispatcher.

"Anyone call to claim it?"

"Nope."

"Is it good?"

"Say, do you think I'm a 'sampler' or a dispatcher?" asked the irate gentleman as the reporter drifted from his office.

And gloves! Many a woman in New Castle only has one glove, according to the display in a cupboard.

The articles are found on cars and buses and taken to the dispatcher's office.

If not called for within 30 days the articles are returned to the finder.

In this case who gets the wine? Maybe it was red ink.

The attache claims he didn't taste it. Neither did the reporter. So, officially, let it be described as:

Found: One jar of "red ink".

Oldest Couple Are Married 89 Years

Serbian People Were Married In 1839; Owe Life To Temperance

(International News Service)

BELGRADE, Dec. 7. — Demetrius Filienovic and his wife, Zivana, have more than two centuries between them. They are believed to be the oldest living married couple in the world. They were already married and living in the little Serbian village near Semlin as far back as 1839. Demetrius was then over 21 and his wife a few years younger.

They have lived together for eighty-nine years and have a large number of grandchildren and great grand ones. Both are in fine health and can use all of their faculties. Demetrius owes much of it to his temperance. He has never smoked nor taken spirits. From time to time he drinks a good glass of wine, but the last one was over thirty years ago.

Cranberry Crop Is Smallest In Years

Fireworm And Fruit Worm Damage To Crop Much More Severe Than Usual

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—The nation's cranberry crop is the lighest in years, according to the New England Crop reporting service of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

The crop is estimated at 530,000 barrels, compared to 495,000 barrels harvested last year and 744,000 barrels harvested in 1926.

The Massachusetts crop indicates a harvest of 325,000 barrels compared with 370,000 barrels in 1927.

Like Massachusetts, the quality of the New Jersey yield is good as are also the berries in Wisconsin.

Fireworm and fruit worm damage proved more severe than usual. Increased size of the berries offset these injuries somewhat.

The old Greeks and Romans fought quail and the story is told that Augustus the Roman emperor once punished a perfect of Egypt with death for bringing to his table one of these birds which had acquired celebrity for its victories.

How to Strengthen Any Stomach

Old Roman Road Found Under City

Foundations Of Ancient Roman House Are Found In Ruins Of Italica

(International News Service)

SEVILLE, Dec. 7.—A Roman way with stone pillars much like those of Pompeii has recently been unearthed on the ancient site of the old city of Italica, not far distant. The foundations of a Roman house with splendid mosaics of large size was found in the course of the execavations, together with other objects of value.

Italica, it will be remembered, was founded by Scipio in 205 B. C. as a refuge for his veterans. During the Middle Ages is served as a quarry for Seville.

STORE'S TELEPHONE MAY BE USED BY ITS CUSTOMERS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—A private telephone in a store may be used by customers or guests of the storekeeper, regardless of any ruling of the telephone company to the contrary, the Public Service Commission ruled.

The opinion was returned in upholding the complaint of Edward Ott against the Johnstown Telephone Company, in appealing from a rule of the company that any subscriber who permits his telephone to be used by a non-subscriber shall have his phone removed. Ott said he did not permit general use of his telephone but confined it to customers, salesmen, etc., as a convenience.

College Students Plan For Christmas Parties

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Sororities and fraternities at Westminster are already planning Christmas parties to be held the latter part of next week. The Christmas recess begins December 15 instead of December 19 due to the fact that Geneva was defeated in football and the U. P. team tied for the tri-tate conference championship.

Sigma Kappa Will have its party in the sorority suite, Hillside, Thursday, December 13. The committee in charge of the party includes Winona Blackwood, Crafton, chairman; Katherine Boobyer, Pittsburgh, and Frances Leohner, New Castle. A Christmas tree and an exchange of gifts among the members of the sorority will feature the party.

Friday, December 14, will be the date for the Alpha Gamma Delta party to be held in the Senior Lodge. Miss Dorothy Dipner, Pittsburgh, president of the sorority has appointed Ruth Lewis, New Castle, and Mary Tea, Pittsburgh, as the committee in charge of arrangements.

Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity will hold its annual dinner dance at the New Castle Field Club Friday evening, December 14. Dr. and Mrs. W. Charles Wallace will be the chaperones. The committee in charge of this function includes Paul Freed, Youngstown; William Atwell, Butler; and John McElderry, Dormont. In all probability, the Penn State band will furnish the music.

Phi Delta Chi sorority has appointed Margaret Brickley, Cresson; Margaret Guy, New Castle, and Jean Carter, Pittsburgh, as a committee to make arrangements for the Christmas party of the group to be held in the sorority suite, Hillside, Friday, December 14.

Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity is also planning its annual dinner dance to be held on Friday evening of next week. Pi Rho Phi, Kappa Alpha Alpha, Delta Phi Sigma, Chi Omega, Epsilon Theta Pi, and Phi Pi Phi fraternities and sororities will also gather in parties and special meeting before the Christmas recess to exchange gifts and enjoy the fellowship of their various groups.

New Bible Edition Published In Paris

New French Text Closely Follows Original Greek; Aids In French Work

(International News Service)

PARIS, Dec. 7.—In spite of the fact that earlier editions of the Bible will probably never be entirely exhausted, new ones are being published every now and then.

An original edition of the New Testament has just come out in Paris and is called a "Bible for the Layman.' The cover bears the quotation from Victor Hugo: "Pythagoras, Epicurus Socrates and Plato are torches; Christ is the daylight."

The wisdom of the greatest of all books is presented in a popular manner to make it attractive to all classes. It is in plain type, with no notes or scholarly introductions but closely follows the original Greek. The editors suggest that English-speaking people read it as an aid to learning French.

Congressional "Wets" Hurl Challenge, Seek Money For Enforcement

Representative La Guardia Asks $27,500,000 For Enforcement Work

Dry Leaders Scoff At Proposals Coming From "Wet" Sector Of House

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A "wet" challenge to raise prohibition law enforcement appropriations to $250,000,000 or more a year and to send agents into every nook and corner of the land to "dry up the country" was thrown into the congressional arena today, aimed at the drys.

The move was scheduled to be translated into formal action by the offering of amendments to the treasury-postoffice bill, sections of which carry $13,500,000 for the prohibition bureau in 1930 and over $14,000,000 for coast guard anti-smuggling work.

Rep. La Guardia (R) of New York, a militant wet, was prepared to offer the amendment with the backing of others of the "wet bloc" of the house.

Drys Are Satisfied.

Dry leaders, however, apparently well satisfied with the present prohibition enforcement by federal authorities, planned to resist any such proposal.

La Guardia was backed in his effort by the statement of Prohibition Commissioner J. M. Doran that it would cost $300,000,000 a year for the government to take over all police work in connection with prohibition. A vast extension of the federal court system also would be required.

"Formerly the drys said that the wets were hampering enforcement by withholding sufficient appropriations; now the shoe is on the other foot," said La Guardia.

"The drys have come to realize the impossibility of enforcing the act and they are afraid to accept a challenge to provide every cent that is necessary. There now is practically no federal enforcement except in a few big cities such as New York or Chicago."

La Guardia declared that the prohibition bureau ought to be before congress demanding 150,000 enforcement agents.

Proposals Scoffed.

Rep. Cramton (R) of Michigan, unofficial dry leader, scoffed at the proposals of the New Yorker.

"The federal field in prohibition law enforcement includes the prevention of smuggling from abroad, the curbing of embassies, the prevention of diversion of industrial alcohol and similar activities," said Cramton.

"The closing of neighborhood bootleggers and the eradication of corner speakeasies is the field in which the state and the city can best operate. The same people pay all the taxes, whether federal, state or city, and any decent scheme of enforcement should be based on the proper discharge of its responsibilities by each arm of these governments.

"It is governmental nonsense to propose an army of federal policemen to cover the same beats in New York that are now covered by officers sworn to enforce the law."

Cramton declared that "such cities as New York, and Chicago cannot expect to permit the criminal bootlegging class to fatten on their games without reaping the harvest of gunmen, racketeering and other crimes which are coming to curse them."

Credit Exchange Elects Officers

John Abel Elected President Of New Castle Credit Exchange For Year

At the meeting of the board of directors of the New Castle Credit Exchange which took place Thursday afternoon at the Elks club on North Mill street, John Abel was elected president of the organization. Mr. Abel, former vice president, succeeded B. F. Butler as president.

Other officers who were elected were W. C. McKeown, president; and J. C. Miner, treasurer.

Ray Hall was reelected as manager of the exchange.

In addition to the election of officers, plans were outlined for the work of the ensuing year by the exchange.

Story Telling Hour At Library Saturday

The weekly story telling hour for elementary girls and boys will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the children's department of the New Castle public library. All children are invited to attend.

Huge Sum For Christmas Here

From an unofficial survey of the pay days in New Castle in the three weeks before Christmas, there should be in circulation here upwards of $1,500,000.00 in money for the Christmas trade.

The Christmas Savings Funds started the total off with over $333,000.00. The school teachers and city employes were paid this week, and the industrial concerns and railroads will pay before Christmas.

Merchants report an increased buying since the loosing of the Christmas savings money, and with the additional hundreds of thousands in salaries and wages, there should be a decided increase between now and Christmas Eve.

Injured Brakeman Reported Improved

The condition of Otto C. Herman of Youngstown, O., a brakeman of a freight crew who was injured Thursday afternoon about two o'clock in an accident in the east yards of the P. & L. E. railroad in this city is improving, Shenango Valley hospital authorities stated today.

Mr. Herman sustained bruises about the chest. An X-ray was taken which revealed that his injuries were not thought to be serious.

Here's First Volunteer To Keep The Elephants

And then the fairy god father came to the aid of the little princess,—but the little princess is a dear little elephant and the fairy god father is William Marquis who owns the blacksmith shop on South street.

Mr. Marquis, on seeing the story in The News concerning the difficulty in obtaining quarters for the four elephants coming here volunteered to keep the elephants down at the shop where he states that sufficient room is obtainable.

This has been the first offer to keep the elephants. It did look as though The Cathedral would have an elephant on their hands but now the situation is changed. If you see an elephant going up street eating a horse shoe,—well don't ask any questions or swear off forever.

Sheriff Leaves To Get Matson

Former Auto Salesman Will Be Brought Back To Stand Trial For Forgery

Sheriff H. M. Reynolds will leave today for Michigan City, Ind., to bring back E. H. Matson, who has been serving a term in state prison on a charge of forgery. The prison authorities will parole Matson to the Pennsylvania authorities.

Matson, who was formerly a well known automobile salesman here, is wanted on charges of forgery committed in this county. The cases against him grew out of forged signatures to legal papers. One of the prosecutors is Joseph Chip, for an alleged forgery committed in March, 1925.

Plan Inquiry Of West's Interests With Utilities

Senate Public Lands Committee Summons West To Appear Saturday Morning

ACTION IS SURPRISE IN SENATE CHAMBER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. — Secretary of the Interior Roy O. West, of Illinois, will face the senate public lands committee Saturday morning to explain his connection with public utilities, it was announced today.

The session was called by Senator Nye (R) of North Dakota, chairman, as soon as President Coolidge submitted West's reappointment for confirmation.

The President's action took the senate by surprise as it had been widely rumored West would be continued in office until March 4 under his original recess appointment. The President, hearing of the rumors, immediately sent his name to the senate. It was said West had asked for this action so he could put a stop to the rumors circulated against him.

The senate inquiry will deal with reports of West's connections with the utility interests owned by Samuel Insull, the Chicago multimillionaire. At one time, Insull employed West's law firm, but according to reports, the connection was ended some time ago.

Administration leaders predicted West's confirmation and were hopeful that a serious row could be averted. There were prospects of confirmation chiefly because the secretary will serve only until March 4.

Critics Hamper Great Britain's Dirigible Plans

Millions Of Public Money Have Been Expended On Airships To Date

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 7. — Bitter criticism is being hurled at the ambitious $35,000,00 scheme to run a regular serice of giant British airships between Europe and the United States in competition with Atlantic liners.

British experts who have studied the results of the double flight of the Graf Zeppelin have formed the conclusion that this pioneer effort has been an almost complete failure.

Great Expense

Millions of pounds of public money have been spent on the British airships, the R 100 and the R 101, which are the forerunners of a big fleet, and grave doubt is now felt as to whether this expenditure has been justified.

E. F. Spanner, of the Corps of Naval Constructors, recently declared that these airships are structurally unsound and that in the first gale "their envelopes will be torn off and blown to ribbons" while in certain weather conditions there "is grave risk of the monster dirigible being forced to descend upon the Atlantic."

Ever since the war Britain has been experimenting with airships at vast cost to the taxpayer and disaster has followed disaster.

R. 3 broke away from its mast.

R. 34 was completely wrecked.

R. 38, which was sold to the United States, was lost with 44 hands.

Points By Critics

Points which are made by the critics of airships are:—

They are at the mercy of winds.

They are extraordinarily difficult to berth.

When an airship makes a landing a crew of several hundred men is needed to hold her down.

"With far less than the money spent on these British super-Zeppelins" says Commander Kenworthy, "we could already have established a regular flying service from London to Sydney (by way of Egypt), Iraq, India and the Strait Settlements, and from Cairo to the Cape of Good Hope."

But despite all arguments and processes the Airship Guarantee Company of Britain is still planning an airship to carry 16 passengers from London to New York and back at a speed of 100 miles an hour with the ability to negotiate any Atlantic storm.

Three Known Dead In New York Blast

All Night Search Of Ruins Of Chemical Plant Fails To Reveal But Three Dead

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Three dead and nine injured was the toll of the explosion in the chemical plant of the Kill-All Disinfecting Company here yesterday, it was announced today after a night search had failed to substantiate reports that other employes were missing. The dead are Harry Freeman, owner of the company, Andrew Avadilo, a junk collector who happened to be at the plant; and an employe.

Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy said he believed an electric spark from a motor had ignited vapors from the chemicals, causing the explosion.

Correct this sentence: "I keep the house at 72" said the woman, "and no member of the family complains of being too warm or too cold."

Kudzinowski Will Get Speedy Trial, To Die In Chair

New York Police To Question Confessed Killer About Other Unsolved Murders

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Peter Kudzinowski, the fiend who confessed in Detroit that he murdered seven-year-old Joe Storeili in a marsh near Jersey City on Nov. 17 last, faces a quick trip to the electric chair following his arrival here, according to Jersey City authorities. They declared that by noon tomorrow the slayer probably would be locked up in a Jersey City jail and indicted for the murder.

Meanwhile New York detectives are preparing to question the degenerate in an effort to connect him with other recent kidnapings and murders here. The disappearances of four other children—Billy Gaffney, Irving Pickelny, Yetta Abramowitz and Harry Weidenfeld—are still unsolved.

Just try these tests!

Two strands of cord exactly the same length. One is Goodyear SUPERTWIST, the other usual standard cord. Tension is applied by these machines.

Snap! the standard cord breaks. SUPERTWIST remains intact.

Let's try it again with fresh strands — same length. Tension is exerted, then relaxed. SUPERTWIST springs back taut like a rubber band. The other cord sags—no elasticity—it's dead.

Goodyear Tires are made of SUPERTWIST.

SUPERTWIST gives

and recovers from road shocks, while ordinary cords react as you have seen.

SUPERTWIST is another exclusive feature of Goodyear Tires.

May we make these tests for you and show you many other reasons why you should always INSIST on Goodyears?

Plan Series Of Dairy Meetings

Dairy Meetings Will Occur On Seven Farms Three Days Next Week

DAIRY SPECIALISTS WILL MAKE ADDRESSES

Plans are complete, state County Agent Harold McCulloch, for a three-day dairy and legume show which will take place throughout the county at various stops on December 11, 12 and 13. The meeting will take place on different farms in every part of the county. Two agricultural specialists will speak at each of the gatherings.

The two men who have been secured to speak by the local county agent are R. H. Olmstead and Nicholas Schmitz, both dairy and feed extension specialists from Penn State College. Mr. Olmstead will speak to the dairymen and farmers on "Dairy Feeding", while Mr. Schmitz will give a series of addresses on "The Growing of Legume Roughage".

The schedule for the three days of meetings follow. These meetings, state the county agent, are open to the general public.

December 11: N. E. Sampson farm, north of Fayette, at 10 a. m. and A. E. McCreary and Sons farm, near Eastbrook, at two p. m.

December 12: J. F. Young, Washington township, at 9:30 a. m.; farm of John Benson, Moravia, one p. m. and at 3:30 p. m. at the E. C. McClelland farm on the Mt. Jackson and Bessemer road.

December 13: 10 a. m., farm of Carl Heckathorn, and at two p. m. at the W. V. Martin farm in Washington township.

Nevada Builds New Gas Cell For Executions

New Building Will Be Of A Non-Porus Plaster, Eliminating Risks

By W. H. BUNTIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CARSON CITY, Nev., Dec. 7. — Despite cries of "barbarism" flung at the State of Nevada after her two executions by means of lethal gas, prison authorities are drawing plans and ordering materials for a new gas cell to be erected in the prison yard in time to exact the death penalty in the case of Bob White, convicted slayer of Louis Lavell.

Since the lethal gas execution became law in 1920, two men, Gee Jon, a Chinese; and Stanko Jukich, a Slav, have had their lives snuffed out by the almond scented gas.

At both executions some concern was felt for the safety of witnesses as the gas chamber at that time was an old stone butcher shop and vegetable storehouse in the prison compound. Fumes leaked out at the eaves, windows and doors.

Build New Chamber

When a woman correspondent fainted after inhaling leaking gas at the execution of Jukich, it was announced that the old building, constructed in 1888, would be torn down and a new chamber erected.

The new building will be of stone with a non-porus plaster lining. Three tanks controlled by three valves will be installed in the adjoining executioner's room. Two of these tanks will contain compressed air and the third will hold the deadly hydrocyanic acid, which when sprayed into the warm death chamber forms into hydrocyanogen, the lethal gas vapor. This system of three tanks is intended to inject the element of chance, as do the three trigger strings on a gallows.

Next Passion Play Scheduled For 1930

Will Open May 15 At Oberammergau; Theater Completely Rebuilt

(International News Service)

OBERAMMERGAU, Dec. 7. — The 1930 performance of the famous Oberammergau Passion Play will begin on May 15 and continue until September 30. One performance a week is planned for May, June and September, and two each week in July and August. Performance will begin at eight a. m. and last until six p. m., with a two-hour pause at noon.

The theater, which has been completely rebuilt and enlarged, seats 5,000, as against 4,200 in the old building. In line with ancient tradition tickets will be sold only to visitors who spend at least one night as paying guests of an Oberammergau citizen, either in a private home or boarding house.

German Hailed As Hero After Trip

Makes Flight From Germany To India In 20 Horse Power Monoplane

(International News Service)

KARACHI, India, Dec. 7. — Baron von Konig, 22-year-old German airman, is being hailed here as one of the wonder pilots of the world.

With only a few hours flying experience, and as soon as he had obtained his pilot's certificate, he took a toothbrush and a towel, and made a non-stop flight of about 900 miles from Berlin to Moscow in 14 hours.

He used a 20 horsepower monoplane, and claims that flight to be a record for the type of machine used.

At Moscow, according to von Konig, it accured to him to see how far his machine would carry him. He landed at Karachi, 2,500 miles distant from Moscow, recently.

He declares he intends to go on until his machine falls to pieces.

Dog Falls From Plane To Stream

Was Not Hurt When Fell 100 Feet From Airplane At North Carolina

(International News Service)

SOUTHPORT, N. C., Dec. 7.—The constabulary here is taking care of a dog that went through an experience never undergone by a dog before.

When a hydroplane passed over Southport at an altitude of a hundred feet or so, an object was seen to fall from it and strike in a small stream. A minute or two later a big German police hound emerged shook himself and went in search of human companionship.

The dog was apparently unhurt by the fall. Local students of canine intelligence think he must have been thirsty and took a chance.

Announce Program For Celebration Of Hadassah Sabbath

Musical Numbers And An Address By Mrs. Levin Of Pittsburgh To Be Features

Program and cultural committees of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah announce the following program in celebration of Hadassah Sabbath to be held Monday evening, December 10 in the Assembly room of Temple Israel.

The opening prayer will be delivered by Rabbi J. B. Menkes of Temple Israel which will be followed by the lighting of Chanakah candles, symbols of the feast of Lights which occurs at this time.

The Chanaka hymn will be sung by Rev. M. Newmark. Mrs. J. B. Menkes will give a reading entitled the "Menorah" written by Herzl, founder of political Zionism. A vocal selection entitled "Waters of Babylon" will be sung by Miss Yettabelle Rosenblum accompanied by Mrs. Eli Kaplan.

Mrs. J. H. Levin of Pittsburgh will make the principal address of the evening. The subject of her address will be "Palestine" in keeping with the occasion.

Violin selections "Hebrew Melodies" by A. Levine and singing of "Hatikvah" Jewish National song led by Rev. Newmark will conclude the evening's cultural program. Refreshments will be served.

MOTHER AND SON FOUND ASPHYXIATED

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Mary Williams, 70, a widow, and her son, Lawson, 45, a pottery worker, were found asphyxiated in their home in Newel, W. Va., last night. Fumes leaking from a rubber hose connection to a gas stove were believed to have caused the deaths, Coroner G. A. Arner of Chester, W. Va., said.

Mrs. Minty Williams, widow of the man, found the body of her husband in a chair near the bed in which his mother, who had been ill, lay. The discovery was made when the wife returned from her employment in a Newell pottery.

State Art Director Visits Schools Here

Dr. Valentine Kirby, director of art in the schools of Pennsylvania, was a visitor at a number of local school buildings Thursday afternoon. Mr. Kirby visited the art departments in the various schools, including the recently opened one at the new George Washington Junior High school.

He was accompanied on the trip around to the schools by Miss Emilie Solomon, art director of the New Castle public schools.

DEATH STOPS HIS TRIP TO ITALY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 7.—On the eve of starting for Italy to see his wife and four children, Leonard Campagna, 47, prominent Italian business man, tripped down a flight of stairs and died from a fractured skull. He had bought his steamship ticket and sent his trunk ahead.

Ram fighting and buffalo fighting is extensively practiced in some parts of India. The shock of two rams meeting in full charge is terrific and there is small doubt that the idea of the ancient battering ram was derived from witnessing these combats.

According to several political ornithologists the final session of the Seventieth Congress is likely to witness a remarkably spirited lame duck fight.—The Washington Evening Star.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It was probably very tasty salad, otherwise the kids would never have bothered it. But because it was so good, the hostess and the guests got nothing but a memory of it.

The salad disappearing act occurred on the East Side last night. One of these bridge parties, which was to be followed with a lunch.

After making the salads the hostess put them out on the porch to cool and some of the boys of that section got hungry about the same time. Anyway, when the time came for serving the lunch, the salads were gone.

That used to be considered an outdoor sport, back in the days when ice cream was made at home. Usually it was put out on the porch and just as usually it was missing when the time for serving it came.

Then there is the one about the courteous policeman who forgot his club. Young lady driving a car turns a corner on the street car rail and the car skidded over into another one parked on the side.

Fenders lock and the lady is stalled there. Along comes the officer, courteous and sympathetic, and with his strong hickory club and an equally strong pair of arms he parts the locked cars. Ten minutes later when the lady drove away he discovered that his club was missing. She returned it later.

There are a number of jobs that look like tough ones to me, but the Salvation Army Christmas solicitors seem to me to have an especially tough one. No matter the weather, you'll find one of them standing on the corner, ringing a bell and waiting for coins to drop into the kettle for the Christmas treat. They get some money, of course, but the average passer-by doesn't bother. But all day long the Sally is there, waiting for the nickels and dimes that will build a Christmas treat for some poor unfortunate youngster.

Jimmy Fletcher is home from Hot Springs. Still in his wheel chair, but still with that contagious smile of his. Back in June he went out to Hot Springs to the government hospital in an effort to get relief. The doctors out there accomplished some things, but he is still confined to the chair. But you would never know it if you heard him talk and didn't see the chair.

TWIN GIRLS BORN, ONE IN NEBRASKA, OTHER IN KANSAS

FALLS CITY, Neb., Dec. 7.—Twin girls were born—one in Kansas and the other in Nebraska—to Mrs. William Schneider of Hiawatha, Kan., yesterday. After the first daughter was born at Hiawatha early in the morning, Mrs. Schneider was brought to a hospital here, where the second daughter was born at noon.

YOUNG HUNTER IS SHOT BY COMPANION

JOHNSTOWN, Dec. 7. — Raymond Bracken, 21, of Belsano, near here, was severely wounded, when a shotgun in the hands of his companion, Paul Rummell, was accidentally discharged while hunting in the woods. Rummell was attempting to climb over a fence when his shotgun discharged, striking Bracken and badly shattering his left foot. Bracken was brought to the Memorial hospital by his father, Thomas Bracken.

NEW CASTLE MAN MISSION SPEAKER

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 7 — "Ezekiel's Valley of Dry Bones," delivered last night by Rev. Walter Emerson McClure, of New Castle was the sermon of the second day of the four-day celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the New Covenant Mission.

The anniversary program is being given in the Second United Presbyterian church.

BIG GAS WELL IN "BIG INJUN" SAND

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 7.—The biggest gas well ever struck in the Big Injun sand in Fayette county has just been brought in on the Lee Porter farm in Luzerne township.

The well has an initial production of 8,000,000 cubic feet and gives every indication of holding closely to that figure. It is the property of John Hackney, who leased the farm last year.

The gas from the production is used by the Greensboro Gas Company. Hackney owns another producing well on his own property nearby.

Many Society Girls Working In Stores

College Education Is Pre-Requisite To Jobs In Some Stores

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Coincident with the revelation that Doria Hope, daughter of the Duke of Newcastle, had worked as a sales girl in a New York department store comes the news that there are many society girls and debutantes working in similar positions for salaries that wouldn't pay their butlers' rent.

The daughters of wealth and luxury are taking to the department store counters because, as Lady Doria Hope explained, they want to be "doing something". And, of course, a business career, regardless of how humble its beginning, is quite alright as far as the four hundred plus is concerned.

A recent inspection of the employment ledger of one of the better stores showed that five social registerites were holding positions as sales girls. All but a very few of the establishment's employes, incidentally, were college graduates.

In many stores a girl cannot obtain work unless she has a college education and has a diploma to prove her qualifications. The store officials say that the attitude of their patrons makes it incumbent upon them to have sales ladies of intelligence, education and cultural background. "In order to sell satisfactorily you must be the equal of the person you are waiting on," one employment manager said in explaining the store's requirements.

Reducing may ruin good looks

Extreme dieting is also dangerous to health

A FAMOUS doctor discusses the effects of extreme weight reducing on the skin. Frequently, he says, "the face takes on an anemic look. Healthy color is absent and a sallow tinge gives the distinct appearance of weariness and age." He says that the loss of only a few pounds by a middle-aged person will often "make the skin of the face wrinkled and baggy." After excessive reducing this is noticeable also on the hands.

Besides, skinniness is unbeautiful. "Essentially," says an eminent doctor, "the curve is fundamental to beauty. . . . The really beautiful consists of that which is healthful and efficient." He goes on to warn us that "The craze for thinness is an attempt to modify the process of nature."

Women to be beautiful should be natural and healthy, and it is dangerous not only to good looks but to health for women, girls or men to try to standardize their weights. Eat plenty of varied nourishing foods. Everyone needs a certain amount of fat in the tissues of the body. Don't forget the value of sugar in making other foods tasteful and enjoyable. There is no substitute for sweetness as a food and flavor. In reducing, decrease the quantity of all foods, but enjoy variety. Health is necessary to beauty. The Sugar Institute

RHEUMATISM IS QUICKLY OUSTED BY NEW KONJOLA

Sufferer Had About Given Up Hope Of Ever Being Well Again —Lauds New Medicine.

MR. MICKE MEEKY

What encouragement and hope are to be found in the endorsements that pour in, telling of the amazing results that follow the use of Konjola, the new medicine. The records of this super-remedy fairly bulge with the glad letters from those who have found in Konjola the one avenue of escape from pain and suffering that have defied and resisted every effort to find relief. Konjola is not sold on promises nor claims, but upon the record of its achievements. Konjola passed the experimental stage years ago. It is a medicine known for what it actually accomplishes, not what it claims to do. The best proof of the astonishing merits of this super-remedy is that it triumphs where all else has failed; it conquers the stubborn cases that have baffled every other medicine and treatment tried; it is victorious where disease has held sway so long that all hope of new health was gone.

Consider, as an example of Konjola's powers, the experience of Mr. Micke Meeky, 531 East Washington street, New Castle. He had his doubts about Konjola's ability to help him, because everything else he tried had failed. But today Mr. Meeky, an expert molder, is among Konjola's most enthusiastic friends.

"No wonder Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends. I can understand this when I consider what this wonderful new medicine did for me. I had rheumatism for months and months, and what I suffered cannot be described. I had pains all over my body; it was hard to tell where I hurt the worst. The agony was particularly keen in my legs and arms, and this made my work a torture. I am a molder, and a molder with rheumatism is entirely out of luck. I took enough medicine to relieve a dozen case of rheumatism, but I was not benefited a bit. Fact is, my pains grew worse day after day, and I was wondering what to do when a friend advised Konjola.

"It seemed like a joke to me to try another medicine, however fine the recommendation, but my friend urged me to take his advice. 'Try just two bottles', he said, 'and then decide what to do.' So I started on the treatment. My friend certainly knew what he was talking about, for before I had finished the second bottle I was so much better that I knew that the finish of my rheumatism was not far distant. Six bottles—a treatment covering six weeks—banished every pain. I feel simply great, and my friend is as happy as I am that he can say to me 'I told you so'. If anyone has any doubts about Konjola, refer him to me. It will be a pleasure to put any sufferer on the right road to health."

Not an unusual case of speedy relief of a stubborn disease, Konjola's files fairly overflow with thousands of endorsements like this. Isn't it reasonable to believe that what Konjola did for Mr. Meeky it will do for you?

Konjola is sold at the Love & Megown drug store, 204 Washington street, New Castle, and by all best druggists in this vicinity.

National Guard Wins Praise In Annual Report

Has Had Progressive Growth Says Major General Creed C. Hammond

DEVELOPMENT APPLIES TO GENERAL TRAINING

Military Man Praises Work Of Guard Aiding Civil Authorities

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The importance of the National Guard as an adjunct to the Regular Army in case of another war, was emphasized in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Creed C. Hammond, chief of the Militia Bureau of the War Department made public recently.

Hammond reported the aggregate strength of the guard as of June 30, last at 181,221, of which the commissioned personnel was 12,244.

"Evidence of the progressive growth increase in efficiency during the period covered by this report," Hammond said, "is readily apparent to those in contract with this component of our national defense force.

All Training

"This applies generally to all phases of training, attendance at armory drills, attendance at field camps and service schools, better armory and housing facilities, and improvement in the care and conservation of clothing and equipment. There have of course, been lapses in efficiency, but such cases are decreasing steadily in number. These exceedingly few cases serve to emphasize the generally stabilized condition of the National Guard as a whole."

Hammond reported, however that in some states there continued to be a lack of proper army and storage facilities, and while conditions will probably never be ideal in this respect, there is continued improvement. The militia chief particularly deplored the armory situation in Washington, the nation's capital, which he described as "far from satisfactory."

An increased armory drill attendance Hammond point to as evidence of interest being manifested in military training by the youth of the nation, and as particularly indicative of the fact that National Guard is being looked upon as a most desirable component of the national defense establishment with which to become associated."

The Militia Bureau, however, found considerable difficulty in providing funds for armory drill pay during the fiscal year. A deficiency appropriation of $986,618 was secured from Congress, and an additional $320,000 was transferred from other bureau funds, to meet a total deficit in drill pay of $1,306,618.

Work Is Reviewed

Hammond reviewed the work of the National Guard throughout the bituminous coal fields of that state and declared its value to the citizens of the various states had been "well demonstrated."

They cited the flood in the New England States and the tireless service rendered by the guard of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts in restoring order and furnishing protection.

The work of the Ohio guard in connection with the shutdown in the union in aiding the civil authorities in not only preventing disorders, but as a relief agency, came in for particular commendation. The Ohio National Guard officers, sent to the fields as observes, anticipated acute suffering among women and children during the winter months, and caused the Governor to issue a proclamation designating the guard as the agency to handle the relief measures.

"This service," Hammond said, "while not in the aid of the civil authorities to preserve order, was an unusual service and created a deep seated feeling of friendliness on the part of both capital and labor."

Savings Increase Despite Holidays

Deposits In Savings Bank Increases Along With Christmas Season

Although Christmas buying season is at hand—in fact, has been at hand for the past two weeks or more—yet there has been a slight increase in the savings department of New Castle's banks, it is reported today by George Kimball, a clerk in one of the city's banks.

In one bank alone, states Mr. Kimball, there has been an increase of $30,000 a week in savings since November 20. What this proves, Mr. Kimball is not prone to state.

"It might mean one of two things," he says, "either that people are not buying Christmas presents as yet this year, or that they are making more money. I believe that it is the latter, for the merchants' deposits are far in advance of what they were at the same time last year. However, the curve of the savings departments of all banks is decidedly on the upward."

German Busses Now Have Buffet Service

Dining, Smoking And No Smoking Rooms Contained On New Bus Line

(International News Service)

DRESDEN, Dec. 7.—The state authorities in charge of autobus line from Dresden to Zinnwald have placed in service an autobus which contains a buffet where cold food is served. There are also smoking and no-smoking rooms, a baggage room and a toilet room. The new autobus has six wheels.

A number of autobuses now in service on different routes in Saxony are capable of a speed of 43 miles an hour.

SHIRT STUD HEIR, SON, IN U. S.

Allan A. Ryan, former Stutz Motors head, whose share in the immense estate of his father, the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, amounted to a set of pearl shirt studs, snapped on his arrival at New York, from Europe, with his son, Allan A. Ryan, Jr. Ryan is said to have been cut off by his wealthy father because of the son's objection to a second marriage.

State Worker To Speak Here

Plans Are Made For Mid-Year Conference Of Sabbath Schools

The regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, met at the Y. W. C. A. parlor Thursday evening with the president, Robt. M. Strickler, Jr., presiding.

The chief matter of discussion was plans for the coming mid-year efficiency conference which is to be held at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday, January 24. Either the State General Secretary, Walter E. Myers, or the state staff representative B. A. McGarvey, will be present and the conference will consist of an afternoon session and an evening fellowship dinner.

An award will be made at the dinner to the district having the largest percentage of officers and departmental superintendents present. At the last year's conference there were three districts having one hundred per cent in attendance, and it is hoped that this year even that high record may be surpassed.

At the afternoon session there will be four conferences, namely: Religious Education in charge of Rev. Ross M. Haverfield; adult, in charge of John W. Owens; young people's in charge of Howard Cox and children's division in charge of Mrs. M. E. Vaughn.

Man Has Heart On Right Side

Nevertheless, Insurance Doctors Recommend Him As Risk

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 7.—Despite the fact that his heart is on the right side of his body instead of the left, Walter Moffatt will live just as long as if the organ were in its normal place.

This assurance was given him by medical practitioners after Moffatt had been examined by them.

INSURANCE MEN ELECT OFFICERS

Blaha Named President Of Underwriters For Coming Year

The regular monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Life Underwriters Association was held last evening at The Castleton. R. S. Koehler, Jr., of Pittsburgh, was the speaker of the evening.

After the address the annual election of officers was held and the following were elected for the coming year:

President, Julius Blaha; vice president, Paul Welch; secretary and treasurer, S. S. Myers; executive committee, Thomas Elliott, W. M. Logue and W. E. Allen.

Sam Lewis, the retiring president, and S. S. Myers, secretary, were each presented with a beautiful watch chain charm on which was engraved "From L. C. L. U. in recognition and appreciation of faithful service."

Fourteen Attend Discussion Group

New Cases Are Assigned At Weekly Meeting Of Chest Round Table

Fourteen representatives of the social service and welfare organizations of New Castle attended a meeting of the Community Chest Round Table discussion group, which took place Thursday afternoon at the headquarters of the Associated Charities, 8½ East street.

Routine business was discussed at the meeting, and new cases were assigned to the various agencies. Organizations represented were the State Department of Health, the Y. W. C. A., the City Rescue Mission, the Lawrence County Poor District, the American Red Cross, the Carnegie Steel company, the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, the Salvation Army, the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, and the Associated Charities.

"No More Getting Up Nights for Me" Says Edith Joor

Kidneys Were Getting Awful Weak —Back Ached—Finds Matamel As Good As Everyone Says.

EDITH JOOR, R. N.
Who Endorses Matamel.

Looking as peppy as ever, charming Edith Joor, R. N., who resides at 948 Chestnut St., this city, stated here today that she can thank that Mexican tonic, MATAMEL, for her wonderful health. As she puts it herself:

"My back was just stiff with pain. I thought it never would stop aching. It made a wreck of me. I was afraid I would have to give up my job. I had to get up many times nightly for bladder relief. The Doctor said this was due to an over-acid condition in my kidneys. I was in great misery at such times from the scalding pain. To make matters worse, I had high blood pressure, I had constant headaches. I got out of breath easily. My legs and feet hurt so I could hardly stand. They were swollen to twice their size. The dull pain was unbearable. I could hardly drag myself out of bed in the morning. I was so dead tired and weak. Sleep didn't seem to rest me as it should. I tried everything to get rid of my constipation. Nothing cured me. I got so bad unless I took a very strong physic I could not move my bowels. I had constant indigestion and gas, bad taste in my mouth and foul breath. No appetite. Headaches were my middle name. I woke up with them and went to bed with them. I've struggled through my work feeling as though my head would burst.

"None of the medicines I tried helped my case. Then one day I learned about Matamel and how it contains the sap of the Mexican Maguey Plant, NOT A DRUG. It has done wonders for me. I have gotten rid of that awful ache in my back. What a glorious relief. Do I sleep all night now? I'll say I do. I can't remember when last I had to get up at night. I seem to get more benefit out of my sleep, too, because I feel so much stronger when morning comes. Have no more trouble with my feet being swollen. My shoes fit me once more. And best of all, the aches in my legs and the soreness in my joints have disappeared. I feel all rested-up when morning comes, none of that deadly fatigue. Now my bowels work fine. Matamel got them regular again. That bloated up feeling has disappeared. My skin is clearer. My breath is sweet and clean, I have not had a headache for weeks.

"I have never before given my name to advertising any medicine, but the result I have received from Matamel has been so remarkable that I owe it to others troubled as I was to tell my story."

Reading what Matamel has done for others will never help your case. The only way you can get its benefits is by taking it as the people you read about have done. Decide now to give your system the help of Matamel. Why not call today at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St. Diet book also given.

Volunteers, Hunting Police Chief Slayer Kill Innocent Man

(International News Service)

CHICAGO HEIGHTS, Ill., Dec. 7.—Volunteer policemen, searching the highways for the slayers of Chief of Police Le Roy Gilbert of South Chicago Heights, killed by gangsters as he was sitting in his bungalow last night, today killed a motorist accidentally and narrowly missed killing another man.

The innocent victim of the gangster hunt was Thomas Scanlon, 23, who was shot in the chest and fatally wounded when he disregarded a command to halt his automobile, shouted by four men who lined the roadway. A passing motorist took Scanlon to a hospital but he was dead when he arrived.

C. F. Horn, Chicago Heights automobile dealer, narrowly escaped a similar fate. He and his companion, John Dunn, were driving slowly when the same four men with shotguns, commanded the machine to stop. Believing they were holdup men, Horn stepped upon the accelerator and escaped a hail of bullets, none of which struck the two men.

Elks To Give Coal To Poor

Will Be Part Of Christmas Program Of Present Season

Sol Davis, general chairman of the Elks Christmas committee, today stated that plans for the distribution of necessities to the needy of New Castle before Christmas day are under way. Davis stated that Fred Rentz, president of The News had presented the Elks committee with a check for $500 which is to be used for the purchase of 100 tons of coal to go to the less fortunate in life.

Davis announced that on the night of December 20 a dance would be held by the B. P. O. E. at their ballroom. The public will be invited and the receipts will go into the fund which will purchase necessities for the worthy.

During December 23 the Elks Christmas committee will be present at the Elks, where persons who may be missed can visit the committeemen. They will be given coupons which will be good for shoes, underwear and other clothing for children. The coupons will be accepted as cash by merchants.

Divorce Refused Chas. A. Jones

Court Does Not Believe That Testimony Established Adultery Grounds

In an opinion handed down this morning Judge James A. Chambers refuses a divorce to Charles A. Jones from his wife Agnes Jones. The application was made on the grounds of adultery. The couple were married in 1900.

In the spring of 1924 Mrs. Jones and W. J. Murphy entered into a partnership agreement to run a confectionery and lunch counter over by the Erie railroad. Mr. Jones opposed the proposition but Mrs. Jones went ahead with it. It was claimed that while they were engaged in the confectionery Murphy introduced Mrs. Jones to friends as Mrs. Murphy. It was also alleged in the trial of the case that Murphy and Mrs. Jones had been together outside of their business place but the court does not believe that the grounds are sufficient to grant a divorce for adultery.

Let Contract For Garage

Storage Garage For City To Be Erected; Haug Gets Award

Council met formally in city hall today and let a contract to Louis Haug for the construction of a garage for the storing of garbage collection trucks at a bid of $2,392.95.

The city engineer reported that Haug was the lowest responsible bidder.

When the bids were presented several of them did not comply with the public advertisement and did not enclose bids.

Today Solicitor White ruled that council could not legally grant a contract under such conditions.

The solons then let the contract to Haug after the necessary legislation had been put through.

When the bids were opened they were considered.

Today the action was repealed and a motion was passed rejecting all bids which had not been accompanied by checks.

West Siders To Have Tree

Parent-Teachers association of the West Side today is enthusiastically raising small donations so that the west side can have a community Christmas tree at the West Side park.

Contributions are necessary to purchase illuminating features and the parents-teachers have taken over the movement and it appears as though it will be put over successfully.

Non-Support Cases Are Up For Hearing

Long Lists Are Taken Up By Judge Hildebrand And Chambers Today

Desertion and non-support cases are being heard in court today by Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers.

In the case of Helen Koylowski against Nick Koylowski, for support of their four minor children Judge Hildebrand made an order that Koylowski pay $25 per month.

Other cases scheduled before Judge Hildebrand are cases of the Commonwealth against Robert H. Woodruff, Patsy Latlanzi, John Pologi, Andy Guerlock, Peter Palladino, Charles Hudish, Jr., Joseph Felice and George Shook.

Before Judge Chambers the case against Charles A. Jones was dismissed upon payment of the costs by defendant. The case against Roy M. Connor was settled by agreement of defendant to pay an allowance for children.

When the case of H. R. Boots was called before Judge Chambers, Boots failed to respond, and a process was issued for him.

Other cases before Judge Chambers are Commonwealth against Harold R. Clark, Earl Fleeger, F. J. Connor, Charles Robertson, Victor Korala, Joseph Bogac and Mike Davis.

PREPARE SEWER PLANS

Council today in meeting at city hall authorized the city engineer to prepare plans for a sanitary sewer in Vogan street between East Washington and Cascade streets.

Mark Routes Through City

U. S. And State Highway Routes Through New Castle Being Marked

Signs designating the various United States and state highways that pass through this city are now being put in place by the police department under the supervision of Captain J. Ed. Elder and Officer Charles Longstreth, it was announced today by Chief of Police C. C. Horner.

These signs are required of the city within its own limits and several hundred new signs have been secured for the purpose. Good progress is being made on United States route 422, extends from the city line on Butler avenue via that street to East Washington to West Washington, then to Greenwood avenue, to State street and to the city line.

The latter part of the route within the city has been changed slightly. Instead of going up North Jefferson street from the public square to Grant street and then to State street, it has been taken through the public square on out West Washington street to the new improved part of Greenwood avenue, which connects up with State street. It is a much more direct and better route.

The designation of this route is "US" with the number on it. The designation of the state highways is a sign keystone shaped with the number on it.

The state roads to be designated through the city are: No. 388 on East Washington street, forming a junction with the U. S. No. 422 at Butler avenue and then following the same course through the city; No. 108 which comes in Croton avenue and joins U. S. No. 422 and Pennsylvania No. 388 on East Washington street at Croton avenue, and No. 18, which extends out Wilmington avenue and the Wilmington road.

Where the various routes join one of the others or branch out from them, the signs are being placed in such a way as to give the traveler the proper direction in which to go.

It is hoped that all the signs will have been put in place in a short time.

C. Of C. Discuss State Gas Tax

Chamber Of Commerce Board Of Directors Meet Thursday At Elks Club

Nine members of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce board of directors attended the meeting which took place Thursday at the Elks Club on North Mill street. James W. Cole, secretary, reported on the invitation extended to the Legion convention and his surmise as to the impression that New Castle made.

The board of directors cast their ballots and went on record as being in favor of the new plan for redistricting of Chamber of Commerce territories.

A general discussion took place concerning the Pennsylvania gasoline tax and the disbursement of funds. The directors decided that the meeting immediately prior to Christmas would be called at the discretion of President Ira Ramsey.

First Vice President W. J. Offutt, in the absence of President Ramsey, took charge of the meeting. Other members present were T. W. Dickey, A. C. Hoyt, T. H. Hartman, F. L. Rentz, J. K. Love, W. F. Moody and Secretary J. W. Cole.

Teece Bring Down Running Doe With Rifle At 400 Yards

Returns From Successful Hunt In Clearfield County Wilds

S. C. Teece and son, Edward, have returned from Clearfield county where they went to hunt deer. Mr. Teece was successful in bringing down a doe, which he says that he shot at about 400 yards while it was on the run. This would indicate that when Mr. Teece takes his rifle in hand the deer may as well surrender. The doe was shot through the forequarters near the heart. It was brought home on the running board of the Teece machine.

Councilmen Almost Decide To Board Four Elephants In Old City Fire Station

P-s-s-h! If a man, attired immaculately appears at a front door today, doffs his "Iron Mike" and asks: "Is your garage heated?"—be careful.

He wants to "park" a quartette of jovial elephants, playful but tricky ponies and perhaps a lion or a couple of other animals of the jungle for a week inside the garage.

Should the person say "No, we have no heat today" shut the door, the man will replace his hat on his head, shake it dolefully and meander.

And thus the situation stands. Garages everywhere, barns all o'er the town but no place for elephants which must have heat, even as you and I.

Today persons affiliated with the circus which is to show at the Cathedral visited city council and asked were it not possible to house the elephants and ponies in the fire house abandoned when the apparatus was moved to South Jefferson street.

Councilman Reeves, desirous to play the Samaritan to a couple of big lonely elephants transmitted the request. Council dug their fingers through their hair and then recalled that such might not be the proper thing to do.

"I would be reluctant to do this" said Councilman Tyler.

"It won't hurt to put a couple of elephants and ponies in the East street building. The floors are of concrete and there is heat—something elephants must have" said Reeves.

"I'd like to help, so I will adopt the baby elephant and take him home with me" said Councilman D. O. Davies but on late advice it is said other members of the Davies family objected.

In fact it is said on semi-official advice that when D. O. appeared at home today the door was opened three inches and a person said in a feminine voice: D. O. you can come in but don't you bring any elephant baby with you."

Councilman Burns remarked that he had been informed that when firemen occupied the building they complained of cold and said the heat was not sufficient. "Elephants feet are much bigger and they may get cold," he said.

Just then appeared Solicitor Robert White. Mr. White it is known is the legal adviser of the city. His advice saves the city money and he was paged fast and quick.

"Can we put elephants in the East street fire station?"

"No, sir unless you wish to assume the risk of their doing injury to some one and I do not believe it feasible to rent the East street fire station for this purpose."

"Dog-gone it!" mused Mr. Reeves who is trying to help the people who have a big problem—in fact a couple of big problems on their hands. "There goes the 'home' for elephants."

But seriously folks there's a big problem to be solved and that is "Where can a quartette of pachyderms be quartered for a week?"

WE REJOICE IN THE HARD LUCK OF THOSE ABOVE US

The meanest of all vices, and the commonest, is envy.

It is so mean that the Ten Commandments place it on a par with adultery and murder.

If a man will go to hell for killing another, then assuredly he will go to hell for being envious—for the ancient law makes one sin as offensive as the other.

If this is true—and if it isn't true, there is no truth in the Bible—hell will contain most of the people you know. It will seem much like the old home town.

Almost everybody is envious. Even your friends are envious of your prosperity and good fortune and draw away from you as you climb higher, and almost without exception they secretly rejoice when you lose money or fall upon misfortune.

Find a rich man and you will find a lonely one. Envy crosses the street to avoid him or greets him coldly.

And envy that has soured and turned to malice invariably causes a community to rejoice when the local millionaire loses his wad.

Ah, well; if the envious go to hell, the devil isn't very particular about his company.

At least one district campaign manager is still at it. He has a job in a glue factory where he can stir up something disagreeable.

This will make the ninth Christmas in nine years that Dad has said: "There won't be much Christmas for this family this time."

Recreation Plans Are Discussed

Members Of Board Consider Gaston Park And Junior High Grounds

Members of the Municipal Recreational board met Thursday afternoon and discussed the development and advancement of recreational facilities, principally Gaston park and the school acreage about George Washington Junior high.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools was present and invited the members of the board to be luncheon guests December 20. Several prominent citizens will also be invited and during the luncheon recreation will be a topic.

The recreation board is composed of City Councilmen Tyler and Davies, School Directors Roy Hazen and Mrs. J. G. Northdurft and William J. Offutt, who is the civilian member of the recreation board.

Santa Claus Is Not Always Fat

Chicago Has Pathetic Rush For Santa Claus' Jobs Each Christmas Time

COLORS ARE NOW TATTOOED ON LIPS

By IONE QUINBY
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The roly-poly Santa Claus representatives who overflow the city at Christmas time are not as jovial and toy-prosperous as they look. Without the whiskers that give them a benign, grandfatherly look, many of them appear sallow and hard-up for smiles. Most of them are thin and unprosperous looking underneath their camouflaged tummies.

Tragedy, unemployment and continuous hard luck drives these men into their holiday role of entertaining the kiddies. Particularly the department store and Loop Santas, who take on the Santa Claus roles to pay their way for a few weeks, are down-and-outers, glad to assume any kind of a costume to make an honest dollar. The red flannel exterior, warming to the eye, is substituted for a shabby suit and a few dollars reimbursement at the end of each day.

There is a pathetic rush for Santa Claus jobs. When the season shifts and the department stores start putting holly in the windows and the general holiday whoopee starts, applications for Santa roles begin to pour in. When the season gets in full swing, several hundred Santas are stationed in various spots about the Loop to take in money for charities or to innoculate folks with the Christmas spirit.

* * *

A Santa Claus of the Loop went through his role last year with a breaking heart. He was down and out and his wife was suing him for divorce. He took the Santa Claus job as a temporary tide-over position. Stationed in front of a large department store on State street, his job was to chuck the kiddies under the chin and ask them what they wanted for Christmas. One afternoon three youngsters under eight came along with their mother. With awed glances they stopped and shook hands with the bewhiskered, jolly old Santa. He asked them what they wanted for Christmas, and they said "We'd like our daddy to come home." But with that their mother yanked them on. They were his own kiddies!

One of the interesting places for visitors in the future will be the basement of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick's new home which, it is rumored, will replace the present stone house on Lake Shore drive. The basement will be made into a museum to be open daily to the public, and will be filled with the choicest of Mrs. McCormick's paintings, rugs, laces, art objects and other rare things in the possession of the daughter of one of the world's richest men.

The new electrical fad of tattooing color and bow-like beauty onto lips is spreading. No less than 20 were tattooed here by one tattoo artist last week. And by this, we take it, there won't be any more transposing of red cupid bows after a pleasant evening has been had by all.

When Rudyard Kipling was asked for his autograph he sent back word through his secretary that the request would be granted upon receipt of $10. Which brings to mind the query, "Just what is a name worth?"

DECORATOR HERE TO BEGIN WORK AT JUNIOR HIGH

Joseph E. Sturdy, head of the Joseph E. Sturdy company of Chicago, interior decorators, arrived in the city yesterday to begin work of decorating the new auditorium at the George Washington Junior High School. Mr. Sturdy has gained a wide reputation for his works along this line.

Previous to Mr. Sturdy's arrival here a number of assistants had arrived from Chicago to begin the painting work. The prime coat in the auditorium has already been finished.

Following the decorating of the auditorium, workmen will lay the rubber-stone flooring and then install the seats. It is believed that all work will have been completed by February 1, 1929.

Appear In College One-Act Play Tonight

JAMES BLACKWOOD.

KENNETH HEMER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Among the 13 Westminster students who will take part in the Bells and Buskin production of three one-act plays tonight are James Blackwood of Cleveland and Kenneth Hemer of New Kensington.

Both these young men, members of the junior class and of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, take parts in "Jazz and Minuet," a one-act comedy.

Bull-baiting and bear-baiting were among the old sports of England and were an institution in their way no holiday being complete without its baitings. In the 17th century bull-baiting was obligatory—that is a butcher was obliged by law to bait a bull before killing it, the idea being that it improved the flesh. The bull was atached to a large stake and the dogs were loosed on him in turn seizing the bull about he head and the one who retains his hold longest received a prize or won a sweepstake for his master.

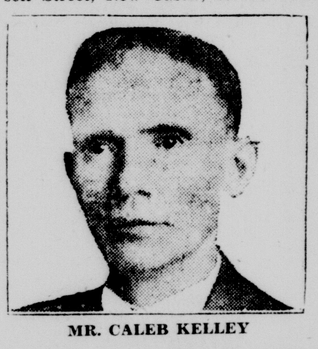
New Castle Man Surprised Way It Helped Him

Says New Medicine, Ten Herbs, Relieved Stomach Trouble And Nervousness.

"Ten Herbs has benefited me so much that I have no doubt that your medicine would be a boon to many others," was the recent statement of Mr. Caleb Kelley, 324½ South Jefferson Street, New Castle, to the Ten



MR. CALEB KELLEY

Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., this city, where he is daily demonstrating this new natural medicine to crowds of men and women.

"I suffered with my stomach for a long time," continued Mr. Kelley, who is a tin worker. "My digestion was very poor. Food soured in my stomach, filling me with gas. I was troubled with constipation, and my body was full of aches and pains. The pains were very intense in my hips and knees, so that after walking a short distance I would be 'all in' and have to stop and rest before going farther.

"I read in the papers how Ten Herbs had benefited persons whom I knew, so I bought a bottle for a trial. I am surprised at the results. Gas no longer forms in my stomach and it is now a pleasure to eat. My nerves are quiet, and my general health has been greatly improved. Pains gradually left my hips and knees, so that I can walk without suffering like I used to. I feel much better than I have for some time. I shall continue using Ten Herbs awhile longer, for I feel sure it will soon restore me to normal health. I heartily recommend your medicine to other sufferers."

Do not experiment with medicines. Use Ten Herbs, the famous herbal compound that is creating a sensation throughout this section, because it is giving astonishing results in cases of stomach, liver and bowel disorders. Ten Herbs also benefits the kidneys, and its wonderful natural ingredients cleanse the entire system, eliminating poisonous waste matter and impurities.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Anthracite Tax In Pennsylvania May Be Dropped

Governor Fisher Backs Legislative Program Which May Drop Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—Residents of other states who blame the high price of anthracite on the tax imposed by Pennsylvania on that product may get relief after the next session of the legislature, which convenes in January.

Governor John S. Fisher has promised organizations active to secure repeal of the tax that in any program of possible tax reduction the anthracite levy will be the first considered. With the governor's backing and a large delegation in both houses of the legislature interested in repeal such a step is possible.

Effect on Prices

Whether or not such repeal will mean much change in retail prices is problematical. The chances are that the average buyer will benefit but little.

Even in Pennsylvania few people remember that the tax is but one and one-half per cent of the value of the coal ready for market and at the mouth of the mine. Freight charges and other handling more than doubles the cost of the coal at the mine. The average tax is a little more than 10 cents on each ton.

When the tax first became effective anthracite buyers found that prices were boosted from 25 to 50 cents a ton. The operators said that part of the increase above the tax was due to the additional bookkeeping with which they had been saddled by the state.

Engineer Jailed After Train Wreck

Doctor Says Engineer Of Chicago And Illinois Train Had Been Drinking

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—William Campbell, engineer of a Chicago and Eastern Illinois passenger train which crashed into a fast mail and express train here Thursday, slightly injuring the engineer and fireman and shaking up 50 passengers, was lodged in jail this afternoon on charges of criminal negligence.

Dr. C. A. Donovan, city police physician, after treating Campbell's injuries, said that Campbell had been drinking excessively.

The fireman, J. C. Crouch of Danville, Ill., was cut and bruised. Both trains were derailed. Campbell insisted that the air brakes on his train "froze" and that he was unable to bring the train to a halt.

Bradford, Halifax, Bolton and Rochdale important cities in northern England have lost in population in the past 16 years.

Traffic Court Judges To Learn To Drive Autos

Austrian Solons Must First Know How To Handle Own Cars

(International News Service)

VIENNA, Dec. 7.—Austrian judges having to deal with cases concerning automobile driving (especially automobile accidents) will be taught at the expense of the state how to drive a car before commencing to condemn the ever-increasing number of auto criminals.

This wise decision was announced by the Austrian ministry of justice, which, however, refused to answer the question whether the same theory will be applied to other sorts of crime. Will the judge be taught how to drink before passing sentence in case of a drunkard, or will he take lessons in love before judging a seducer? These are lively discussed questions now in Vienna.

Old Spruce Log Is Used For Violins

Two Centuries Old, Log Will Be Used To Make Tops For Violins

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 7.—A spruce log which apparently has lain for more than two centuries in the upper Quinalt forest may be used in making violins. Publicity given the ancient spruce when it was discovered recently on the ranch of R. E. Voorhies, near Haquiam, Wash., has attracted the attention of at least one violin maker.

Although spruce is not known as particularly resistant to decay, the big log, when discovered, had but a thin layer of rotted wood around an apparently sound core. It is reported to be in almost the same condition as a newly felled tree while at the same time huge trunks which have overgrown it, testify to its extreme age.

Samples of the wood are being forwarded to Clyde Hicks of Nampa, Idaho, who requested several pieces for experimentation in violin tops.

As wood used in making violin parts is held to improve sound reproducing qualities with age, it is believed possible that the spruce may prove valuable in making fine instruments.

Gila Monsters May Invade California

Daming Of Colorado River May Bring About Migration Thinks Zoologist

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 7—The Gila monsters of Arizona may pay California a visit as an interesting result of the damming of the Colorado River, such as is proposed in the great Colorado irrigation project, according to Professor Joseph Grinnell, director of the museum of vertebrate zoology of the University of California.

The effect on animal life below the proposed dam has been the object of a study by Prof. Grinnel. With the river barrier gone, Gila monsters of Arizona, heretofore strictly limited to the territory east of the Colorado, will be able to migrate into California, he says. Also, desert tortoises, found only on the California side of the river, will have access to Arizona.

Prisoners In Jail Robbed By Embezzler

Budapest Convict Defrauds Mates By Means Of Forged Receipts

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Dec. 7.—Being in jail could not prevent Joseph Janossy to carry on his trade as an embezzler. Janossy, who was formerly an accountant in Szolnok, was serving a five-year sentence for appropriating fraudulently a large sum intrusted to him.

For good behavior he was employed in the prison office as a bookkeeper during the latter time of his penalty. Here he found an opportunity to return to his true vocation and by the aid of forged receipts he defrauded his fellow convicts and the cashier of the prison of several hundred dollars.

He now has to serve two additional years in prison.

Italy Would Corral More 1929 Tourists

ROME, Dec. 7.—A million foreign tourists during 1929 is the goal that the Italian agencies catering to visitors have set for themselves for the coming year.

Statistics for 1927, just being brought to completion, indicate that between 800,000 and 900,000 visitors crossed the borders or debarked at Italian ports within the twelvemonth. The figures for 1928 will, it is conceded, be appreciably lower, owing to the excessive heat of the past summer and also because of the stabilization of the lire a year ago scaring many tourists.

It is estimated that Italy's tourist trade during the past three years has brought her something like an average of $150,000,000 annually.

Before the war the country could never count on an annual foreign influx of over 600,000. By 1928 this number had jumped to 700,000. The "Holy Year" of 1925, marked by numerous Catholic pilgrimages, brought the total to 1,100,000, the banner year in sheer point of numbers in the history of the nation.

Religious Census Plans Complete

Survey Of City To Be Taken Beginning On December 17

VISITATION CAMPAIGN STARTS DECEMBER 31

REV. S. B. COPELAND,

Chairman of Survey Committee

What is hoped to be the most thorough religious census ever taken in the city of New Castle, will be made December 17 to 21. This survey will be under the direction of a representative of Dr. Kernahan, who is without question the leading director of visitation evangelism in America.

The headquarters for this survey director and his assistant will be at the Y. M. C. A. The city has been divided into four districts, with district headquarters at the following places:

1. Highland U. P. church, with Rev. W. E. McClure, as director. He will be responsible for all territory north of Lincoln avenue.

2. First Baptist church, with Rev. A. M. Stump, as director. The territory to be surveyed: all streets west of Neshannock creek, and South of Lincoln avenue, including West Side.

3. Headquarters at the Second U. P. church, with Rev. Samuel Maxwell as director. All streets east of Neshannock creek as far as Lutton street.

4. District headquarters, Third U. P. church, Rev. Jesse Porter, director. All territory east of Lutton street, including Butler road and East New Castle.

Three Hundred Workers

More than three hundred people will engage in this survey, as one hundred fifty workers will be on the field the entire time, representing the different churches of the city. These workers will work on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, from nine to twelve a. m., and one to five p. m. At the close of the survey, a complete report will be made and the prospect cards will be given to the various churches. These prospect cards will serve as a responsibility roll during the "Visitation Campaign."

Each district director will have a squad director for every five workers in the field. These squads will be assigned to different streets and blocks for the survey.

The first meeting of the workers will be held on Sabbath afternoon, December 16, at 3:00 p. m., in the First Presbyterian church. These workers are now being signed up. The workers' chart for the individual church together with the names and addresses of all the workers are to be in the hands of the district directors not later than 9:00 a. m., Monday, December 10. This is essential in order to give the committee time to make assignments of church workers to the headquarters at which they will be expected to report on Monday, December 17, at 9:00 a. m.

Much Enthusiasm

This campaign is being entered into with great enthusiasm because of the wonderful success which has attended Dr. Kernahan, in his method of work in other cities. During the last few years in which he has been using this method, he has revealed to the churches, through the survey in the cities where he has worked, 229,374 prospects. Out of this number 157,466 decisions have been secured. Last year in East Liberty the survey revealed 3,142 prospects, and 1,684 decisions were made. In our neighboring city of Alliquippa 1,356 prospects were discovered through the survey, 782 decisions were made. In Youngstown, O., 3,957 prospects were found, 2,558 decisions were made. In Altoona the survey revealed 3, 974 prospects and 2,216 decisions were made.

Dr. Kernahan is booked now for nearly two years ahead. Youngstown, O., must be contented with putting on the survey this year with one of his assistants as director. This is striking evidence of their enthusiasm in the methods employed by Dr. Kernahan. Dr. Kernahan will arrive in the city, Saturday, December 29th, and will remain for two weeks.

Hi-Y Clubs Go To Conference

Some 25 young men, members of the East Brook and New Castle Senior Hi-Y Clubs left at noon today en-masse for Coraopolis where they will attend the Older Boys' Conference which is taking place in city churches there today, Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday afternoon, the East Brook and New Castle clubs will play a basketball game as a part of the athletic program for the conference.

Director to Comic

Many comedians have turned from acting to directing their own pictures, but Jerry Drew, the high-hat comic, reversed the order. Jerry used to direct comedies and now plays in them. He is one of the most promising of the newer funsters.

Aids "Witch" Hunt

Twelve-year-old Elizabeth Curry, of York, Pa., who, police say, has furnished them with valuable clue in "witch doctor" slaying of Nelson D. Rehymeyer, wealthy recluse. She told of seeing mysterious elderly man with her brother John, 14, shortly before the murder.

One-Act Plays To Be Presented In Community House Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Bells and Buskin, dramatic fraternity at Westminster, will present a program of three one-act plays in the New Wilmington Community House tonight.

Professor A. T. Cordray, instructor in public speaking, is in direct charge of the productions, but Lois Wagoner, Sharon; Muriel MacLean, Buffalo, N. Y., and Ann Colman, New Wilmington, are the student directors for the plays.

"A Marriage Proposal," directed by Lois Wagoner, will have in its cast Virginia Reeher, New Castle; William Hamilton, New Wilmington, and Marshall Fis'er, Boardman, O.

Ann Colman will direct "Jazz and Minuet", with Isabelle Hitchings, Warren, O.; Lois Wagoner, Sharon; Elizabeth Gilmor, Houston; James Blackwood, Cleveland, O., and Kenneth Dyer, New Kensington, in the cast.

"The Romance of the Willow Pattern," directed by Muriel MacLean, will have Theda Hartwell, New Wilmington; Wilbur Baldinger, Butler; Luther Braham, Butler; James Guthrie, Butler, and Dorothy Wray, Sharon, in the cast.

The dramatic fraternity recently purchased special lighting equipment for the stage. When the little theatre in Old Main Memorial is available, additional lighting equipment and stage properties will be purchased by the organization.

Leper Vanishes When Released From Hospital

Believe That Hermit Leper Has Again Gone To Mountain Fastness

By HENRY LESESNE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 7.—Shunned by the world for years, "Old" John Early, the ubiquitous leper, now that his ailment has been arrested and he is free to roam where he pleases, wants to hide from the "outside world."

Released from the walls of the U. S. Leprosarium at Carville, La., from which he escaped so many times, Early has literally vanished, so far as the "outside world" is concerned. He left the Carville institution as soon as he was free, but just where he went is not known.

Back To Mountains

Persons who have known Eearly for years expressed the belief that he headed immediately for Polk County, North Carolina, where he owns a small tract of land hidden away from the rest of the world by his native mountains.

Yet it has not been established that Early has returned to his boyhood home. Maybe he has; maybe he hasn't. He is reported in several scattered parts of the country, including the distant Pacific Coast.

It was regarded as likely among people who know him that Early has slipped into Polk county without being noticed and has gone back to live on his little isolated tract of land without anyone being the wiser.

That's what happened the last time Early made a sensational escape from the Carville leprosarium. It was known he always went back to Polk county when he escaped, yet it was weeks before it could be definitely established that the leper had returned to the familiar hills he used to roam as a boy.

Escaped Many Times

Folks in Polk County don't remember how many times Early escaped since he was placed in the hands of U. S. health authorities. Perhaps five, or six or seven times. Anyhow, he always escaped every year or so to come back to his mountain home and his folks.

Early caught the dreaded disease soon after he enlisted in the army as a mere boy, and went to the Philippines.

The last time Early made a getaway and went back to his native North Carolina, his friends petitioned the authorities to let him remain. They pointed out he "stayed to himself and didn't hurt anybody." But finally he was located and the federal authorities came and took him back to Carville.

Below stands the upright TORRID ZONE all steel furnace which does the heating. It is shown stripped of its casing for examination. There are no cemented joints between cast iron sections to loosen and leak gas. No cast iron fire bowl to crack and make it necessary to tear down casing and pipes. When installed the casing encloses the heat generating furnace so as to cause the warm air to rise to the rooms above.

NEWSPAPERMAN STUFF

Several months ago The N. Y World startled the trade and publi by making scoopee with the most sensational sex story ever printed in a standard size daily paper. It was the first eugenic baby yarn, a yarn which if published by a tabloid would have attracted frowns and rebukes from the more conservative sheets.

But what we started out to report after all these months, is that the World got its "tip" on the story from a member of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which is a cousin to the New York paper. In other words, the hottest of the year's New York tales was discovered by a lad from the "Show-Me" state while in St. Louis!

Farm Relief Issue Vital

Everyone In United States Protected Except Farmer And "White Collar"

PROTECTION SPREADS TO ALL PROFESSIONS

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Agricultural relief is vital, and that speedily, or America's tillers of the soil are doomed to degenerate into a mere peasantry—so our farmers' friends in congress have been telling us for a long time; are telling us now more emphatically than ever.

Nobody is mentioning that our white collar class needs relief, too—but it does need it, or the Lord knows what it will degenerate into—a bread line, is my best guess.

It is the white collar folks' own fault that they are wholly unrepresented in Washington. They ought to organize and elect a bloc, to holler like blazes for their rights. As one of them, I see their danger—and my own.

Oh! brother "white collar-ites!"—let us take counsel together. Otherwise, what must happen to us will be a plenty.

* * *

In the good old days, when knighthood was in flower, the robber barons were the only protected class. They protected themselves in suits of boiler plate. So clad, they went out and levied tribute on everybody else—with swish of sword and jab of lance and wallop of battleaxe.

It was a great system for the barons then; tributaries were so numerous, and there were so few protected barons to divide the tribute up among.

But presently the honest burghers of the cities began to protect themselves, too. They built high walls, hired some men-at-arms, invented guns, and not only stopped paying any more tribute to the barons, but launched out as tribute-collectors on their own account—of course, from people who were as yet unprotected.

* * *

Undoubtedly the barons denounced this as "economically unsound."

Besides taking the burghers out of the class of tribute-payers, and thus reducing the total amount of tribute, the remaining tribute had to be split more ways—the barons' way and the burghers' way. Naturally, the shares were smaller all 'round.

Despite the objections to protection's spread, beyond the ranks of those who already were enjoying it, it did spread considerably.

To what extent it finally spread is immaterial—one thing is evident—if it had spread until everybody was protected, tribute would have been cut off completely and protection would have benefited nobody.

But in the meantime, the larger the number of tribute-collectors and the smaller the number of tribute-payers, the harder it must have been on the latter.

* * *

Is the analogy clear?

Everybody in the United States is now protected except the farmer and the white collar worker.

The farmer is the last group—but one.

Protect him, and the white collarite lugs the whole load. Let him demand his share at that stage of the game, and even if it were possible to grant it to him, it could only be done by protecting everybody; hence nobody.

* * *

High protectionists — seemingly meaning 99 and a fraction per cent of all Americans—are not going to like this illustration, I know.

Nevertheless, as an imperilled white collar-ite, I furnish it.

Unless the white collar man takes thought to the situation, it looks to me as if he would shortly find himself in a mighty uncomfortable bowl of soup. My impression is that he cannot keep out of it, anyway.

Among the policemen on duty in the exclusive West End of London are experts in German, Spanish, French and Italian.

Woman Bags Big Black Bear While Hunting Rabbits

KANE, Pa., Dec. 7.—The largest black bear killed this season in the vicinity of Kane fell under the deadly aim of Mrs. Augustine Orzechowski, who resides on Birch street, Kane. The woman was hunting with her husband in the woods nine miles west of Kane. She was on the trail of a jack rabbit when the bear suddenly came in sight within easy range. Mrs. Orzechowski pumped three bullets into bruin and her husband hearing the shots came to find her standing proudly beside the carcass of a 300 pound bear.

According to Game Protector Carl Benson, 16 bears have been killed in McKean county this season, eight of them by hunters and eight by farmers, who have killed the animals caught raiding sheep folds. According to the game protector only one of these bears was larger than the one killed by Mrs. Orzechowski Thursday. A man named Taylor in the eastern part of the county killed one a few days ago that weighed 320 pounds.

Game wardens are endeavoring to discover the identity of hunters who illegally killed a large buck deer, near the Seven Mile road, about five miles from Kane, Thursday. A deputy game warden found the carcas with some choice cuts missing within a few hours after the animal was slain.

During the international fair at Budapest there were 30,000 visitors from other countries.

YOUNG BANDIT GIVEN CHANCE TO REFORM

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—Robert Hardesty, 20, of Kingwood, W. Va., pleaded guilty to burglary here today, but Judge Edward M. Hurley gave him a chance to reform.

Judge Hurley said it was unbelievable that a young man who had so many opportunities as Hardesty should sink so low. The court asked the youth's father, who was in court, if he would take the boy back home and watch him closely. The father replied affirmatively and the judge sent the prisoner back to West Virginia with the admonishment to go straight.

Hardesty and Harry Heckman of Cincinnati, both of whom had been students at the University of Cincinnati, said they gave up student life to earn easy money through robbery.

WANT DRIVERS TO TAKE OUT INSURANCE

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 7.—The forthcoming session of the state legislature has been asked, in a resolution just passed by the Clarksburg Automobile club, to pass a law requiring every applicant for a motor vehicle license to show an insurance policy covering both property damage and public liability before the license is granted. The club also wants the legislature to adopt the present highway speed limit of 25 miles an hour.

Navy Men Reports That Vestris Was Seaworthy When It Started On Trip

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Opposite reports on the sinking of the ill-fated liner Vestris were presented Thursday at the conclusion of the inquiry before U. S. Commissioner Francis A. O'Neill.

Capt. E. P. Jessop, U. S. N., retired, reported that the Vestris was't seaworthy when she started her tragic trip.

Capt. Henry McConkey, British officer and New York superintendent of the Cunard line, reported that the Vestris was seaworthy when she left New York.

HE DID KILL A LYNX AND HERE'S PROOF OF IT

WEBSTER, Mass., Dec. 7.—Fortified by a volume of the Encyclopedia Britannica and accompanied by Tax Collector F. M. Kelly, who was armed with a revolver borrowed from a patrolman, Town Treasurer James P. Bergin hiked to Gore Woods yesterday to prove or disprove the claim of Louis Hilton that the latter had shot a lynx, and that he was entitled to a cash bounty of $10 under the statutes of the commonwealth.

After carefully studying the encyclopedia's description of a lynx the treasurer decided the claim was just and paid Hilton $10.

The mother who could not keep her family well

IT SEEMED as if there was always someone feeling out-of-sorts. Not exactly sick but languid—indifferent to food and irritable. And her husband, who used to enjoy the best of health, was now constantly tired and often discouraged and worried. What could be the matter? was her constant question.

Many a family, due to the lack of bulk in the diet, suffers from constipation. And this evil scourge undermines health and strength—even hope and happiness. It brings throbbing heads and aching backs, dragging feet and slumping shoulders. It often finally leads to untold suffering and disease.

Fortunately thousands of women have found the way to save their families from the evils of constipation. By serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—that healthful cereal—in some form every day, constipation is safely relieved and prevented.

It takes "all-bran" to be 100% effective

It is bulk or roughage that combats constipation. ALL-BRAN is practically all-bulk because it is 100 per cent bran. It is so effective. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. At the same time, it gently distends the intestines. Exercising them—sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain a sufficient quantity of bulk to be completely effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100 per cent bran and accomplishes results no part-bran product can equal.

No need for dangerous drugs

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is infinitely better than habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be constantly increased to be effective and which sometimes injure the system. A naturally healthful cereal. To enjoy with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Recipes on package. Mix it with hot cereals. Sprinkle it into soups. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

But don't take chances with part-bran substitutes. At best, they can prove but partially effective. Insist on genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

A WINTER OUTFIT FOR DOLLY

Any three-quarter length sock top with a cuff may be made into a small dolly's dress by cutting the "foot" of the stocking off and hemming the bottom in the usual way. Then cut arm-holes just below where the cuff is joined to the main part of the sock and turn down the cuff as in ordinary use, forming a collar and half sleeves. The "foot" of the sock makes an almost perfect tassle-cap for dolly and I know that little sister will be just "tickled" with her dolly's new Christmas clothes.

To learn about the Bible
In an interesting way
Every Sunday afternoon,
This game you'll like to play.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON GAME

When Sunday afternoon comes we sometimes find ourselves with nothing to do, and then we usually become rather cross and crabbed and are apt to be surly to everyone who speaks to us. But of course that is because we do not know the "Sunday" game and do not realize what fun it is and how much it can teach us. To start the game someone gives a good description of some Bible character. This should be as complete as possible, giving birthplace, parentage and other things about his or her appearance. (Try to get the grown-ups to play with you, boys and girls, for they are sure to enjoy this game, too.) The one guessing the correct answer gives the next description. How much more interested everyone will be in Bible reading than before, and how quickly that blue Sunday will change to a rosy one when this game is played!

GEMS FROM THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

The Story of the Days of the Week

Introduction: Have you ever, met Mr. and Mrs. Day? A more useful family you will never meet from one year's end to the other. They are, in fact, the best servants of the human race and do as much work in their time as anything or anybody on the face of the earth. We must make their acquaintance.

The seven-roomed house in which they live is called "The Week", and it stands in Month street, which is one of the 12 roads running through Year Town in the wonderful country of Time. We will enter this house and go through the seven rooms together. Mr. Day lives in one room, Mrs. Day in another and their five children have each a room to themselves. But they are only separated from each other by walls of Sleep, and they talk to each other through the telephone of Dreams.

Now, this is the first room, occupied by Mr. Day, who does less work than the rest of the family, but who is very far from being idle. He puts on a surplice and holds church services, and he also has to provide the whole of the human race with amusements and recreations. He is the father of the family and he is known by the name of Sun Day.

POEMS EVERY CHILD SHOULD READ

The Boyless Town

(Anonymous)

A cross old woman of long ago,
Declared that she hated noise;
"The town would be so pleasant,
You know, if only there were no boys."

She scolded and fretted about it till
Her eyes were heavy as lead,
And then, of a sudden, the town grew still,
For all the boys had fled.

And all through the long dusty street,
There wasn't a boy in view,
The baseball lot where they used to meet,
Was a sight to make one blue.

The grass was growing on every base
And the paths that the runners made,
For there wasn't a soul in all the place
Who knew how the game was played.

The cherries rotted and went to waste—
There was no one to climb the trees,
And nobody had a single taste,
Save only the birds and the bees.

There wasn't a messenger-boy, not one—
To speed such as messengers can;
If the people wanted their errands done
They sent for a messenger-man.

There was little I ween,
Of frolic and mirth;
The sad old town since it lacked its boys
Was the dreariest place on earth;

The poor old woman began to weep,
Then she awoke with a sudden scream,
"Dear me," she cried, "I have been asleep,
And, oh, what a horrid dream!"

OUR INTERESTING ALPHABET "C"

C stands for Christopher Columbus, the man who discovered our wonderful land of the free—America. Columbus was born at Genoa in Italy and from boyhood on had a great love for the sea. When he became a man the idea that the earth was round rather than flat made him wish to discover another route to the trade-land, India, by sailing in an opposite direction from that taken by his fellow tradesmen. Queen Isabella of Spain is said to have sold her jewels so that Columbus might attempt his journey. Thus, in 1492, Columbus set sail for America (although he believed it to be India) and to the joy of his weary crew reached land in safety and claimed it in the name of Spain. Although Columbus, at his time, was not appreciated by his fellow men and was thrown into prison more than once, we honor and reverence him and wish that he could see the development of the great nation he discovered in 1492.

Potato Growers Of State Use 2,500,000 Bushels For Seeds

Over 200 Acres Of Certified Seed Are Grown In Spite Of Conditions

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—Pennsylvania growers require approximately 2,500,000 bushels of potatoes to satisfy their annual requirements for seed, and yet only 60,940 bushels of seed potatoes were certified by the state during the past summer. This condition was pointed out today by the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania department of agriculture, in suggesting greater attention among farmers to seed potato growing.

In spite of certain unfavorable conditions this year, 206.5 acres of certified seed were grown, and an average acre yield of 292.9 bushels was secured. This is more than twice the average acre yield for all potatoes produced in Pennsylvania. One grower secured a yield of 540 bushels per acre on a four-acre field, the best acre of the patch yielding 590 bushels.

More than twice as much seed was certified in the commonwealth this year as in 1927.

Grizzlies Kill Horses In Saskatchewan; Black Bears More Numerous

(International News Service)

REGINA, Sask., Dec. 7.—Grizzly bears have invaded prairie districts of Saskatchewan. A team of horses, owned by Tom Bulow, farmer of the Hudson Bay Junction community, were killed by grizzlies.

Black bears are far more plentiful and daring than usual. A black one was shot near Kamsack, Saskatchewan, in the heart of the farm belt. It weighed 400 pounds. No bear of any size has been seen on the prairies in years.

Cock fighting is said to be the oldest sport in the world. Cock fighting was always a favorite sport in the days of ancient Rome.

Hunger For Sweetheart Causes Arrest Of Girl After 900 Miles In Cab

By LESLIE P. EICHEL
(Especially written for Central Press and New Castle News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—It doesn't always pay to write to your sweetheart to make up after a quarrel. It didn't for Dorothy Bakker, 19, of Chicago.

Nobody wondered who Dorothy was when she registered at the Waldorf. Like many another girl, she seemingly came to do a little shopping.

Yes, 450 miles away, or thereabouts. He took his fare to the head office. A mathematician there said of course the company would undertake the trip if Dorothy deposited $200. She did.

At the Falls Dorothy proved a whole-hearted soul. She paid for the driver's room and board. Then she taxied back to New York—her total taxi bill being $234.

But then she felt a bit homesick and wrote a letter on Waldorf stationery to a boy friend, with whom she had quarreled, in Chicago.

That gave Chicago police a clue. They had her arrested on a charge of stealing $2,100 and a $300 fur coat from Mrs. Ernest Bauer, for whom she had worked as a maid in Chicago.

Dorothy's sweetheart, young plumber, had transferred his affections to another girl. So Dorothy, an orphan, decided the money would take her to her native Holland.

But she really isn't bad. Even though she had to sit up front with the taxi driver because of the cold, she would not let him call on her.

Pomona Grange Meets At Westfield

W. E. Hill, Past State Grange Master, Is Speaker At Meeting

More than 100 members of the Lawrence county Pomona Grange, composed of Grange members from individual organizations throughout the county, met Wednesday at the Westfield Grange hall near Mount Jackson. An afternoon and evening session took place.

W. E. Hill, past master of the Pennsylvania state Grange, spoke during both these sessions. The afternoon, primarily a business meeting, consisted of officers', committees', subordinate Grange and special project workers' reports.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Lawrence County Pomona Grange, No. 65, assembled in regular session at the Westfield Grange hall December 5, 1928:

FIRST: That we protest the bill to build more cruisers than actually necessary for police protection, and urge that you use your influence to defeat it in Congress, and

SECOND: That we earnestly desire the Congress to sign and ratify the Kellogg peace pact, and urge you to use your vote in its behalf, and

THIRD: That the State Grange, to be assembled at Williamsport, Pa., December 11th, pass similar resolutions as the voice of the Grangers of the state of Pennsylvania, and that a copy be sent to each representative and senator of Pennsylvania.

Done at the Lawrence County Pomona Grange meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 5, 1928.

Shoe Prices Will Not Drop For Some Time Thinks Leather Association

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Shoe and leather prices will go no lower for some time in the opinion of Alfred W. Donovan, president of the New England Shoe and Leather Association.

Sandals for summer wear were predicted by Arthur D. Anderson, editor of a boot and shoe trade paper.

Colors of leather for men's shoes for next Spring and Summer were described as shades merging from nicotine to Saratoga tan. Women's shoes will have nine shades of brown, three of blue and several shades of green.

Many Seeking Teaching Jobs

While the first semester of school is not yet over, applications for teaching positions are already being received by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent for next year.

In order to be sure that they will see Dr. Green, applicants are requested to come to the administration building on East street on Saturday mornings between 9 or 12 o'clock. Special appointments can be made for other days by arrangement.

The indications are that there will be the usual large number of applications and a relatively small number of positions to be filled. The proportion last year was about 9 to 1.

Merchants To Have Meeting At Atlanta

Arrangements Made For Commission Men's Convention In January

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 7.—Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of several thousand delegates to the thirty-seventh annual convention of the League of Commission Merchants to be held here January 9-11.

Three special trains—from New York, Philadelphia and Cincinnati—are expected to bring the delegates from practically every state in the union. An all day stop of the trains will be made at Asheville, N. C., en route. Here the merchants will be treated to a full day of entertainment before continuing to Atlanta.

An old-fashioned Southern barbecue, a visit to the Stone Mountain Confederate memorial, and a huge ball according to the Southern style are to be entertainment features of the three day meeting here. Facilities for golfing, swimming, riding, and tennis, will also be provided, besides numerous sightseeing trips.

J. L. Keach of Indianapolis, is president of the national league.

Judge, Who Recommended Practice Of Birth Control To Pair Seeking Divorce, Asks Power For Courts

JUDGE HARRISON W. EWING
By BONITA WITT
Staff Writer for Central Press and The New Castle News

That, in a nutshell, is the advice which Judge Harrison W. Ewing, of the common pleas court, has given here to youthful Helen and Otto Kourim, 22 and 27 years of age, respectively, parents of three little children, who came to his courtroom, seeking divorce.

From the bench he told the couple who have refused to live with each other in the future that he thought they should have no children for the next three years when they cannot support the three they have on Kourim's $24 a week salary. Their children are Bertha, 4; Edward, 2, and a year-old baby.

Merely Personal Opinion

Judge Ewing explains that his advice was not a legal order, but merely an expression of personal opinion on a situation which obviously needed a remedy which it was not within the province of the court to prescribe.

Although the Kourims insisted they never would live together again, the application for divorce was refused because Judge Ewing was unwilling to permit the home to be broken up with a possibility that either the husband or the wife would marry again soon and found another family which the state probably would have to support. In three years either party can again bring suit for willful absence, and by that time Judge Ewing feels they will be in a better position to care for a family.

"It is a great pity," the judge observes, "that the courts cannot give out birth control information at the right time. After the birth of the first Kourim baby, when these young folk came into juvenile court because the wife had run away from her poverty-stricken home, if the judge could have been empowered to instruct them in limiting their family so that they could have remedied their economic and social difficulties, they undoubtedly would not have been in court today, seeking a divorce. The Ohio statute permits doctors to give out such information and I would like to see a clause written in which also would give to courts the power to do likewise.

"Furthermore, I contend there should be a law which would prohibit remarriage after divorce in certain cases. It is not fair to society to break up one home through financial inability to keep it together, and then found another shortly after the divorce is granted. No person has a right to bear children whom he knows the state will have to help rear."

Lauded for Act

Since his unprecedented decision, Judge Ewing has been the center of a controversy. He has been enthusiastically praised by those in favor of limiting families and just as strongly denounced by those of opposite views. Judge Ben Lindsey of Los Angeles, sponsor of companionate marriage, lauded him for "recognizing the legality of birth control."

Because he has advised one couple not to have any more children does not mean that the judge advocates small families for everyone. He believes those who can support children should have large families and recommends that the average man and his wife with a moderate income should have four or five children.

Science Learns How Insects Get Breath

Bugs With Thin Body Walls Emit Carbon Dioxide Fumes Through Them

(International News Service)

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Dec. 7.—Science now knows the peculiar breathing methods of insects.

First definite proof that insects with thin body walls were able to emit carbon dioxide through these walls, in other words, to breathe out used air through the body surface with very little help from the tracheal system, has been made by W. H. Thorpe at the University of California citrus experiment station here.

Thorpe explains that the carbon dioxide was detected coming from the bodies of the insects when they were immersed in a blue chemical solution which changes into a pink color as soon as carbon dioxide is present.

Poincare would probably appreciate the confidence of the chamber of deputies more if it did not have to vote it so frequently.—The Kansas City Journal-Post.

Doctors Declare Pulmotor Not Best Plan To Aid In Preventing Drownings

Two interesting addresses and a general discussion of subjects pertaining directly to their interests were the features of the annual Christmas meeting of the Lawrence county medical society which took place in the society room at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday night.

Almost 20 Lawrence county physicians were in attendance and heard Dr. W. L. Campbell's discourse on the subject of "Birth Injuries." Dr. Campbell was the principal speaker of the evening, with Dr. Lawrence Litchfield of Pittsburgh as guest speaker. Dr. Litchfield spoke on the subject "Medical Legislation."

Following the two addresses, a general discussion period came up, in which matters of resuscitation and certified milk arose.

Worthy of considerable note is the fact that the doctors decided against the pulmotor as a life saving device, in favor of the standing methods of resuscitation.

First, it is declared that it is generally known that there are methods of resuscitation far more valuable than a pulmotor, because of the fact that use of the latter tends to encourage waste of time when seconds more than count. The doctors believe that when a person is saved from drowning the attendants are prone to wait by, when it is known that a pulmotor is on the way, instead of using the methods of resuscitation. Oftentimes when a pulmotor does arrive on the scene the victim is already dead.

Therefore that is one reason why the physicians who assembled Thursday night do not aprove of the pulmotor. Time is too valuable to stand by when someone has been overcome, they believe.

Second, they decided that because a pulmotor is often operated by men who are not physicians, who are not well versed in rendering aid, the machine seldom does no better than regular resuscitation. In many cases the air is pumped into the stomach of the stricken instead of into the lungs. The natural result is that the victim's stomach is filled with air while the lungs still lack air and the general conditions little improved all around.

It is their belief that methods of resuscitation are of greater value than waiting for a pulmotor to be brought to the scene.

It is said that numerous large industrial corporations forbid their men from using pulmotors at all, favoring resuscitation when such an emergency arises.

Following the lengthy discussion on this, the doctors brought up the matter of certified milk and spent considerable time listening to different remarks concerning it.

Dr. W. A. Womer, secretary of the society, who went as the club's representative to the one-day meeting of all county medical society scribes in Pennsylvania at Harrisburg last Tuesday, made his report at the conclusion of the open forum. He stated that a number of questions of interest to doctors and the public were considered, among which was the matter of the secretaries' action which strongly guarantees that the medical societies of the state are ever at the forefront in all projects of public welfare, and ever will continue to be.

INTER-STATE BUSES MAY BE TAXED HERE

Interstate automobile passenger busses which operate through New Castle will have to pay a license fee for using streets here providing council concurs in the opinion of Councilman Burns.

This developed today when Burns asked Solicitor White to prepare an ordinance designating streets over which interstate busses must operate and requiring the owners to name the size of busses, ownership, number of passengers the busses will accommodate and state the experience of chauffeurs. The ordinance will also impose a license tax.

The motion was seconded by Reeves and passed. Solicitor White will prepare the ordinance and it will be presented in the near future.

Check "Bear" Stock Rampage

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The "bear" rampage on the New York Stock Exchange was abruptly checked today—if not entirely stopped.

Stock prices rallied sharply after declining two to fourteen points at the opening on the heels of the sharp break yesterday that wiped out paper profits of America's small investors running into the millions of dollars.

Radio corporation of America, which dropped 14 points at the opening to 381, reacted after the early selling flurry and shot up to 403 at 1 o'clock this afternoon, an advance of 8 points from last night's close.

At this hour practically the entire list was stronger with the "bull" again in control of the market.

Wright Aero, at 260, was 9 points higher than yesterday's close at one o'clock. United States Steel, which opened ⅝ lower at 156⅝, moved up to 158⅝. Packard Motor, which opened at 144¾ jumped to 152. Chrysler opened at 127¾ and moved up to 131¼ and Sinclair Oil, which started at 37½, followed the general trend and advanced to 40.

GIL DELIVERS INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Important declarations regarding the relations of Mexico with the United States featured the inaugural message of Provisional President Portes Gil, successor to Plutarco Calles. Photo shows the new executive snapped as he addressed the congress in public session at the national stadium in Mexico City.

County Conditions Better States Poor Director

According to County Poor Director Mansford B. Hogue, approximately 60 men and 15 women are now confined to the Lawrence county home, located on the New Castle-Ellwood City road.

Director Hogue said that in his belief conditions throughout the county in general are better and that this winter does not seem to be as bad as last winter as far as conditions are concerned.

Mr. Hogue's statement in regards to inmates at the county home this year shows that men outnumber the women three to one. He states that it's often four to one. The director declares that women can find homes where they can do housekeeping, sewing and such work for their board. But it is harder, evidently, for men to locate quarters.

The winter attendance of probably 75 inmates will continue over until spring, says Mr. Hogue. Then the number usually drops off to a certain extent throughout the warm summer months.

Local Party Off To Europe

Depart From New Castle To Spend Christmas In Europe; Others To Go

Angelo Fiala left New Castle last night with a large party of local folks who are intending to spend the Christmas holidays with their relatives and friends in a number of European countries.

Mr. Fiala and his party are sailing on the new French line steamer Ile de France early Saturday morning, December 8, giving them ample time to reach their homes before Christmas.

Those included in the party were as follows: Peter Juliana, Antonio Pascarelli, Vincent Porcer, Nicholas Tensone, Charles Domini, John Morondi, Arthur Colello, Isadore Lain, John Lain, Joe Lain, Miss Pearl Lain, Raphael De Otto, John Fiorontino, John Svirloh, Matej Seranka, Michael Petrovics, Stanislaw Zelaznowsky, John Pilch, Stephen Skokan, Matej, Mikula, Phillip Crangi, Lorenzo Rispoli, John Kacsur, Peter Lacinga, George Juszko and Mrs. Aglaiva Juszko.

Other persons sailing on later dates are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Ward and daughter, for Scotland, on the Cunarder Caledonia on December 14; Mrs. Winifred H. McAfee, for Germany, on the North German liner Muenchen on December 8.

Adolph Lang has also booked passage on the North German liner Berlin, for a visit to Roumania, on December 11. Anthony Audino, De Stefano and his son have already sailed for Italy.

Ford's Wayside Inn Gets Apple Cellar

Old New England Apple Cellar Of Stone And Concrete To Be Ready Soon

(International News Service)

SUDBURY, Mass., Dec. 7.—Henry Ford's Wayside Inn, among its other antiques and relics of old times, is soon to have an "apple cellar" made famous by the New England farmers years ago when they kept apples and other fruits in an atmosphere of proper humidity, according to Manager Earle Boyer of the Wayside Inn.

Manager Boyer said the new stone and concrete cellar will be ready for the fall crop of apples. It will have a capacity of 40,000 boxes of fruit, but is not expected that the crop from the Ford estate will reach that figure for some time.

The orchards of the Ford estate comprise 14,000 apple trees, mostly Baldwin, Northern Spy and Mackintosh. This is much more difficult variety to keep than other varieties, but Mr. Boyer has high hopes that he will succeed in his endeavor.

The Wayside Inn estate also boasts of 14 quince trees believed to be the largest quince orchard in New England. There are 700 peach trees.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Several years before our lesson Paul had written the Christians at Rome expressing his longing to visit Rome, telling them of his prayers that he "might have a prosperous journey by the will of God to come to them." These prayers, like many of ours were strangely answered, though in a very different way from that in which Paul ever expected, for he came to Rome a prisoner in irons, having appealed his case to Caesar's court.

In recounting the journey from Caesarea to Rome, Luke gives us what has been called "the most interesting and thrilling account of a sea voyage ever penned by the hand of man."

Paul was by no means a "Jonah" on that sea voyage, despite the fact that the ship was driven before the wind for two weeks, a distance of over 500 miles, before it was wrecked on the island of Malta, with the complete loss of ship and cargo. Had the captain and ship owner listened to the advice of this "land lubber," as they must have regarded him, they would have saved themselves all their grief and their ship. And Paul was just human enough to say, "I told you so," even though he did it in these polite words: "Sirs, ye should have harkened unto me, and not set sail from Crete, and have gotten this injury and loss. And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but of the ship." From this time, Paul, though a prisoner, was practically in command of the ship, and under his direction the lives of all on board were saved.

One of the finest illustrations of the value of faith is that of Paul, standing in the midst of the terror-stricken group of passengers and crew, reassuring them saying: "Sirs be of good cheer: I believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me.....Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety.....And when he had said this, and had taken bread, he gave thanks unto God in the presence of all: and he brake it and began to eat."

Imprisonment Made a Blessing

Arrived at Rome, though a prisoner chained to a Roman soldier, Paul was granted the privilege of "dwelling two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and received all that went in unto him, preaching the Kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ with all boldness, none forbidding him." Some might have allowed the confinement of these years to sour their spirit and crush hope and zeal, but Paul's spirit was not able to be imprisoned. His optimism found more advantages than disadvantages in his lot. Through the hundreds of different soldiers locked to the other end of his chain every three hours of those two years, Paul honey-combed the Roman army with Christian converts, who went out as missionaries to every province of the empire. He turned a prison into a church, a theological seminary and a foreign mission board combined, with the Roman Empire paying all expenses! From this prison he wrote the Epistles to the Ephesians, the Philippians, the Colossians and the Philemon, and from a later imprisonment Second Timothy.

Thousands of you who read this in your favorite newspapers from coast to coast have your chains.....it may be illness or the infirmities of age, or other limitations of various sorts. Paul teaches you how to bear them joyfully.

(The International Uniform Lesson for December 9 is Acts 27:1 to 28:31; Rom. 1:8-15; Phil. 1:12-14, the subject being: 'Paul Goes to Rome," and the Golden Text, Rom. 1:16.. "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.")

Conduct Funeral Of Late Dr. Barr

Services At New Wilmington This Afternoon; Other News Of Village

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 7.—Beside the Rev. Ralph J. Neale, pastor of the local church, three other ministers assisted in the funeral services for the late Dr. J. D. Barr which were held in the United Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. J. A. McDonald of Youngstown, Dr. W. B. Smiley of Rochester and Dr. H. J. Rose of New Wilmington were present at the services.

Following the services in the church the interment was made at the Fair Oaks cemetery, east of town.

Yesterday afternoon the Thursday club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph J. Neale. Mrs. Neale and Miss Ina Hanna were the hostesses and a very interesting program was put on.

This evening the officers, teachers and committee heads of the Sabbath school of the local United Presbyterian church are to meet at the home of Quincy B. Eagleson to discuss important business.

Dr. J. H. Boyd sailed for Egypt to work in the mission field there when he left New York Wednesday on the S. S. Samaria.

Mrs. Louise Williamson is visiting at the home of Mrs. George Phillips at Erie.

FOUR ESCAPE DEATH IN ELEVATOR DROP

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 7. — Four men miraculously escaped death when an elevator in the Swank building on Adams street dropped from the third floor to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 60 feet. Edward Mayberry, 78, elevator operator, suffered the worst injuries and is a patient at Lee Homeopathic hospital. His right leg was broken and his head badly cut.

The others on the elevator escaped with injuries. They were William F. Finn, superintendent of the Memorial hospital; William Palm, 23 and Kermit Johnson, 23.

Norway's new labor court has already settled several wage disputes.

White Herds Bring Wealth To Rancher

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Dec. 7.—Texas ranchmen are clipping sheep and goats instead of bonds, and swelling bank accounts in the Southwest, where the white herds roam, attest the efficacy of the practice.

Based on prospective output, $2,250,000 will be realized this year on sheep and $2,000,000 more on goats. The total production of wool is estimated at 7,000,000 pounds, and the yield of mohair, obtained from goats, is placed at approximately the same figure.

The fall clip of wool is expected to average 32 cents a pound. Three thousand pounds of mohair, already contracted for, has sold for 63 cents a pound, statistics of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association reveal Kid hair sells at the ruling price of 72 cents.

Although most of the clip is taken from Texas grown sheep and goats, one buyer purchased 75,000 pounds from Mexican producers at an unannounced price. Duty on the estimated imports of from 300,000 to 400,000 pounds annually brought across the Rio Grande, is 13 cents a pound.

HORACE GREELEY'S 'YOUNG MAN' BACK FROM WEST AT 92

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Seventy-two years ago Horace Greeley told Charles Terry, then a youth of 20:

Today "Uncle Charley," 92, oldest traveling man, came back to New York to attend a meeting of the National Traveling Salesmen's Foundation.

"Well, it hasn't changed much since I was here 50 years ago. It is still the biggest town I've ever made."

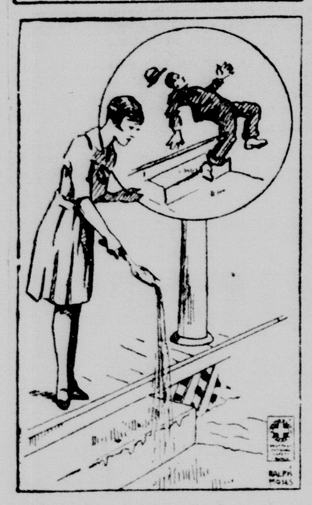
Look Out for Slips!



ICY streets will soon be the order of the day in many sections of the country. A box of sand is a mighty handy thing to have around the house this season of the year. The majority of ice falls happen in the early part of the season before people realize the danger of icy streets and sidewalks. A serious fall may result when one steps out on the front steps of his home at the first freeze. The National Safety Council suggests to the housewife that she keep a box of sand on hand and thus be prepared when the first freeze comes. It is a mighty inexpensive and easy way to avoid accidents.

Newsies To Be Dinner Guests

Annual New Year's Program Is Planned By Leslie Hotel Owners

Newsboys of New Castle will enjoy their annual New Year's dinner again it was stated today and commencing tonight plans for the big event which will be followed by a vaudeville show will get under way.

Annually hundreds of newsboys and also little girls who sell newspapers throughout the city are the guests of the proprietors of the Leslie hotel, the Leff boys, Sol and Sam and also Mrs. Alex Silverman, widow of the late hotel man.

Smiling Face Missing.

When the boys gather this season they will miss the smiling face and cheerful words of "Alex" as he was known but Sol and Sam Leff and Mr. Rafael, brothers of Mrs. Silverman will see that every little newsboy will have his "tummy" filled.

The big dinner is served each New Year's day at the Leslie restaurant which is operated by Keefe, Voit and Keefe. A dozen waitresses aided by doctors, lawyers, businessmen, legislators and newspaper reporters serve the Future Greats.

Last New Year's day almost 600 were served and the dinner was started and completed in less than two hours. Not one cup, saucer, glass or plate was broken which shows that the boys certainly handle themselves dexterously.

Fine Vaudeville Planned.

Several of the persons who have participated in the vaudeville show which has been staged at the Carnegie auditorium through the generosity of Superintendent Tully and other officials, now are on the "Big Time" circuits, making good.

It is planned this New Year's to make the vaudeville show the best ever yet held, which will be quite a task but boys, girls, young men and young ladies who have a warm spot for newsboys and a desire to do something worth a few minutes time can help.

Any person who likes to sing, dance, play a musical instrument, monologue or has an act should send their name and address to Ed. Fritz, New Castle News, who with Al Simpson, will take charge of the affair.

Amputation Results From Gun Shot Wound

Nick Billo Has Right Arm Amputated In Orlando, Florida, Hospital

Nick Billo, now in Florida, is recuperating in the Orlando hospital from an amputation of the left arm, which took place Wednesday evening, December 5, according to a telegram received by The News this morning from Mrs. K. C. Humphreys of St. Cloud, Florida.

Billo was returning from a hunting trip, when a shot gun was accidentally discharged in the automobile, the charge striking him in the left arm between the elbow and the shoulder. Immediately he was rushed to the Orlando hospital where the amputation took place.

SWALLOWED LESSON

The class had been told to bring things to school for drawing lesson, and just as the lesson was about to begin, a small boy was found standing tearfully at his teacher's desk.

"I've swallowed my object," he explained.

"A banana," replied the would-be artist.

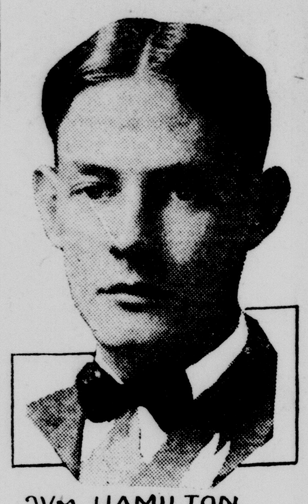
Wilmington Boy In College Play Tonight



WM. HAMILTON.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—William Hamilton, New Wilmington young man, will play an important role in the Bells and Buskin production of "A Marriage Proposal" in the Community House tonight. Hamilton, a sophomore, has taken leading male parts in a number of productions. In tonight's play he will play the part of Lumov, the Russian. "Jazz and Minuet" and "The Romance of the Willow Pattern" will also be presented tonight in the dramatic fraternity's first plays of the year.

In China a special small fish is bred for fighting purposes. When two of these little warriors are introduced into the same glass bowl or aquarium they will fight with great fury shaking and worrying each other like two bulldogs.

Charles Carbeau Named New Head Of Kiwanis Club

Resume Of Club Activities Is Order Of Business At Thursday Dinner Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Election of officers was the chief item of business at the regular weekly dinner-meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Trinity Lutheran church.

The newly-elected officials are as follows: President, Charles Carbeau; vice president and treasurer, G. B. Hancher; district trustees, Dr. H. E. Helling; directors, H. E. McClymonds, O. E. Bartel, Dr. C. M. Iseman, W. Ray Smith, Dwight Conner, Rev. L. J. Baker and J. Arthur Grandey.

Previous to the reading of the annual reports, the gratifying announcement was made to the effect that the club had cleared over $200 in the presentation of their musical comedy. Two new members, Claude Houk and Lawrence Barnhart, were admitted into the organization.

The annual reports gave a resume of the activities of the club mentioning the farmers' night, at which time each member had a farmer as a guest; how the club helped in reforestation by distributing shrubbery and trees to farmers for planting; mentioned the fact that the club supported good roads, took an active interest in the chest drive, furnished cars to take needy to hospital, and is also furnishing a room in the new addition to that institution at a cost of $300. The club has made a canvass of the town for old clothes for destitute people and supports many children at a fresh air camp each year.

The club had 100 per cent attendance during six months of the past year, and the club has also organized and supported two Boy Scout troops, one for the under-privileged lads.

Annual Banquet At Presbyterian Church On Tuesday Evening

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7. — The annual Father and Sons banquet of the First Presbyterian church takes place Tuesday evening at 6:15, in the dining room of the church.

All fathers and sons in the church are expected to be present. There will be orchestra music, pep singing. Walter Veon will toast the fathers; J. W. Humphrey will respond to the sons and Rev. Maxwell Cornelius of the Watson Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh will be the speaker of the evening.

LADIES PLAN FOR CHURCH ACTIVITIES

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Mrs. James Moyer of Wayne avenue entertained the members of the Ladies Aid society of the U. P. church Thursday afternoon at her home. The chief item of business was the plan made by the ladies for the church supper and bazaar which will take place next week.

The committee in charge of yesterday's meeting comprised Mrs. James Moyer, Mrs. H. H. Young and Mrs. M. M. Asher.

E. R. Leichtner of Dormont was a recent visitor in this city.

Council Refuses To Pay Fees For Police Defense

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—At the meeting of the borough council which took place Thursday evening in the city building, the matter of the recent police trial in which three members of the force were acquitted of charges in connection with alleged theft of articles in local stores, came up. Considerable discussion was caused, the upshot of which was the fact that council refused to pay a bill of $400 for attorney's fees for defending the policemen.

The discussion was caused when the bill in that sum was presented by a New Castle firm of lawyers to council for payment. One councilman asked why the bill was presented to that body, opening the discussion. Members felt that the Ellwood City borough council was not morally responsible for payment of the fees. It was stated that council had paid such fees in former cases, but in each instance the officer or officers in question had been performing their duty within the borough at the time of the trouble.

Council Delays Annexation Of Ewing Park Erea

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—At the regular monthly meeting of the borough council Thursday evening, the proposed annexation of Ewing Park to this city was held up until later when minor details and problems connected with the project have been ironed out.

Council previous to their meeting last night conducted a short informal session at which time the project was discussed.

However, additional information with regard to some matters including the question of electric light and power service is needed before the matter can be satisfactorily settled.

It is understood that the project has the full approval of the Chamber of Commerce and the school board.

Mrs. Van Gorder Is Club Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Mrs. David VanGorder of the New Castle road entertained the members of the J. A. P. club Thursday evening at her home.

There were nine members present and they planned for a Christmas party next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Pressley Yahn of South Ellwood Heights. It will open with a tureen dinner.

The hours last evening passed pleasantly with sewing and music, concluding with a delicious lunch served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Harry Schott and Mrs. Henry Wiley. Two special guests were Mrs. Alfred Gooch of New Castle and Mrs. Lee Witmyer of this city. The January meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Benton Elliott of North Sewickley.

Mrs. Fred Fredericks of West Pittsburg and Mrs. R. G. Frederick of Rockdale are Beaver Falls visitors today.

Tackled by Cupid

Ken Strong, New York University football star and All-American back, has fallen under Dan Cupid's deft tackling. Cupid was "sent in" for Rella Harrison and played the game so well that Strong and the pretty actress are to be married soon.

Mrs. Sarah Holt Is Claimed By Death

Well Known Local Woman Succumbs To Pneumonia At Age Of 94 Yesterday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Sara Holt who is well known in Ellwod City, having made her home with her granddaughter Mrs. Ralph Conner of Glen avenue, for many years passed away yesterday afternoon in Sandusky,, a victim of pneumonia.

Mrs. Holt who had reached the extreme age of 94 boasts many local friends who feel grief at her passing, for although she was old in years she possessed a youthful spirit to a marked degree.

Mrs. Holt had been residing with her daughter Mrs. Robert Worden in Sandusky for the past year or two. Saturday morning the body will be taken to McKeesport for the funeral service and burial, the date of which has not been fully arranged.

Ralph Conner left today for Sandusky to form one of the funeral party leaving for McKeesport. Many local friends plan to motor up later for the funeral services.

Women Elect New Officers Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Members of the Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church conducted a monthly meeting Thursday evening in the church and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. John McKim; vice president, Mrs. Robert Grandey; secretary, Mrs. Anna Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Harvey Wright; association manager, Mrs. Loren Springer; thank offering secretary, Mrs. Pickle.

The program last night was based on the topic of Sudan and Abyssinia and Mrs. James Moyer, Mrs. Loren Springer and Miss Olive Hesselgesser read papers. The musical portion of the program was capably handled by Mrs. Lloyd Randolph, who sang a solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Irene Routman.

Fifty-Six Ladies Enjoy Elks Bridge

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Nine tables of bridge were in play at the semi-monthly ladies afteroon at the Elks club Thursday. The affair opened with a desert at 1:30 at which time Mrs. Charles Carbeau and her committee of the day served.

At the conclusion of a series of games high score honor for the guests went to Mrs. Bruce Hunter and member prizes were awarded to Mrs. Tom McGregory and Mrs. Max Groden. There will be another bridge party at the club on December 20.

CASTLEWOOD CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Members of the Castlewood club will meet Wednesday, December 12, at the home of Mrs. Gladys Hockenberry on Orchard avenue and Union street. The affair will be in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. Durwood Angel of California, has concluded a visit at the home of friends in this city.

Two More Traffic Lights Recommended

Council Advises That Traffic Conditions Be Improved By Two More Lights

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7. — When the meeting of the borough council took place Thursday evening in the city building traffic condition in this city came in for considerable discussion.

Members of the police committee recommended that two more traffic signals be placed here, one at the corner of Glen avenue and Fifth street and the other at Spring and First.

Many members of council pointed out that the traffic light at Fourth street and Second street were turned off in slippery weather. One stated that he did not think this should be done as motorists were compelled to stop in other towns, regardless of the weather. This matter was referred to the members of the police committee. The matter of parking on the P. and L. E. station grounds also came up for action, and members of the police committee were instructed to see that the grounds were illuminated and given police protection so that parking here on Saturday nights could be enlarged somewhat.

Members of council further decided to make E. R. Hartman a full fledged patrolman on the force, and give each of the school boy patrol traffic officers a Christmas present of $2.50.

Members also approved the paving and sewer assessments for residents of First avenue and West Short streets, Orchard, Hillside and Bluff avenues also were approved. A recommendation by one member that the Borough Manager Munroe join the Chamber of Commerce, with dues payable by council, was tabled because council could not legally do same.

Hunter Brings A Fine Deer Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Ray McDanel of the Zelienople road returned yesterday from a week's hunting trip in Benezett district which is in Elk county, about 40 miles from DuBois.

He came bearing a fine deer. There were about ten in the party and all succeeded in getting a deer. The balance of the hunters were from Portersville.

Essay Contest Is Waging Here Today

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—This afternoon the essay contest is being fought out in the auditorium of the Lincoln school by students competing from the Beaver Valley association. Miss Marie McKim is the essayist from the local high school with Miss Grace Braley as alternate.

The students entering the essay contest were provided with three subjects to prepare for some time ago. They were to be well able to write on any one of the three subjects from memory, as the judges select one for the contest. The contestants are given one and one-half hours to complete the essays. The names of the judges are never revealed before the hour of the contest.

Mrs. Bruce Hunter Entertains Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Bruce Hunter of West Short street entertained at an informal dinner-bridge Thursday evening.

Covers were laid for eight at one large table centered with a pretty cluster of red carnations. At the conclusion of a delicious menu, bridge was the order of entertainment, with Mrs. Harold Seidel and Mrs. B. M. Lawther eventually winning high score honors.

Those enjoying the evening were Mesdames Theodore Markwort, Henry Passemore, John Dunn, Fred Swanson, Harold Heidel, William Pugh, B. M. Lawther and Miss Marian Slocum.

TEETH—That Won't Hunger-Strike

When you lose your teeth—you don't lose your appetite. Usually—appetite increases when diseased teeth no longer remain to inject pus into the stomach, and false teeth that "hunger strike"—hurt like the dickens when you eat—are a torture.

Look the facts in the face—there's plenty of "hunger" striking false teeth. But—false teeth CAN be made that will make short work of a "T-Bone" steak. We make them. And they look as human and natural as the teeth nature gave you! We study the patient's mouth—note the action of the facial muscles—the type of "bite"—the smile—the expression—the complexion—and—when the teeth are finished they are actually PART OF YOU.

OUR ACTUAL TROUBLES—

Are not always the ones which occupy our minds most.
Often go unrecognized for years.

Three Deer Are Shot In One Hour

Hunters Return From Trip Before Noon On First Day Of Season

Three deer, shot in one hour on the opening day of hunting season, is the result of a trip made to Elk county by William Parrent, John Majisky and Ames Hartzell.

The deer were shot between 7:30 and 8:30 a. m. the morning of December 1, and the hunters returned from their trip shortly before noon on the same day.

Napoleon Exile Residence Now Is Desecrated

PARIS, Dec. 7.—Longwood, the house at St. Helena where Napoleon passed the final years of exile, is now occupied by a caretaker who sleeps in Bonaparte's bed, uses the living rooms peopled with the shades of the little Corsican, even washes himself in the emperor's bath.

Recently returned from a pilgrimage to the island, Ernest d'Hauterive well-known French writer, made the discoveries which have caused consternation in France at the moment when a Napoleon vogue is sweeping the country, as reflected in the production of four Napoleonic plays simultaneously in Paris theaters.

EDENBURG

The Red Cross drive with Rev. S. H. Barlett, chairman, and his official workers, W. H. Park, Clarence McConnell, Carl Rodgers and Mrs. Sherard, have commenced their canvass.

The ladies of the Women's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Clarence McConnell on Wednesday afternoon, December 5, with 12 members in attendance. A fine Christmas program was given, also a business meeting and study course was taken up, after which the hostess served dainty refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Beight and Mrs. Harry Park.

The missionary ladies of the Christian church held their regular monthly meeting and tureen dinner at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Mitcheltree Wednesday afternoon. After dinner the lesson study and business period was held. At this time it was decided to hold a supper in the church Wednesday evening, December 12.

S. C. Waggoner of Struthers, O., called on Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McConnell Monday.

Fifty years of Pioneering and Achievement

The original Tide Water Company was organized in 1878. It is among the oldest in the industry. It laid the first pipe line across the Allegheny Mountains. It carried the first pipe line to Atlantic tide water. Always it has pioneered . . . in producing, in refining, in selling. And so prudent, so far-seeing has been its direction that Tide Water today stands as one of the most powerful and successful oil companies in the entire world.

Today Tide Water owns, or controls, its own sources of supply. It operates a great fleet of tank steamers to every corner of the world. The equipment at the Tide Water Refinery at Bayonne is of the finest and most advanced type. Leading technical colleges send their students and teachers to study Tide Water methods, machines, and craftsmanship.

Today Tide Water is particularly proud to be able to commemorate the Fiftieth Anniversary of the company . . . with the finest motor fuel in its history . . . Hi-Test TYDOL, a true premium gasoline, at no premium in price!

Many Testify At Tabernacle

Scores Tell Of Healing Benefits As Result Of Faith

NEARLY 1,000 HAVE BEEN UP TO ALTAR

Scores of people, who have felt the healing touch of God, through prayer and the annointing of Evangelist C. H. Erickson, at Everybody's Tabernacle, South Mill and Division streets, were given an opportunity Thursday evening of testifying as to the benefits received, the testimonial service occupying much of the time of the evening service.

As the men and women, who had been healed and relieved of bodily ills, which according to their testimony, they had been suffering from for many years, the hundreds of people filling the greater part of the mammoth tabernacle, showed their interest and enthusiasm in various outbursts of praise and rejoicing.

The service was opened with congregational singing of the hymns that have become so familiar to thousands of people in the past eleven weeks of the revival. Then there was a special vocal selection by Miss Rita Garden, pianist of the Erickson party and several selections by the Alliance Colored quintet.

The sermon by Evangelist C. H. Erickson was brief but to the point and was along the line of the reward that may be expected, if we but keep faith with God. His text was the seventh, eighth and ninth verses of the Sixth chapter of Galatians, which are as follows:

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

"For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

"And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

The evangelist said among other things "There are many who believe that they cannot be saved. But God can do anything for you. Many are deceived today. They think they know that which in reality they do not know.

Testimonials Given

"There are those who think they can knock God and have Him pass over it. There is not a sin in the world that can be forgiven unless you are washed in the Blood of the Lamb.

"Sin follows after you and you can never get away from it, unless you do that which God expects of you.

"You will reap whatsoever you sow. If you sow the Spirit, you will reap of the Spirit. As you sow, he will give to you."

Twelve persons answered the call to the altar, bringing the total number answering the altar call in the past eleven weeks to 930.

Fourteen persons then came forward for anointing and prayer for their bodily ills. A number that came forward professed immediate relief.

Evangelist C. H. Erickson announced that the Friday evening subject would deal with healing. He stated he would explain the "two stumbling blocks" of many in the matter of healing, namely Job and Paul.

Saturday evening, he stated there would be a special treat for the entire evangelistic party.

Sunday afternoon and evening there will be the usual meetings and the evangelist asked that the usual outpouring of interested people be continued.

Monday will not be observed as a night of rest. On that evening, the Alliance Colored Quintet will give their life stories and sing. This service will start at 7 p. m. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, a love offering for the members of the quintet will be taken.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, he stated would be the biggest nights of the campaign. On Saturday night, of next week, Evangelist and Mrs. Erickson will tell how they left California in a Ford with less than four hundred dollars and have been continuing in a larger scale all the time in the evangelistic work. Monday night of the following week, Evangelist Erickson will tell the story of his life.

Tuesday evening, December 18 will be the closing night of the evangelistic campaign. The service that night will be in charge of Rev. H. L. Johnson, pastor of the Simpson M. E. church. A special program is being arranged that will make it in nature of a jubilee.

The Massacre At Balangiga (Part Three)

ON SEPTEMBER 28, 1901, THE SOLDIERS OF THE LITTLE GARRISON AT BALANGIGA WERE AT BREAKFAST, NOT SUSPECTING TREACHERY, WHEN SUDDENLY AND WITHOUT WARNING THEY WERE ATTACKED BY A MOB OF FILIPINOS. THE SENTRIES WERE CUT DOWN, AND ALMOST BEFORE THE STARTLED SOLDIERS REALIZED WHAT WAS TAKING PLACE, THE GREATER PART OF THE GARRISON HAD BEEN MURDERED.

AT THE TOLLING OF THE CHURCH BELL, THE FATAL SIGNAL, A BAND OF BOLOMEN, THAT HAD BEEN HIDDEN IN THE CHURCH, POURED INTO THE OFFICERS' QUARTERS AND KILLED MAJOR GRISWOLD, CAPTAIN CONNELL AND LIEUTENANT BUMPUS, LEAVING THE AMERICANS WITHOUT A LEADER.

BESET ON ALL SIDES BY YELLING SAVAGES, BRANDISHING BOLOS, THE AMERICANS WHO HAD SURVIVED THE FIRST MURDEROUS ONSLAUGHT OF THE NATIVES FOUGHT THEIR WAY IN LITTLE GROUPS OF THREE AND FOUR TOWARD THE MAIN BARRACKS WHERE THE RIFLES WERE STACKED.

WITH THE COURAGE BORN OF DESPERATION, THE AMERICANS, THEIR UNIFORMS SLASHED TO RIBBONS, MOST OF THEM FIGHTING WITH THEIR BARE HANDS AND MANY OF THEM BEARING SEVERE WOUNDS, BROKE THROUGH THE RING OF FLASHING STEEL THAT HEMMED THEM IN AND TOOK POSSESSION OF THE BARRACKS.

NEW CASTLE HIGH HAS FINE GRID RECORD

Figures Show 2,163 Points Tallied In Seven Year Period

New Castle Has Won 63 Games, Lost Three, Tied Five, Since 1922

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh Deserves Credit For Remarkable Showing

By "BUGS" WALTHER

HAD the old-time worn and dusty record books out yesterday afternoon. What did I find New Castle's football record to be in the past seven years? Well, I found enough to convince me that the local institution has compiled one of the greatest records of all time in the period of years that Philip H. Bridenbaugh has been head coach here.

New Castle High school football teams for the past seven years have compiled the almost unbelievable grand total of 2,163 points. This average is 309 points per season. What did the opposing teams do in that length of time, someone will ask. Well, they didn't do anything so desperate, only scored 192 points, or a little better than 27 points per season.

Have Won 63 Games

In seven years New Castle High football teams have won 63 games, have lost three and tied five. There is believed to be but very few high school teams in the entire country with any better records over the same stretch.

The teams that have had, will we say, the great honor of defeating a Bridenbaugh coached eleven are: Ellwood City, Schenley and Youngstown South. To enumerate the teams that have been defeated would be taking up too much space. The teams that have tied New Castle in seven years are: Beaver Falls, Turtle Creek, Mars, Donora and Washington. It is interesting to note that every team that has defeated New Castle was later defeated by the red and black in a most decisive manner, and this holds true for the tied games, with the exception of Turtle Creek, and New Castle has not played them since that 14-14 deadlock that kept the locals from the Syracuse trophy cup in 1923.

Bridenbaugh Great Coach

When they start enumerating the leading high school coaches of the United States they must include Philip H. Bridenbaugh. When they try to find a high school football team that has any better records to present over a seven-year stretch they must first glimpse what has transpired on the gridirons of New Castle. New Castle won the W. P. I. A. L. in 1924 and were runners-up to Ellwood City in 1925.

The 1927 red and black combination, it will be noticed, scored the most points, 454, to be exact, and had 32 points scored against them. The 1922 team had the greatest number of points scored against them, 54. The 1925 team held the opposition to the lowest number of points, 14.

The championship team of 1924 scored 288 points and had but 19 points scored against them. The 1923 team had the second highest total points, 420. The opposition in 1923 scored 20 points.

Only One Title

The record revealed here for the first time in a number of years is a truly remarkable one. Coach Bridenbaugh deserves an equal share in the glory, along with several hundred high school football players who have helped make gridiron history in this man's domain.

BRIDENBAUGH

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle senior high school. "Bridie" came to this city from Geneva college at the start of the 1922 football season and has put New Castle on the scholastic grid map. The great record compiled by his teams in the past seven years will likely stand for all time.

Here is a list of the records made from 1922 to 1928. Peruse them carefully and draw your own conclusions.

Several Important Baseball Trades In Offing Says Report

Giants Are Believed Ready To Swing Trade That Will Give Them Luque-Donohue

Yankees Seek Bluege From Senators; Heilmann And Falk May Change Places

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 7.—Organized baseball, finding itself somewhat disorganized after three days of nonstop standing in different places, but with the same fee.. was about ready to pull up stakes today, leaving Canada to the Canadians and that unrelenting lobby floor to the scrub women. The marble tiles again had won an unquestioned decision over the fallen arch, as the annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues began to breathe its last.

Another thing left was a distinct impression of the international amity that prevails in baseball, a matter so eloquently referred to by Judge Landis in his valedictory last night, and a third memento was the notion that five or six major league clubs had transacted some business between themselves and then neglected to take the public into their confidence about the matter.

Just a slight oversight. It never would have happened to Addison Sims, the Seattle lumberman. He would have remembered, somehow, even if the last installment on the famous memory course had been delayed in the mails.

Giants and Reds Trade

The word is that the boys will recall everything by Monday next. On that day they say the Giants will announce that they have just completed a deal with the Cincinnati Reds. The deal was completed here two days ago, and if it doesn't include Adolfo Luque it just isn't one I'm talking about.

The New York Yankees also are said to have swung something with the aid of the Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators. This one is understood to have been wrapped up and sent home, prepaid, while the association was drooling about the draft. It probably will be announced during the American League meeting next week, and if it doesn't include Ossie Bluege it isn't just on the level.

They, too, say that Harry Heilmann has played his last game of ball in a Detroit uniform and may be summering in Chicago next season. Bib Falk's name also was bandied about very recklessly in this connection. The Cleveland Indians, they say, likewise are willing to barter with the Sox, which is only as it should be. The Cleveland Indians are ready to barter with almost anyone and almost without provocation.

Lest we forget, the draft question finally will be turned off, it is said, at West Baden, Indiana, in early January. Maybe after that is done we all will have time to turn our attention to something interesting.

New Castle High Quintet To Play At Altoona, Pa.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of Senior High school announced today that he had scheduled a basketball game with Altoona High school for December 21. The game will be played at Altoona.

It is the intention of Gardner to arrange a three or four-day trip for the New Castle High floor team during the coming holidays, and Altoona will be one of the teams met.

Coach Bridenbaugh has issued a call for basketball candidates to meet on Monday afternoon at Senior High. The veterans from last year who will report are: Ostrosky, Sillman, Cuba, Alexander and Johnson.

DICK O'LEARY BEATS KELLY

Dunn's Bantamweights Returns Home And Wins 10 Round Bout

Dick O'Leary of Wilkes-Barre returned to his home town last night as a protege of Jimmy Dunn and outpointed Billy Kelly of Scranton in 10 fast rounds, according to a report carried by the International News Service today. Recently O'Leary stopped Georgie O'Brien of Durham, N. C., at the Jolly Bowl.

In another 10-round bout Frankie Garcia, Utica, won from Freddy Haverlak of Wilkes-Barre.

O'Leary and Haverlak have been bantamweight rivals in the anthracite regions for years and it is probable that Garcia and O'Leary will battle at the armory there.

At Davenport, Ia., Rolleaux Saguero, Cuban light-heavyweight, knocked out Carl Augustine of St. Paul in one round.

Crimson Letters Given To Twelve

Ralph Day, Former New Castle Boy, Among Those Receiving Grove City Insignias

GROVE CITY, Pa., Dec. 7.—At a meeting of the student athletic council of Grove City college yesterday, football letters were granted to 12 members of the 1928 squad. They are Captain Virgilio Paterlini, Alex Sofish, Ralph Day, Elwood Kammer, Peter Koma, Montgomery Lantz, Marcus Rankin, Hubert Shiring, Thomas Shupe, Frank Cantoni, John Weidman and Manager John Ryan.

James Evans, captain of the cross country team for the past two years, who is undefeated in intercollegiate competition, was voted a cross country letter.

Cyrenius Davidson was elected football manager for 1929. Robert Linn and Montgomery Lantz were chosen assistant basketball managers.

College Team Is Given Honor

Westminster Celebrates Excellent Football Season Just Concluded

CONFERENCE CUP FORMALLY GIVEN

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 7—Honor and praise for Westminster's best football team in a decade was given last night at the annual banquet for the team by the Athletic council and the college in Robert Audley Browne hall.

More than 60 members of the squad, student managers,, coaches, members of the faculty and alumni committee and representatives of the press were on hand for the affair.

Following a delicious chicken dinner cooked in the kitchen of the new men's residence, Attorney Roy Neville of Sharon, president of the athletic board of the alumni ,introduced President W. Charles Wallace as toastmaster of the evening.

Dr. Wallace on behalf of the college and the athletic committee announced that Coaches Beede and Lawther had been signed for another two-year period. This announcement brought forth rounds of applause from the entire group.

Captain Joseph Furno, speaking on behalf of the team, said that he was proud to have been leader of the team that beat Geneva and to tie for the conference championship; proud to be a member of the team that was outweighed in every game but not outplayed and proud to have spent three of his four years of college football under "Dike" Beede. At the conclusion of his speech he presented Coach Beede with a fine traveling set and Coach Lawther with a monogrammed pocket lighter

Student Manager William Lewis, Captain-elect Russell Boone, Assistant Coach John Lawther and Coach Beede in turn gave short talks.

Lewis and Boone again expressed their loyalty for Beede and Lawther and their confidence in these men as coaches and as men. Assistant Coach Lawther, analyzing football from the standpoint of the psychologist, claimed that the game is needed in our civilization to teach men to take the "bumps" later in life.

Coach Beede expressed his appreciation of all the men on the squad, particularly the six men who have played their last for Westminster. Commenting on the season, Beede said that the play of the Westminster team in the Carnegie Tech game at the start of the season was the finest exhibition of courage he has ever seen. To him the Tech game was the best of the season for the blue and white players, facing heavy odds never gave up, finally tallying six points against the Tartans in the waning moments of the game.

Beede also mentioned the fact that Captain Furno, James McQuiston, Stephen Havrilla and James Lauder all improved in football ability 100 per cent over their playing of last year.

Graduate Manager A. R. McDonald acting in the capacity of a representative of the Tri-State Conference presented the conference championship football trophy to the college. Dr. Wallace accepted on behalf of the college and instructed that the cup be placed with the other awards in the trophy room of the gymnasium.

Jess Carver, sports writer was called on by Dr. Wallace. Carver complimented the coaches and the team for the successful season, wished the United Presbyterians luck in the 1929 season and claimed that the Westminster accomplishment this year against all kinds of odds is a greater achievement than the mediocre success of some other teams who were admittedly good at the start of the season but who failed to live up to expectations.

Attorney J. A. Stranahan of Mercer expressed the enthusiasm and compliments of the Mercer alumni association of the college and said that Mercer county alumni and friends have been pelased with the healthy and gradual growth of clean athletics at Westminster.

Dr. Wallace speaking for the college and the faculty paid a glowing tribute to Captain Furno, Lauder, McQuiston, Havrilla, Ayers and Krueger, the six seniors on the squad and to the others who will next year represent the college. He claimed that the Titan victory over Geneva, his alma mater, was the high light of the season for him. With a final compliment to the coaches and the team the celebration ended.

That epidemic at Hollywood proves that even influenza is willing to hitch its wagon to a star.—The Dallas Journal.

Beede Re-Elected Coach At Westminster For Two Years; Has Good Record

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Coach "Dike" Beede, head football mentor at Westminster for the last three years, has been re-elected to direct the United Presbyterians for another two-year period, it was announced by the athletic council of the college at the football banquet last night in Robert Audley Browne Hall.

Beede, a former star fullback at Carnegie Tech, has built up a winning spirit in his three years at Westminster. Previous to the time he took over the reins the United Presbyterian outfit had won but three games in a four-year period. In his three years as head coach seven games have been won, three have been tied and 13 contests have been lost. The season just closed, with four victories, all in conference games, to five defeats, is Beede's best record and incidentally the best record for Westminster grid teams in the last 12 years.

Students, alumni, members of the faculty and particularly members of the football squad, were delighted to hear of Beede's reappointment. Equally welcome was the announcement that Johnny Lawther will continue in the capacity of assistant coach.

Getto Offered Post On Eastern Eleven

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—With the acceptance of Mike Getto, Pittsburgh's all-American tackle, Coach Andy Kerr today had rounded up nine eastern gridiron stars for the charity game with an all-star western team at San Francisco on December 29.

The Washington and Jefferson mentor also announced that the eastern team probably would use the New York University military huddle in the intersectional contest.

In Russia they have a breed of fighting geese and ganders are matched together in the pit.

Gridders Will Banquet Tonight

Tonight at 6:30 o'clock at The Castleton hotel, the New Castle High School football team will hold their annual banquet and dance.

It is likely that about 100 will sit down to the banquet.

Ross Has Fought Real Topnotchers

Johnny Piai, Pride Of Greenville, Has Tough Fight Ahead Of Him

POLIS BELIEVES HE CAN WALLOP FARROW

Bantamweights, featherweights, welterweights and light-heavies will appear at Jolly bowl Monday night and fans who like to see plenty of punch should see some beautiful black eyes before the Evening's Evenin' is O'er, according to one Bill Jolly, known here and there as the enterprising fistic impresario of Pa Newc's town.

Young Tony Ross, who not only is clever but a hard-socking welterweight, will oppose Johnny Piai, the Greenville pride, in the main bout of ten rounds and according to Ross and Piai, there'll be no reason to dislike their actions after the big bell rings.

Hope To Make Hit.

"I'm going into the ring to make myself a drawing card in New Castle and the only way I can do that is to fight my usual fight," said Ross yesterday as he trained at Jolly bowl. "I have boxed topnotchers in all the big cities and I'm gunning for Piai."

The fame of the Greenville Pride has been traveling fast recently as he has been chalking up an imposing string of wins. Two weeks ago he slammed with Johnny Freeman at Erie and when the judges' decision was announced Piai drew the plaudits.

But Piai, rugged, tough and strong puncher that he is, will find Ross lots better than Freeman, according to Jolly, who keeps a book of statistics on "What Fighters Can Do." Ross can punch, box and is ring smart.

Met Jack Bernstein.

He has boxed Jack Bernstein, ex-junior lightweight; Hilario Martinez, who is going over big in New York; Eddie Wagner, Philadelphia lightweight, who beat Maxie Strub and holds a decision over Phil McGraw, Detroit's fighting Greek.

During a 15 months' campaign just ended Ross made three trips south and when he came north and moved from Charleroi to Sharon to be near his mother, he had 10 victories of 11 fights in Florida, which isn't so bad.

Despite this imposing record Greenville fans and Piai, their chief pugilistic entertainer, believe that Ross is due for a knockout. They have seen Johnny beat so many fellows with a left hook they have become rather accustomed to seeing them drop.

Haggerty Coming Back.

The semi-final of six rounds will bring together welterweights, namely, Joe Lauder, Pittsburgh, and Joe Role of Erie. If Role can win from Lauder he will set himself in good here as Joe has made several welterweights, supposed to be good, look rather "washed up".

Mickie Dugan, the Austrian with the Irish moniker, will climb into Patsy Dugan of Pittsburgh as soon as the bell rings. Patsy is said to be one of the best looking youngsters in Pittsburgh and if he can get over Mickie will get another "shot" here, Jolly said today.

Johnny Haggerty, Pittsburgh, and Tom O'Leary, Wilkes-Barre, bantamweights, will furnish a vicious four-round setto and if the bout is only half as good as their last encounter the one battle will be worth every cent anyone pays to see the show.

Expect Lots of Action.

The last time they clashed they slammed each other with everything but the ring posts and they couldn't get them loose. They were up and down like corks and Monday night they'll endeavor to prove just who was entitled to the last decision.

Nick Polis, the Polish puncher from Woodlawn, will stack up against Warren Farrow, light-heavyweight champion of the colored race, in the first four-round bout and as Warren is a card he hopes to maintain his following at the bowl by winning.

Westminster Tossers Start

Collegians To Play Buhl Club Team At Sharon Next Wednesday

LAWTHER DEVELOPS NEW FLOOR TEAM

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 7.—Coach John Lawther's Westminster college basketball team will get its first bit of competitive action next Wednesday evening at Sharon when the United Presbyterian passers meet the reorganized Buhl club team in the Buhl club gymnasium.

The Buhlers are rapidly rounding into first class condition and will, because of the fact that they have been practicing for some time give Lawther's crew plenty of competition. The Westminster court team will have but a little more than one week of practice and as a result Lawther will undoubtedly use a number of different lineup combinations.

Hugh Gamble, captain and center on the Westminster team two years ago, will hold down the pivot post for the Buhl club. Other outstanding players from colleges in the district are also on the Buhl roster.

Westminster's record of 17 victories out of 20 games played last year naturally gives the blue and white the edge. Most fans overlook the fact that John "Sparky" Connor, star center, is not on the U. P. team this year. This fact is bound to make considerable difference. It means that the United Presbyterians will seldom get the tip-off. If, however the Titans succeed in getting the ball after the tip-off, fans can expect one of the fastest exhibitions of passing and floor play in the district.

The men who will start against the Buhl club will be: Captain Charles Ayers, guard; Tudor Lewis, guard; John Witherspoon, center; Kenneth Delahunty, forward; and Glen O'Donovan forward. Otherse who will undoubtedly see action in the game are: Marshall Fisher, center; William Lewis, guard; Michael Kocheran, forward; Phillip Rice, center; William Crowell, center; and Walter Hutchison, center.

Grove City Grid Program For 1929 Is Made Public

"Bob" Thorn, Director Of Athletics Announces Football Card For Next Year

GROVE CITY, Pa., Dec. 7.—Robert E. Thorn, director of athletics at Grove City college, has just completed the Crimson football schedule for 1929. The season will open one week earlier next year, giving the Grovers a card of nine games, four at home and five abroad.

Adrian college and Marshall college are the newcomers on the card for next year, although both schools have met Grove City in other years. Adrian will open the home season September 28, while Marshall entertains the Crimson at Huntington, W. Va., November 16. Marshall replaces Villanova's date this year, and is expected to be a hard game for the Crimson. Marshall disputed the West Virginia title during the past season with Davis-Elkins.

Sept. 28, Adrian college, home; Oct. 5, St. Francis college, home; Oct. 12, John Carroll university, away; Oct. 19, Westminster college, away; Oct. 26, Geneva college, away; Nov. 2, Waynesburg college, home; Nov. 9, Allegheny college, home; Nov. 16, Marshall college, away; Nov. 28, Thiel college, away.

Chattanooga Gets 1929 Meeting Of Baseball Moguls

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Dec. 7.—Chattanooga, Tenn., was awarded the 1929 convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues Thursday after a fight so bitter that the pressing question of the draft had to be put over until late in the afternoon.

The proposed amendments to the major-minor league agreement, concerning the draft, were then made a special order for consideration later in the afternoon.

In addition to the major league proposals and the modification of Henry Killilea's plans, another solution was advanced by John Conway Toole, president of the International league. This called for a joint meeting of committees from the major solution to the problem. Toole said the plan had grown out of a conference he had had Wednesday night with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees. It was a similar conference between committees that effected the major-minor agreement in 1920.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Sports Writer for Central Press and The New Castle News

Wales has won considerable popularity in the United States, directly and indirectly, because of his sporting activities and his generally democratic air. His frank enjoyment of various forms of athletics, his sportsmanship in accepting and indulging in festivities arranged in his honor, and his natural bearing, have been accepted as real by most folk.

His general popularity in this country is evidenced by the spirit in which sport fans have taken his many mishaps in the saddle. Despite this evidence of being an inexpert horseman, he has continued to indulge in the sport because he likes it and is willing to take the risks to enjoy the sport. One of less popularity would have been held up to pointed ridicule. In the crown prince's case these intimate flashes of his misfortunes simply made him more popular.

During his visit to the United States he seldom permitted the late hours of the official and unofficial entertainments of the night interfere with his early morning sessions at polo.

He tolerated a lot of "hooey" in the line of photographs, entertainments, etc., that would have brought at least a look of boredom to a less adaptable fellow.

TIN MILL TEAMS TO PLAY AGAIN

The Shenango and New Castle Tin Mill football teams will battle tomorrow afternoon at Franklin field. The game is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock.

The outcome of the game Saturday will not have any bearing on the Industrial title of the city. The Shenango team last Saturday won the championship. Both teams will present stronger lineups tomorrow and a good game is expected.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—New losses of 5 to 13 points were recorded today in the industrial and specialty stocks which received such a severe jolt in yesterday's big "shake out." Wiping out margins and the inability of the small traders to respond to their brokers' demand for more money forced the dumping of thousands of shares of stocks on the market at the opening, causing the further widening of price gaps in the active stocks.

A block of 5,000 shares of Radio opened at 381, down 14 points from Thursday's close and 30 points from yesterday's peak. Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Victor Talking Machine and other high-priced favorites moved down about 6 points on the average, which was to be expected as the natural aftermath of Thursday's big break.

The market boiled over in the first half hour, with sales above 1,000,000 shares against 525,000 in the same period yesterday. A block of 30,000 shares of Sinclair Oil was turned over in one transaction at a loss of 2¾ points from Thursday's close. Standard Oils were weak, and most of the well-known copper, motor car and steel stocks suffered a shrinkage of a point or two in the early trading.

Call money renewals were posted at 10 per cent which was 2 per less than Thursday's close, though the highest renewal rate in 8 years.

In most cases the opening prices of industrial favorites were the lowest of the forenoon, and immediate recoveries set in for the active motor, copper and oil stocks, with high-priced specialties more than holding their own. General Motors climbed nearly 4 points to 205; Wright Aero and Curtiss sold a few points above the last close. Packard and Chrysler were ready to resume their forward drive, Packard rolling upward 3 points to 143, and Chrysler a point higher.
